Mischel-Turner Wedding At St. Joseph's on Sunday

St. Joseph's Catholic church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Margery Anne Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Austelle Turner of Bethel, and James Robert Mischel, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mischel, Salem route one, on Sunday, September 11. The 2 o'clock nuptials were performed by Father T. J. Bernards who used the double ring ceremony. Tall baskets filled with gladioluses in pastel shades were placed on each side of the altar. Alternate pews were marked with clusters of gladioluses along the processional aisle.

Mrs. Leslie Stewart, aunt of the bride sang, Wayne Meusy, church organist, accompanied her and also played the wedding music.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore an ivory white wedding gown, fashioned with long sleeves pointed at the wrist, a sweetheart neckline and a full skirt extending into a court train. The fingertip silk illusion veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls, the something borrowed, from the bridegroom's mother, and worn on her wedding day. For "something old" the bride carried a handmade linen handkerchief used by her great grandmother. Her flowers were two ivory white gladiolus blossoms placed on a white prayer book (a gift from the bridegroom) with cascade of white satin ribbons and flowers. She wore a necklace with the costume.

Mrs. Mary Gladys Turner was maid of honor for her sister, wearing an Alice blue floor length formal and a blue Juliet cap of net and satin ribbon. Her flowers were a spray of salmon pink gladioluses tied with pale yellow satin ribbon.

Joseph Nelke, Salem, was best man. Martin Voller, John Love and Francis Hamstreet were ushers.

Mrs. Turner selected a black crepe afternoon dress with blue embroidery and a black hat with white feather pom pom for the wedding and wore with them black accessories and corsages of gladioluses in flame shade. Mrs. Mischel chose a tobacco brown afternoon dress, green hat, brown accessories and corsage of yellow gladioluses. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. S. L. Stewart, wore black and a white corsage.

The wedding party paused in the vestibule of the church to greet the throng of wedding guests.

The large reception was held at Bethel in the school gymnasium. Bowls of gladioluses and asters in fall shades were placed about the room. The gift and reception tables were covered in

For a last fling in fashions before the start of school.

A necessity for campus wear is an all-occasion coat. The beige camels hair is ideal, I think. It is casual enough to be worn on campus, yet it can be worn for dress as the neutral color will combine with any outfit.

I have found a tailored suit to be a must as well. When in doubt about what to wear, the suit is always proper and its comfortable and easy to take care of. Suits are especially popular for football games, firasides, concerts or fraternity dinners.
