East Salem People Count Awards From State Fair

East Salem, Sept. 13—The final reports for awards received by members of East Salem groups having entries at the state fair are now ready for the secretaries' books at the first meetings this fall. One show is still scheduled for this fall, that of the Capital City Rabbit Breeders' association.

East Salem's two garden clubs both had displays at the fair longing to the "Milkers of Tomorrow," dairy calf club, has given third place in their first public display were given third place in their garden club class and Lansing Neighbors fourth. The Swegle women's display featured zinnias and they had 14 different varieties all arranged in containers appropriate for each kind, and the botanical name of each variety given on the cards with the common name they are known by.

Lansing Neighbors with large fans for background arranged vases of zinnias, petunias and one of mixed varieties. The containers in each display were kept refilled with fresh flowers each day by members of the clubs.

Middle Grove members of the 4-H cooking classes of Mrs. John Cage who won the right to take part in state fair competition at the 4-H show were champions in several divisions again this year.

Joyce Kuenzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kuenzi who has specialized in bread baking entered the individual contest, baking the bread before the judges, received a $100 award for college education use. Shirley Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Page, entered the cake baking contests and before the judges baked a sponge cake that won her a $100 award on her college education. This was offered by the Oregon wheat commission.

Shirley has been an active 4-H club member for several years in both the livestock clubs and household clubs like cooking and sewing. She was a member of the champion girl 4-H livestock judging team last year. She is a Parrish high school student. She also received second award for her home baked sponge cake which she entered.

Miss Lucille Allen was hostess over the week-end in the Frank Gabler home, 260 S. Lancaster, to Pvt. Charles Young and Pvt. Ted Thompson of Fort Lewis, Wash.

Mrs. Walter Lichenwald of Portland was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Morris, 3735 Mahrt avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Antilla, Jr. and family of Bend were Sunday visitors in Four Corners.

Mrs. Albert Brant, 4050 Beck avenue, was in Redmond last week.

A grass fire out of control brought out the Four Corners volunteer fire department Sunday afternoon.

Health Department Program Presented

Dallas — Dr. J. H. Stewart, new Polk county health officer, met with physicians and surgeons of the county at an informal gathering in the Dallas hospital Monday night.

At the meeting, he told of plans for the health department under the new program being initiated this fall. A system of cooperation between the department and doctors was planned.

Henry A. Capstein, recently appointed sanitarian, was introduced to the group. Capstein has arrived for duty with the department after moving here from Portland.

Five New Polio Cases Reported

Portland, Sept. 13 (P)—A localized polio outbreak in a southeast Portland neighborhood had the attention today of city health authorities.

Dr. L. Thomas Meador said buck an eighth and her senior doe a sixteenth. Over 400 rabbits were entered this year.

five children in three families who live "within a stone's throw of each other," were stricken. He declined to release names of the families but said the cases did not represent an epidemic situation.

Four of the youngsters, three girls aged 11, 12 and 13 and an 18-month-old boy are in hospitals with varied degrees of paralysis. The 11-year-old girl is the worst. A four-year-old boy has been returned home. Little paralysis resulted in his case.

The doctor said there were three other cases in north and northeast sections of the city. The total for the city this year is 26, he said.
