

Plane Search on For Lost Girl

A 15-year-old Madras girl, Virginia Carpenter, has been missing since yesterday morning in the scrub timber foothills north of Mt. Jefferson, near where the Detroit-Maupin transmission line extends, it was announced today by the Jefferson county sheriff's office.

Search started yesterday afternoon and today some 100 persons, including Madras volunteer firemen, state police, sheriff's forces and forest service employes were in the field.

A dozen planes also joined the search today. According to the story related by returning members of the Theta Rho, an IOOF organization of young girls that had gone to the mountains for huckleberrying, about 10 members of the ground group had prepared to go swimming in Blue lake yesterday morning. It was then that Virginia's disappearance was noted. It was thought that she had become lost from the group while it had been picking berries. Fear was expressed that the girl might have encountered a bear in the berry field.

Virginia Carpenter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Florian J. Carpenter of Madras. The father and a brother, Harry, were with the searchers today.

Olaile Butte, where the family was picking the berries, is on the boundary line between Jefferson and Marion counties. State police said it is a popular spot for huckleberry pickers.

Douglas said that six planes from Madras, two from Albany, two from Salem and two from Sweet Home are joining in the search. The civil air patrol is helping the state board.

Olaile butte is 7,243 feet high, and is located 60 miles east of Salem. It is close to the Oregon skyline road, which connects the Mt. Hood loop and the North Santiam highway.

Division Commander, Brig. Gen. C. Lyn Fox, said today it must be real love.

"I, and every other officer of the outfit, have failed in a persistent campaign to get those whiskers removed. Then one girl comes along and the sergeant not only surrendered his heart—but his whiskers.

The general, incidentally, is going to give the bride away. The 535 men in the reserve division are expected to attend the wedding en masse.

Silverton — In the gardens of the late Julius Alm and Mrs. Alm, 232 Phelps street, Liberty hill, Silverton, is a seedling English walnut, planted by Mr. Alm, more than 40 years ago. This tree is unusually large. It has been a prolific producer. This is the first season the crop appears in clusters of more than three, and occasionally, four. The picture showing the single cluster has nine nuts though two are not plainly visible. This bunch is near the ground. One cluster in picture No. 2, the center group, is composed of 11 nuts, evidently remaining as a group until fully ripened. The pictures were taken by Miss Bertha Alm of the Portland high school music department, home for her summer vacation with her mother.

Alcoa Shut-out Of U. S. Buying

Washington, Sept. 1 (AP)—Two of the aluminum industry's "little fellows" have been allotted tentatively the government's entire known purchase of aluminum for stockpiling. This program would exclude their big competitor, Aluminum Company of America.

Officials of the General Services Administration, which handles the buying for the munitions board, said the Kaiser-owned Permanente Metals Corp. would have the right to take 40 percent of the government business and Reynolds Metals company the other 60 percent.

Alcoa officials were known to be concerned over the prospect of being shut out of government business not only for the present but possibly for the next 25 years under arrangements now contemplated.

The quantity immediately involved is 60,000,000 pounds. This is the amount which the munitions board has indicated it wants to stockpile during the fiscal year ending next June 30.

In addition, Henry J. Kaiser's Permanente firm, which has just contracted to buy three war surplus aluminum plants, has the option of providing up to about 40 percent of all "indicated" stockpile purchases for the next 25 years.

The GSA spokesman explained the exclusive transactions this way:

The surplus property law, supported by a court decision, instructs the surplus agency to dispose of aluminum plants in the manner "best suited to establish competition in the aluminum industry." Alcoa has been sued on anti-trust grounds.

The contracts, as now contemplated, would help Permanente and Reynolds—which began aluminum production on a stable scale only during the war—become more firmly established. The stockpile sales also would help them meet their payments on the plant purchases, thereby protecting the government's financial interest in the plants.

Soldier to Lose Lush Whiskers

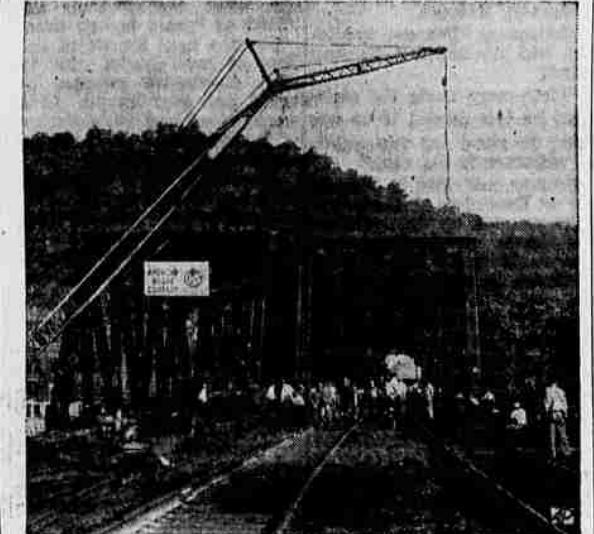

Fort Lewis, Sept. 1 (AP)—The captains and the generals will take part tonight in a ceremony here that will cost a San Francisco soldier his long, lush whiskers.

The bridegroom in the colorful wedding in the post chapel is Sgt. Merle Kurtzhal, 28, whose long, flowing beard has been the envy of regular Fort Lewis soldiers ever since he arrived here 10 days ago with the 91st division.

The sergeant's nuptials go back to a battle action at Casino, Italy, where he was wounded in action. Brought to Madigan general hospital here in 1945 he soon took a shine to a pretty little civilian ward girl, Miss Verna Gregory, now 22.

After his release he returned to San Francisco but apparently his heart remained in the northwest. Friday night the sergeant looked up Miss Gregory and before the evening was over the decision to be married tonight was made.

On one condition, however, the long and flowing whiskers must go within two weeks of the ceremony.

Dayton Grade Opening Nears

Dayton — The Dayton grade school will begin its fall term September 9 with the first bell ringing at 8:20 a.m. admitting pupils to the school reports. The last bell for pupils to report to classes will ring at 8:45.

According to Robert Todd, principal, the reason for starting school Friday is for the purpose of the pupils having a better opportunity to obtain necessary supplies for the following week and also to facilitate making any necessary changes to meet the distribution of enrollment, as well as transportation.

Children entering school for the first year should present "evidence of age" and this is best satisfied by a birth certificate. The Oregon school law states that a child must be six years of age in order to begin school. A child is considered to be six years of age if his birthday falls on or before November 15.

Pupils who plan to attend the Dayton grade school, who have attended school elsewhere, should present a signed report card from the school last attended. A list of school supplies will be given the pupils September 9.

Pupils do not need to bring lunch on the opening day of school as classes will be dismissed early. However, it is requested that all pupils who do not go home for lunch, bring their lunches from home and eat at the school, unless different arrangements are made with the school, beginning September 12.

Huckleberry Patch Opened to Pickers

Stayton—According to information from the ranger's office at Detroit, Elk lake area is open at all times to huckleberry pickers. Permits for camp fires are not required as long as the camp grounds are used.

Construction work is under way on the Breitenbush-Elk Lake road and the road is closed from 7:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. six days a week, and from 2 to 5 p.m. except Sundays. The road from Stayton to Elk lake is closed at all times, so it is necessary to use the Detroit road.

The ranger said Monument peak is state and privately owned but it is understood that area will be open for berrying September 3.

Coast Chapel Calls Silverton Residents

Silverton—More than 40 Luther League members of Emmanuel Lutheran church, chaplained by Rev. and Mrs. S. L. Almlie, spent Saturday and Sunday at the "Chapel by the Sea" living in the dormitory, and being given the use of the kitchen during their outing. In the chapel services, Silverton folk had a part in the music with Albert Overlund appearing in a solo, and Miss Katherine Lee giving a number of piano-accompaniment selections.

Typing Instructor Resigns at Dallas

Dallas—Mrs. Mercedes Flannery, typing instructor at Dallas high school during the last school year, has resigned her position because of an accident suffered by her husband at Pierre, S.D., this summer. S. E. Whitworth, city school superintendent, announces.

Flannery fell from a ladder while engaged in construction work, and although apparently not permanently disabled must

Lebanon Drug Store Changes Location

Lebanon — A building which has housed a drug store continuously for the past 64 years was abandoned this week when Johannsen's Drug store moved to a newer and larger location adjoining the old building on South Main street. "We have on file every prescription ever filled during the entire 64-year period," Johannsen stated. The store has had five former owners.

Associated with Johannsen in the prescription department are John Durst and George Engstrom, both registered pharmacists.

Mrs. Verna Wago will assist in the drug department and throughout the store.

A new and attractive soft drink fountain will be supervised by Mrs. Dorothy Brotherton and Mrs. Elmer Hobbs.

The remodeling of the present location was done by George Harden, local contractor.

Detroit Dam Power Line Up

Eugene, Sept. 1 (AP)—The last link in the Bonneville power administration Detroit-Albany 220,000 and 110,000 volt transmission lines was completed and energized Thursday afternoon, bringing Columbia river power to the site of the Detroit dam.

The announcement was released here by Senator Guy Cordon. Contracts for distribution of the power have been completed between the Benton-Lincoln cooperative, the U. S. corps of engineers and Consolidated Builders of Portland.

Initial power deliveries for construction operations call for 700 kilowatts, reaching a peak of 2500 kilowatts by December, when Benton-Lincoln cooperative lines are completed to Mongold camp and eastward to the permanent housing area which will serve construction workers and permanent residents, Cordon said.

Power deliveries are expected to reach 4000 kilowatts in December of 1950 when Big Cliff construction operations are added.

Mehama Plans Relic Museum

Lyons — The annual pioneer picnic and homecoming was held at the church followed by a basket dinner held on the school grounds.

Address of welcome was given by the president, Mrs. Matilda Jones. There were sixteen present that had attended every year since organized in 1931. A short prayer service and song service was held in the afternoon. Claude Surry came the farthest distance from Washington, 400 miles.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibilities of setting up an antique museum in Mehama and many articles were offered.

Oldest members present was T. Hennes, 94 of Gates. Following next all in their 80's were Albert Ring, Will Surry, Lincoln Hennes, Thurston Thomas, Herman Schelberg and Andy Slegmund. Women over 80 were Mary Fisher Wyatt, Ida Geddes, Lathia Thomas, Rebecca Kimsey, and Jennie Bohanan.

Next year's meeting will be held the fourth Sunday in August at the same place.
