

Case Rips CVA Apart As Plot for Socialization

In a section by section analysis of the proposed Columbia Valley Administration bill, Robert Ormand Case ripped the legislation apart before a small Salem group Monday night.

The Portlander called the CVA bill a government by men instead of by law. Congress would delegate power to three men as board of directors of the CVA, he claimed.

Quiz Officials Of Polish Liners

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The chairman of a senate subcommittee investigating communist spies accused the Polish-owned Gdynia-American Line today of "activities contrary to the interest of the United States."

The line owns the passenger ship Batory on which Communist Leader Gerhard Eisler fled this country last spring.

Officials of the line, owned by the Soviet-dominated Polish government, were questioned by the committee behind closed doors. Senator O'Connor (D., Md.), acting chairman, said their testimony probably will be made public later.

In a statement, O'Connor said the witnesses would be grilled about Eisler's escape and about the use of Gdynia-American Line ships "for activities contrary to the interest of the United States, including their illegal transportation of espionage and propaganda agents."

Eisler, frequently described in congressional hearings as the top communist agent in the United States, jumped bail last spring and escaped as a stow-away on the Batory.

He had been convicted of passport fraud and contempt of congress. Efforts to extradite him from England, where he was taken off the Batory, failed. He last was reported in the Soviet sector of Germany.

O'Connor told reporters that the committee wants to probe officials of the ship line for more details about Eisler's escape. But he added that was only one case the committee was interested in.

Morse to Fight For Re-election

"I intend to put on a vigorous campaign in both the primary and general elections next year, giving the republicans in the primary and the people as a whole in the November election an opportunity to pass judgment on my record and the type of liberal representation which I have given them in the senate," said Senator Wayne L. Morse, Tuesday, in giving out his first official comment regarding the 1950 campaign.

Morse will complete his first term in the senate in 1950, a term he won in the 1944 election, defeating the then incumbent, Senator Rufus Holman, in the 1944 primary election.

"I am confident once the voters have the facts about what I have tried to do they will support the honest, independent judgment which I have sought to exercise in their behalf," the senator said.

"During the State Fair I found my political fences in good shape and discovered that such opposition as I have comes from a few in those groups who have discovered they cannot dictate to me."

Silverton Boy Suffers Light Polio Attack

Silverton, Sept. 13—George Pool, 5-year-old youngster, has a "very light" attack of polio, his father was informed Tuesday morning by the Doernbecher hospital. The youngster, who lives with his grandparents, the Lloyd Mosers, was given a complete examination at the Silverton hospital with all tests administered, prior to his being taken to Portland.

DOWNTOWN ON STATE STREET

University of Oregon, Eugene—The University's new $1,600,000 dormitory for women will open for the first time this fall. Modern throughout, it will house 333 girls in living units of 20 each. Each unit will be equipped with a kitchenette, shower, bath and lavatory facilities, trunk storage space, laundry room and individual steel lockers for off-season clothes, as well as comfortable and airy living rooms. Here two prospective freshmen test living in the new unit. They are from left, Elizabeth Erb, and Beverle Goheen.

All Get Chance With Bearcats

A "philosophy of athletics" that calls for the participation in sport of every man on the campus who has the desire, will be carried out at Willamette university during his regime, said Coach Chester Stackhouse during a talk before the Salem Kiwanis club Tuesday noon.

The new coach, who said he and his family looked forward to living in the northwest, stated he realized that "football is not the most important thing in the world." But, he added, "football is important in a man's career."

"As far as I am concerned no man will be dropped from the squad as long as he has a desire to play and will live up to the training rules prescribed."

Stackhouse said his program was one that is based on optimism, one that contains the belief that each player should believe in himself.

"We will have no alibis before or after a game and no contest will be lost because a player has a bad knee. We will lose because the other team won," he said.

Although not fully acquainted with the program of the officials of the university, Coach Stackhouse expressed the hope that a new stadium would be available in Bush pasture for the 1950 football campaign.

Tavern Robber Blames Liquor

Virgil H. Tippitt, who admitted to pilfering a cash register at an Aumsville tavern of $80, was sentenced by Circuit Judge George H. Duncan Tuesday to 18 months in prison and given three year's probation. He is banned the use of liquor as one condition. Tippitt is an itinerant laborer.

John R. Watson, youth who has two charges against him of obtaining money by false pretenses on a $20 check and larceny of $170 from a woman friend appeared also for sentence, having pleaded guilty several weeks ago and has spent 30 days under observation at the state hospital, appeared and was continued for sentence to Saturday. The court desired to get the straight of Watson's statement that he turned himself in at San Francisco to answer to the charges here. District Attorney Stadler said that extradition proceedings were bad, but he wasn't sure whether Watson had waived extradition or resisted it. Watson said he waived and made no resistance, but the court wants an official report on it before passing sentence. Watson said all his trouble was due to drink, including a bad conduct discharge from the army. He said what he had seen of alcoholics while he was in the state hospital will keep him from liquor the rest of his life.

Raymond Nelson, Jr., charged with passing a $600 check which bounced as payment on a car to Phillip Motor company, also was given continuance to Saturday for sentence. Watson said that he had always carried a substantial account in the bank at Hiawatha, Kansas, on which the check was drawn and the bank had always taken care of any overdrafts. The court wanted information on this, also, before passing sentence.

12th Story Fire Benson Hotel

Portland, Sept. 13 (AP)—Fire on the 12th story of the Benson hotel early today routed out guests on that floor but damage was minor and there was no confusion.

Larry Coombs, Sherman Oaks, Calif., jewelry salesman, told police he awoke to find his bed on fire and was unable to check the flames.

Guests on the 12th floor were ordered out and those on the 11th floor were warned. Many on lower floors slept on undisturbed.

A number of guests dashed out in their night clothes and in the lobby were joined by others who took a bit more time. William E. Boyd, general manager, said the staff of five on duty at the time handled the situation admirably and there was little excitement. He said a fire department estimate of $4000 damage likely was conservative.

Fire damage was confined to Coombs' room, he said, with heavy smoke damage in an adjoining sample room and in the hall.

Flames shooting out of the window were visible up and down Broadway, police reported, but there were few spectators when firemen were called at 3:50 a.m.

Russians Release Captive Americans

Berlin, Sept. 13 (AP)—Maj. Victor Milner, Jr., 30, and his father, 56, were released by the Russians tonight after more than 72 hours in captivity, U.S. authorities announced.

The news was disclosed after unconfirmed reports had said two Americans on their way to receive the pair also had been seized by the Russians. This report originated with German border police.

Octogenarian Autoists Tour Coast in Old Ford

By FRED ZIMMERMAN

When one has passed the four score mark in the matter of years, it's time to slow down a bit. That is the theory upon which Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Helsing of Seattle operate as they tour the country in a model T Ford of 1921 vintage.

En route home after a trip to Los Angeles where they took part in the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Alaska gold rush, the Helsingers spent Monday night in Salem at a local hotel.

The automobile, purchased by the Helsingers in 1923, bears the license plate number of "1866," "the year we both were born," explained Mrs. Helsing who does the talking for the pair because the husband is hard of hearing.

Although busily engaged in polishing the aged vehicle in preparation for the trip to Portland, Mrs. Helsing took time out to answer the questions of an inquiring reporter.

The 83-year old man and woman travel at a speed of from 25 to 30 miles an hour in the machine that has seen the speedometer once pass the 100,000 mark and has accumulated an additional 49,000 miles.

When asked what mileage they got out of the machine, Mrs. Helsing replied: "Oh, we don't pay any attention to that, we just buy the gas and let it go at that." However, keeping the machine equipped with tires has proven somewhat troublesome since the size 30 x 3 1/2 are hard to find.

Once when they were hard pressed for tires a generous truckman gave them two off an old machine he had. "He wouldn't take a cent for them either," said Mrs. Helsing.

The Ford has red wheels because the Helsingers wanted some distinguishing mark so it would be easier to pick out among the hundreds of others that were identical at the time of its purchase.

Asked whether the husband had retired from active business Mrs. Helsing replied in the affirmative. "Any man who

Bishop Residence W. U. Co-Eds Home

The C. P. Bishop residence at 765 Court street, deeded to Willamette university by the pioneer clothier and his wife, is being occupied by a group of independent girls from the campus.

The residence, kept in an excellent state of repair during the occupancy of its former owners, has recently been renovated and in other ways prepared for use by the young women, many of whom are freshmen.

The house is to be used for two years as a residency and then is to be known as the "President's house."
