

Miss America Called 'Bully' For Picking on Little Girls

By PATRICIA CLARY

Hollywood, Aug. 31 (UPI)—Miss America is a big bully, a movie star said today. A 37-inch bully.

Voluptuous Bebe Shopp has no more right to crusade against girls who wear falsies than Jack Dempsey has to crusade against Frank Sinatra.

This is not in the American tradition, says Dennis O'Keefe. Shame on you, Miss America, picking on little girls, he says.

"It's just like Jack Dempsey lumbering up to someone like Frank Sinatra," he said, "and saying 'those shoulder pads, you little runt you!'"

Miss America, who is anything but an average American miss, is touring Europe. She advocates bonafide bosoms and clean thinking.

But you just wait, young lady. You're a firm and corseted 18 now. In another 50 years, O'Keefe bets...

"Maybe she'll never have to pad," he said. "But the time will come, such as death and gray hair when she'll have to do something."

He said a broad-minded gent will tolerate a false front when it's the only way a gal can look stylish.

The way Miss Shopp has been flaunting her sensational superstructure in the chests of less-endowed females, she's probably encouraging imitations, he added.

"The day may come," O'Keefe said, "when a reasonable facsimile of her attractions is built into all clothes."

Men have been doing that for years. But, O'Keefe pointed out righteously, you don't hear them tattling.

We all know about fake shoulders and lifts in the shoes. "Many men also have padded chests built into their coats," he divulged. The press agent for his picture, Pine-Thomas' "The Eagle and the Hawk," confidentially disclosed that he was one.

"Some actors wear falsies on their legs, too," O'Keefe whispered. "I'd be willing to bet that for Hamlet Sir Laurence Olivier wore pads in his tights."

Missing Socialite Had Ordered Xmas Cards

Los Angeles, Aug. 31 (UPI)—Socialite Mimi Boomhower, 48, ordered her Christmas cards a few days before she mysteriously disappeared from her $75,000 Bel-Air home, her friends disclosed today to police.

This was interpreted by friends to show that she had no plans of either eloping or committing suicide but was the victim of foul play.

The cards were ordered Aug. 15, just three days before she vanished from the home whose lights were left turned on. "Right from the very beginning, down to the very end, have a Merry Christmas," was the greeting on the Yule cards.

On the day she disappeared, the plump Mrs. Boomhower was to pick up $5,000 from a second mortgage on the home built by her late husband, Novice E. Boomhower, big-game hunter and inventor of a floor-covering.
