

East Salem Schools Report Fall Enrollments Complete

East Salem, Sept. 15—The three small East Salem schools now have what they believe is an almost complete enrollment unless some readjustments are made in boundary lines. As any seasonal work that the children do is over for the year, no hops to pick this year, most of the children will be starting the school year the first week. Auburn, Swegle and Middle Grove schools are not overcrowded and the teachers assigned to the buildings will take care of the work.

It is the new Washington school, which is located outside the city limits, and has East Salem children for the larger part of its enrollment that is still unsettled. They have 249 enrolled and are transporting them all from the new building down to the older Washington building each day and back there in the evening, unless parents call for them.

The following are the teachers and the enrollment for each grade: Miss Geniva Curry, half of the first, 26, and Lucile Wardle also 26 first graders. There are two second grade teachers, Louise Brooks with 24 and Hendra Klabo with 24; Hortense Hedstad, third, with 36; Clarice Akerson fourth with 40; Eva Wolf fifth with 42; Glenn Lewning sixth with 29. Miss Gladys Tipton is principal of both Washington and Middle Grove so she will not be at either school all of any one day. Her assistant principal is Mr. Lewning, and her office assistant Audrey Watson. New in the city system are Hendra Brooks, Clarice Akerman and Mr. Lewning.

At Auburn there are only 15 in the first grade; 27 in the second and third; 19 in the fourth and 29 in the fifth and sixth.

Swegle has 140 enrolled with 32 in the first; 25 in the second; 21 in the third; 27 in the fourth; 15 in the fifth and 20 in the sixth.

Middle Grove has 17 in the first; 9 in the second; 16 in the third; 12 in the fourth; 11 in the fifth and 12 in the sixth.

Mrs. Herbert Zobel will again be cafeteria cook for Middle Grove with Emory Goode janitor. Mrs. Katherine Lux will be cook at Auburn.

On real improvement for the playground of the three smaller schools is the large ground square of about 50 feet which has been paved with black top for the children's play square when it is wet.

"Yeah, Wouldn't We Like to Know"

This conversation overheard between one of our boys and good customer of ours (haven't any other kind). This customer asked our boy, "Say," she says, "who writes the ads for this store?" "Boy," says he, "wouldn't we just like to know. He seems to be a little familiar with the store and sh, sh, he has rabbit ears. Sure as shootin' he'll hear everything we say. No imagination, though. You probably never read any of the ads he writes. If you ever have, you'll notice the way he describes things. Now, take for instance our cheese counter; the most modern and sanitary case you'd care to see... and say, there's cheese displayed there from Oregon, Washington, Wisconsin, Minnesota, New York, to say nothing of all the imported kinds." "Yeah, and how he describes 'em. In his ad he'd say, 'Folks, take a gander at our cheese case, if that isn't a snack santhers dream we'd like to see one.' Over 40 varieties, huh, even I could write better advertisin' than that. Or take our vegetable department. Yes, and the meat department. What's he say about 'em. What he says is doggoned near slander, we all say around here. By Jimminy, if there ever was a nicer, more sanitary or more beautiful display of fine victuals, we've failed to see 'em." "That's right," remarks the customer, "it seems to me anyone could write a better ad 'n that. Why, there are literally thousands of nice things to write about. Clean and inviting, but, there's one thing I've noticed he sure knows how to price all these fine things so's a housewife can serve a well balanced meal with the least expense and effort. My word, that's what we want, isn't it? So what's the difference whether he has imagination or not?" That's right, folks, we heard it and, as usual, the customer is right. It's easy to set a good table if you shop these markets... Court St. at Commercial or Marion St. at Commercial.
