Miss Hale, Mr. Allport Betrothed

A surprise was revealed for friends calling last evening at the open house at the Manbrin Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Hale, the engagement of their daughter, Miss Patricia Hale, to Dean Allport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allport, being announced.

Guests learned the news when served, miniature flags bearing the names of the couple.

The open house, attended by a large group of friends, was given to fete Midshipman Paul A. Hale, Jr., who is returning this week to the U.S. naval academy at Annapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale and the triplets, the son, Midshipman Hale, and the daughters, Misses Patricia and Doris, greeted guests informally near the door.

Mrs. Hale wore a deep taupe dress with a nosegay corsage of pink and white carnations and asters. The two sisters wore sash ballerina length gowns, Miss Patricia in blue, Miss Doris in pink, with wristlet nosegay corsages.

The serving table was set with white satin and a handmade lace overcloth. At the back were arranged two tall bouquets of blue and white delphiniums at either side of a wall mirror. A ship stood behind the bouquets with low arrangements of white Esterae daisies in front, carrying out the colors in honor of Midshipman Hale. Blue and white candles also were used on the table. A large number of friends of the hostess and her daughters assisted in serving.

No plans are announced for the wedding of Miss Patricia Hale and Mr. Allport. The bride-to-be was graduated from Salem schools and attended Oregon State college and the Maryland College for Women. Mr. Allport also finished his work in Salem schools and plans to continue college work this fall. He was in the navy during the war.

Kirk as hostess; No. 7, at the home of Mrs. Franklin Ward, 425 North 23rd, 8 p. m.; Mrs. Charles Paeth and Mrs. David Scott assisting.

WOODBURN—Mrs. Edgar Tweed was winner at the Woodburn golf club, Thursday, in the contest for the fewest putts in the regular play.

The annual fall tournament was started and pairings were announced. Hostesses at luncheon were Mrs. Erma Sturgis, Mrs. Everett Ramp and Mrs. Tom DeArmond. For next Thursday the committee will be Mrs. Tweed and Mrs. David Cavett.

Wedding at Church Saturday Eve

Chrysanthemums and gladioluses in fall shades and candlelight decorated the First Methodist church Saturday evening for the wedding of Miss Janice Middleton and LaVern Hiebert, and lighted candles were at the pews and down the processional aisles. The service was solemnized at 8 o'clock, the Rev. Brooks Moore officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. L. Crawford and Mr. Hiebert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels E. Hiebert of Salem.

At the wedding Ronald Craven sang "Always" and "Through the Years," and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer," Joe Brazie and Mrs. Craven being at the organ.

Lighting the tapers were Miss Marian Sayre of Brooks and Miss Barbara Smith. They were in apple green frocks and wore mitts matching their dresses and flower bands in their hair.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Roger Middleton. The wedding dress was of white organza, fashioned with long pointed sleeves, a tiered skirt with orange blossom trim and a full train. The fingertip veil of illusion, arranged from a crown of stephanotis, was trimmed with lace from her mother's Willamette university graduation dress. The bride carried a handkerchief carried by her great aunt in Minnesota 57 years ago. Her flowers were a spray of stephanotis and white fluffy chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Allen Bartlett of Oceanlake was the honor attendant. She wore an orchid organza gown designed with bustle in back and a tiered skirt. Miss Lois Ruecker in peach organza, Miss Patricia Carver in yellow organza, and Mrs. Stanley Girod of Portland in blue aqua organza were the bridesmaids. Their dresses were identical in style, with bustle in back. All four attendants wore head ruffles with flower bands and each carried a nosegay of chrysanthemums with short ribbons matching her gown.

Best man was Jerry Clay. Ushering were Darwyn Hiebert, brother of the bridegroom, Dan McCall and Richard Cole. For the wedding the bride's mother, Mrs. Crawford, wore an aqua pastel gown with bronze roses and Mrs. Hiebert, mother of the bridegroom, was in teal blue with pink roses.

The reception was given in the Carrier room at the church. Mrs. William Howard served the cake. Mrs. Frank Hiebert, Dallas, aunt of the bridegroom, and Mrs. John A. Graef, Spokane, aunt of the bride, poured. Miss Patricia Long, Mrs. Jerry Clay, Mrs. Bryce White, all assisted in serving. Mrs. Steve Anderson passed the guest book. Asters in fall shades and begonias, all from the garden of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Lelace H. Ellis, decorated the reception room.

For traveling the bride wore a kelly green suit with gold accessories and flowers from the center of her bridal bouquet.

Following a trip to Victoria they will be at home at 1055 North 22nd street. Both are Willamette university students.

CHI OMEGA alumnae are meeting this evening at the chapter house at 8 o'clock. Mrs. George Hill and Mrs. Irving Brown to be hostesses.

New officers will preside at the business session, including Mrs. Francis T. Wade as president; Mrs. Robert Moe as vice president; Mrs. Jackson Hazlett, secretary; Miss Margaret Allen, treasurer.

For going away the bride wore a green gabardine suit with brown accessories and corsage of yellow orchids. The couple are to live at San Francisco.

Wed at Amity—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Chambers were married August 20 in Amity. The bride is the former Vida Van Horn, daughter of Mrs. William Richter of Amity and Mr. Chambers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Chambers of Salem. (Fouget studio, McMinnville)

Colorful Horse Show Ends Saturday

The formal horse show in conjunction with the State Fair concluded Saturday, a capacity crowd turning out to see the performances in the various events.

Dramatic moment of the show, of course, came with the roadsters $500, stake and the spectacular spill which sent Senator Wayne L. Morse to the hospital. An account of the accident is elsewhere in the paper.

Throughout the week the horse show proved to be an outstanding one because of the many horses in each class—"old timers" who have come to the show year after year declaring they did not believe they would see the day there would be so many entries in some of the classes—the five-gaited saddle horses event, as illustration, with 13 entries Saturday evening.

First and second winners in the horse show part of the entertainment for Saturday included the following:

Hunters—Duffy Malone, owned by Peggy Turley, Salem, ridden by Joe Wallingford, first; Ribbon, owned and ridden by Carolyn Hall, Richland, Wash., second.

Three-gaited saddle horses—First, to Mary Ann McDonald, owned and ridden by Tom Metcalf, Tacoma; Maple Cricket, owned and ridden by Jeanne De Laitre, Oswego, second.

Hackney harness ponies—First, to Top Hat, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zimmerman, Portland, driven by Mr. Zimmerman; second, to Speculator, owned by Double W ranch, Concord, Calif., driven by Theodore C. Wood.

Roadsters $500 stake—First, to May Morn, owned by Vida Mia farm, Northridge, Calif., driven by R. L. Smith; second, to Mr. Jones, owned and driven by Loren Kerr, Portland.

Fine harness horses—First, to Bourbon's Linda Supreme, owned by Mrs. K. W. Jerauld, driven by Lee Butler; second, to Prince Oregon Supreme, owned by Georgia Dale, Eugene, driven by Tuck Higgins.

WCSG Group

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Leslie Methodist church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the church parlors for a salad luncheon. Mrs. Emil Stripling and Mrs. R. A. Montgomery are hostesses for the social hour. Mrs. A. W. Metzger is arranging the devotion period. Rev. G. Wesley Turner, pastor of Leslie church, will speak on "Our Faith." There will be a business session to be concluded with a gift box opening.

MEETING this evening is Marion auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall at 8 o'clock.

Miss Tate Wed Saturday at Impressive Church Rites

An all-white setting and a theme of gold and blue in the gowns of the bride's attendants featured the wedding of Miss Marjorie Tate and Lawrence Christian, Saturday evening, in the First Congregational church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ulwin M. Tate of Sublimity, Mr. Christian the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Christian of Lebanon.

Large baskets of white gladioluses, dahlias and chrysanthemums decorated the chancel and sides of the church. Large white dahlias were on the altar with lighted candles, and at the front were candelabums with the burning tapers. White satin bows with clusters of dahlias and chrysanthemums were at the pews down the aisles with lighted tapers at the alternate pews.

The ceremony was solemnized at 8 o'clock with Dr. Seth R. Huntington officiating. Mrs. Scott Adams (Elizabeth Nelson) was soloist, singing "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer." Jean Hobson Rich was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin. It was designed with scalloped marquise yoke outlined in satin binding, and the bodice and side panels on the skirt had seed pearl and silver beading. The bodice buttoned to below the waistline in back. The dress had short sleeves and full train. The bride wore long mitts. The long court length veil of illusion was lace-edged as was the short over-veil, loops of the lace also extending around the hem of the long veil, which cascaded from a crown of seed pearls and silver beading. For her flowers the bride carried a cascade of white roses and baby white chrysanthemums with a white orchid in the center, and streamers.

Mrs. Robert Bryant of Portland was honor attendant. She was gowned in gold satin, the dress having a short fitted jacket, three-quarters length sleeves with gold buttons and a flared skirt with bustle in back. Her flowers were small gold chrysanthemums in cascade bouquet tied with blue satin ribbon. She mitts and shoes matching the dress, and in her hair was a mauve decoration. She wore a corsage of white orchids. Mrs. Christian, mother of the bridegroom, wore a mulberry crepe gown with navy gloves and a corsage of white orchids.

The reception following was in the fireplace room of the church. Mrs. E. M. Page, aunt of the bride, was in charge of the dining room. Assisting at the affair were Mrs. George B. Evans, Mrs. John H. Rankin, Mrs. Elbert E. Tate, all of Portland, Mrs. Chester Mulkey, Mrs. Lyle Rains, Mrs. Cora Hagedorn of Eugene, and Miss Zelma King. Serving were Mrs. Wilfred E. Cole, Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mrs. Scott Adams, Mrs. Leonard Odom, Miss Jean Fidler, Miss Jean Claire Swift, Miss Carolyn Carson, Miss Addy Lane, Miss Carroll Gragg, Miss Roberta Meyer, Miss Beverly Belle-Isle, Miss Carol Lee Tate and Miss Doris Evans, the latter of Portland. The bride's table was beautifully arranged, all in white, featuring the pillared all-white wedding cake.

Following a trip to the Oregon and California beaches the couple will be at home in Portland. For her going away costume the bride wore a suit of slate blue with off-white hat and gloves, black accessories and corsage of white orchids.

HOSTESS at the silver tea to be given Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Knight Memorial church will be Miss Laura Yantis. All women of the church and friends are invited.
