10 Point Plan

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, chief American negotiator at the week-old three power talks, said that he felt the talks had made a "substantial advance in approaching a solution" of Britain's dollar shortage problem.

10 Points of Program

Here are the 10 points as announced in a 2,500-word communique from the finance and foreign policy chiefs of the three nations:

1. Overseas investments—All three countries will try to stimulate investments of American private capital abroad and to promote new loan applications for development projects in foreign countries to the world bank and the U.S. import bank.
2. Commodity arrangements and stockpiling—Canada is "prepared to take steps to increase reserve stocks of tin and rubber" and the United States will "review its stockpiling program" for the same purpose and meanwhile open the field for increased sales of natural rubber.
3. Limitations on items which may be financed by Marshall plan funds—the United States recognized that Britain must "finance with its share of ECA funds a wide range of dollar expenditures" than previously.
4. Customs procedure—Both the United States and Canada promise to review their administrative operation of customs to facilitate the flow of goods into their countries.
5. Tariff policy—The communique stated that "it was noted that high tariffs were clearly inconsistent with the position of creditor countries." The United States reaffirmed its policy of trying to negotiate further trade agreements through which additional cuts in its tariff rates can be made.
6. Liberalization of intra-European trade and payments.
7. Sterling balances—The three nations agreed as part of the long-range attack on bettering Britain's economic position to give "further study" to the problem of the debts which Britain owes other countries.
8. Petroleum—The three countries agreed that a detailed study should be made of the production, refining and geographical distribution of petroleum as they affect Britain's dollar income.
9. Shipping—It was also agreed that further study should be given to the question of shipping and Britain's interest in earning more dollars through the sale of shipping services.
10. Provisions for continuing consultation—Since the ministers could not solve some of the specific points before them, "it is proposed to continue the examinations initiated during the conference on questions on which it is hoped that useful understanding can be reached."

Leave Salem General — Dismissed over the week-end from the Salem General hospital with recently born infants are Mrs. William Robert Shinn and daughter, 745 S. # State Fair

Surprised with the popularity of the Sunday afternoon dances offered on the lawn by the Oregon Folk Dance Federation, with John Black, president and manager of ceremonies, Leo Spitzbart, manager of the fair, said today that not only will the performance be featured again next year, but more emphasis will be placed upon the event which was offered for the first time this year. Several thousand spectators kept the dancers going long after the allotted two hours.

Rodeo Winners — Taking part in the dancing, with many of the participants in colorful costume, were the Salem Gate Swingers, The Dalles Hoppers, The Czech Jolly Dancers, the International Folk Dancers and the ONO club of Portland and a Mill City group. High point winners in the week-long rodeo were announced Sunday at the conclusion of the afternoon event. Champion all-around cowboy is Jim Shoulters, Tulsa, Okla., who also took top place in the bull riding. Other of the winners were Gene Pruitt, Yakima, Wash., saddle bronc rider; Jim Davis, Phoenix, Ariz., bareback rider; Harvey Luer, Patterson, Calif., steer wrestler, and Asbury Schell, Tucson, Ariz., calf roping.

"Attendance was remarkable, considering everything," Spitzbart said Monday. He expressed appreciation of the policing of the grounds and midway under the direction of Chief of Police Clyde Warren with E. W. "Happy" Hewitt, chief of the grounds police.

Races Cleanest Ever — Races were the cleanest he ever witnessed either as a track official or individual with only one jockey ruled off the track during the week, according to Charles Evans, director. Both horse owners and jockeys were highly cooperative, he said.

Veteran exhibitors and concessioners joined in a dinner on the grounds Sunday evening with Mrs. Ella Schultz Wilson, secretary to the manager and former director of the fair, guest of honor. Mrs. Wilson had announced earlier in the week that this was her last fair in an official capacity and she is retiring at the end of the year. Petitions have been placed in circulation asking that she remain with the fair as long as possible. Public address system sounded hoarse Sunday following a record-breaking of another kind Saturday during which an almost continual call was issued for lost or misplaced youngsters who packed the grounds by offers a free gate and reduced rates on amusement rides.

Logger Hospitalized — Harry Monroe of Mehama, employed by the Ericl Wilson Logging company, received a fractured hip bone late last week when a rock struck him while he was working on McCully mountain. Because of the rugged terrain it was necessary to lift him by hand from a canyon where he was injured.

Aerial Broken — Salem police records revealed Monday that William Stepanek, 1980 North 19th reported that a radio aerial on his automobile had been broken at night. The damaged aerial was valued at $6.

Logger Hospitalized — Harry Monroe of Mehama, employed by the Ericl Wilson Logging company, received a fractured hip bone late last week when a rock struck him while he was working on McCully mountain. Because of the rugged terrain it was necessary to lift him by hand from a canyon where he was injured.

winners of trips to the National 4-H club contest in Chicago will be Donna Pally, Tillamook, and Joan Pangborn, Baby City, both 18, who won gold wrist watches offered by the Carnation company for the state champion dairy foods demonstration team. High point individual was LaVonne Back, 16, Portland, who also received a watch.

Top 4-H club home economics demonstration team has Alene Farness and Dorothy Irwin, 16-year old Canby girls, who won a $50 savings bond and will represent the state at the Pacific International livestock show in Portland. Their frozen poultry demonstration won the poultry contest. Members of the champion homecoming demonstration team are Carolyn Calder, 14, and Jo Anne Forster, 15, both of Eugene.

Enrollment

Three Salem parochial schools reported total registration Monday noon of 835 pupils. And while comparative figures were not available in two instances, the total enrollment is believed well ahead of last year.

Sacred Heart high school reported registration of 231, which is capacity for that institution. St. Joseph's Catholic grade school enrolled 306 while St. Vincent de Paul had an enrollment of 298, 32 more than a year ago.

Salem College and Academy in West Salem is engaged in a three-day registration period for high school students while the enrollment for those in the junior high division will not report until September 19.

Liquor Causes Arrests — A drinking bout in a parked car resulted in the arrest of two men who posted bail totaling $75 over the week-end. Salem police records showed Monday, John Peter Mumm, route 5, posted $50 bail on a charge of furnishing beer to a minor while Ellis H. Barnholdt posted $25 for illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. The pair was nabbed by police after a complaint was received.

Tax Meeting Called — A meeting of the legislative interim committee on taxation was held in the Portland Chamber of Commerce board room Monday afternoon upon call of State Senator Howard Belton, of Canby.

Benjamin H. Fortner Leaves — Benjamin H. Fortner, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Fortner, left over the week-end for Austin, Tex., where he will attend law school at the University of Texas.
