Elliott Claims Two Demo Senators Wanted $60,000

Portland, Sept. 14 (AP)—Two Oregon state senators—unnamed—tried to use the Multnomah county sheriff's office as a democratic party fund-raising organization, Sheriff Mike Elliott charged today.

His refusal to go along started the movement to cancel his bond, the sheriff said.

Elliott, under attack from a recall move and from bond cancellation recommended by State Treasurer Walter Pearson, made his statement which started: "As two Portland newspapers, the Oregonian and the Journal.

The newspapers carried in full his statement which started: "As I promised a few days ago to blast certain of my political opponents, I herewith present the following material to both Portland daily newspapers for publication."

Elliott said the two unnamed state senators told him the democratic party was to raise a $200,000 campaign fund to back Walter Pearson for governor in 1950, and his office was down for a $60,000 quota.

"I refused and from this refusal stemmed the bond cancellation trouble that was to send me flying east to attempt to save my job."

"The sheriff said he then was told someone else would get his job. He added, 'In fairness to Mr. Pearson . . . I wish to make clear that I have no personal knowledge that the two senators came to me with authority from Mr. Pearson. I do know what they said, and that later Mr. Pearson asked for cancellation of my bond.'"

Other developments in the troubled life of Sheriff Elliott: The Portland Methodist Ministers association yesterday approved a resolution which said the association "opposes the retention of any public official whose lack of integrity has been demonstrated." It directed that a committee call on the county commissioners "to learn what assurance we may have that present conditions in the sheriff's office will not be repeated."

On the other side of the picture, Elliott released a letter from the Rev. T. T. Hicks, retired Episcopal minister, which assailed the "diabolical movement to recall you. . . You, sheriff, have the sympathy and good will of more people than you perhaps think." The recall committee, headed by Adm. Thomas L. Gatch, retired, expected to have enough signatures on its petitions this week.

Pickets Halt Construction On Independence Bridges

Pickets at the Valley Concrete company plant at Independence has caused a halt in operations on the Marion-Polk county bridge at Independence and the Ash Creek bridge between Independence and Monmouth.

Sand and gravel for both jobs had been furnished by the picketed concern, according to the bridge construction division of the state highway department.

Work has also been slowed on the new Dallas grade school and reservoir with contractors hauling from Salem at an additional cost of 15 cents per yard.

The Independence plant was declared unfair to organized labor after attempts had been made to unionize the plant since work started about 18 months ago. Pickets were ordered after representatives of union labor and Arthur Wood, plant manager, had failed to reach an agreement, according to F. D. Van

Scout Executive Dies in Salem

William C. Wessel, national director of cub scouting, Boy Scouts of America, died at a local hospital Tuesday night after a brief illness. The body will be shipped to his home in Forest Hills, N.Y. for burial.

Wessel came to Salem a week ago to take part in the scout executive conference for region 11, including Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Alaska and participated in its deliberations. Becoming ill Monday he was taken to the hospital for treatment. A re-occurrence of a heart ailment was responsible for his death.

Wessel was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. and was a graduate of Syracuse university. Before becoming interested professionally in scouting, he was connected with the bureau of plant pathology, U.S. department of agriculture.

For 18 years he served as assistant national camp director and was the director for the United States contingent to the second world scout jamboree at Copenhagen, Denmark in 1924. During 1948 Wessel served as advisor on youth activities to the military government in Germany.

Wessel is survived by a son, a daughter and a sister in New York state.

Elevation of S. P. Tracks On 12th Street Suggested

A new plan for the routing of Southern Pacific lines through Salem was heard by the city's long range planning commission Tuesday night. The suggestion, made by Engineer C. A. McClure, calls for elevation of the track along 12th street to a level even with the track on the highway 99E overpass in North Salem.

Estimated cost of the project, which would include the construction of underpasses at each of 11 major streets along the route, is $6,000,000.

McClure points out that the project could be built in sections. As an example, he said that to build such a construction from Center to Mission street would cost about $2,700,000.

In estimating costs, McClure allowed for a double track running along the top of the elevation, and for four-lane underpasses.

After the report is complete in detail, McClure will submit it to the transportation committee.

The commission also heard a letter from Gardner Knapp, suggesting that should the state fair grounds be moved to a more spacious location outside the city limits, the present fairgrounds could be used for athletic contests and other events, with much of the land being sold for private use.

HISTORIC MEDICAL HIGHLIGHTS—No. 51

SEEING THE INVISIBLE

IT'S a far cry from the simple single lens microscope invented by Leeuwenhoek to the complicated, compound instruments of today. The succession of improvements rival the original invention in importance, for they are capable of two to ten times greater magnification. What this has meant in terms of knowledge is incalculable, but it is undeniable that by such means the dark frontier of ignorance has been pushed back tremendously. With each improvement, more of the unseen becomes visible . . . more of the unknown known.

BRA, SLIP AS PART OF DRESS

Built-In Underwear New Fashion Trick

By GAIL YARBROUGH

Hollywood, Sept. 12 (AP)—Dresses with built-in underwear are Marusia's latest enthusiasms.

"When bra and slip are part of the dress," says the Polish designer, "there is no problem of finding appropriate underclothing to match the gown."

These are chiefly cocktail or dinner frocks, intended for dry-cleaning.

Marusia, who clothes such screen attractions as Paulette Goddard, Roz Russell, Dinah Shore, Mrs. Ray Milland and Joan Fontaine, has just returned from a style-viewing trip to France.

"Prices are much too high in Paris," she reported. "Wives of many designers can't afford the creations of their husbands. Americans buy them."

Designs, too, are much too extreme, in Marusia's opinion.

women." Virginia Mayo's newest dress cost $1000. It glitters like pure gold—the effect of thousands of sequins. To show Mayo's shapely gams, the skirt has insets of sheer chiffon.

Dorothy Lamour, who parlayed a sarong and her charms into a successful film career, is going to have a second career.

She announced at a cocktail party at her home that she is realizing a life-long ambition to become a dress designer as well as an actress.

Doty displayed a number of her creations, based on a sarong motif.
