

Power Outlook For Winter Good

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 16 (AP)—The northwest electrical power outlook for the winter of 1949-50 appears better than that of last year but the public may still be called upon to conserve, an official said here today.

Gus Norwood, Vancouver, Wash., executive secretary of the northwest public power association meeting in convention here, said activation on three new generators at Grand Coulee dam would increase regional output by 360,000 kilowatts, or 12 percent.

Two of the generators are in operation now and a third will be put in operation next month.

An additional 155,000 kilowatts will be available from Kerr dam, Aerial dam, the Eugene, Ore., dam and from British Electric railways.

Norwood said the risk of low water or a bad freeze which would curtail power is about "one in 10." "However," he said, "there is certainly no surplus of power nor an adequate operating reserve and in the event of a major breakdown in generators or transmission lines the public may be called upon to conserve."

Navy Officers Warned on Talk

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—The navy lowered a gentle boom on Capt. John G. Crommelin and then quickly admonished all its other officers today against speaking out publicly like Crommelin did.

Secretary Matthews, announcing that Crommelin's public and vigorous criticism of service unification "obviously disqualified" him for continuing to work for the high-level joint chiefs of staff, plucked him out of that job.

He was sent to duty with the navy's air warfare division, which is an important cog in the navy's operating organization—but doesn't deal in high policy-making like the joint chiefs of staff.

For a time yesterday it looked as though the aviator-captain would do even better than weather the storm which his protest against Pentagon treatment of the navy stirred up last Saturday.

The word was passed to reporters during the morning that, yes, Crommelin was being transferred from his job in the joint chiefs group. But, reporters were told, he was going into a position just vacated by a rear admiral, director of naval aviation personnel.

Then sometime between morning and late afternoon Matthews presumably told whoever had arranged the new assignment for Crommelin to withdraw the order because he had other ideas about the captain's next assignment.

Today the navy moved to make sure there isn't a repetition of the Crommelin incident.

Acheson Raps Ban on Aliens

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—Vigorous opposition by Secretary of State Acheson to proposed legislation aimed at tightening immigration barriers against subversive aliens was disclosed today.

He has written Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of the senate judiciary committee, author of the bill, that the legislation would "drastically interfere" with the conduct of U.S. foreign relations.

One part of the bill, Acheson said, "would virtually result in a break of diplomatic relations, at least with all communist-dominated countries, and perhaps with others as well."

He added "it would also impair the activities and functions of the United Nations and might even render impossible the maintenance of its headquarters in the United States."

The bill on which a judiciary subcommittee now is holding hearings would arm the government with new powers to block the entry of subversive aliens and to throw out any already here.

Acheson's letter was dated July 15. McCarran now is on his way to Europe and the letter was made public by Senator O'Connor (D-Md), acting chairman of the subcommittee.

Week to Help Handicapped

Employ the Physically Handicapped week observance plans were completed by members of the Veterans Service committee at its luncheon meeting Friday.

A general report of the overall plans for the observance was given by Susan Faherty, chairman of the Veteran's Service committee, and by Walter Haskins, who heads the committee planning the observance in this area of the week which is set for October 2-8.

Committees working with Haskins and Miss Faherty are: Advertising, Joe Hopkins, H. C. Saalfeld, Dr. Roy Scofield, Charles Fulton and Jim Calloway.

Radio: James Harris, Capt. R. B. Leshner and William Bender. Announcement and speeches: Susan Faherty, Ray Bassett, Peery Buren, Carlton Creider and Ridgley Miller.

Window displays and bill boards: Ed Taggart, Leonard Popma, George D. Porter, Elmer Fox, Mrs. G. J. McClellan, Marion Bowen and Fern Beakley.

Publicity: Irwin Bryan, George Hall, Donald Elkins and Elmer Halstaad.

Escapée Benson Starts for Oregon

Columbus, O., Sept. 16 (AP)—William P. Benson, 44, Oregon prison escapee, heads back under guard today.

Prison Guard Donald Johnson of Salem arrived to escort Benson back to the prison whose walls he scaled with John O. Pinson in a pre-dawn Memorial day break.

Benson has not been located. Benson says he is dead, but has told conflicting versions. At one time he said they were out of Oregon immediately but his latest story, given Sunday to Columbus detectives, was that Pinson died of wounds "about June 7 or 8 near Salem."

Regional Directors Bureau of Mines

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—Seven regional directors of the bureau of mines were appointed yesterday.

James Boyd, bureau director, said they will take office Oct. 1. The posts were created under bureau reorganization on a regional basis.

The new directors and headquarters include: Sinclair H. Lorain, Juneau, Alaska; Stephen M. Shelton, northwestern region (Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana), Albany, Ore.

Lorain has been chief of the bureau's mining division for almost five years and is a former district engineer at the bureau's Moscow, Idaho, field station.

Shelton was born at Bennettsville, S.C.

Claim Prisoners Bought Releases

Portland, Sept. 16 (AP)—An investigation began today into a charge several city prisoners "bought" their release from jail here.

Three prisoners asserted they had been released to work on Tony Fazio's farm, and that Fazio had deducted $20 to $100 from their wages. They said they understood the money was paid for their release from jail.

Fazio denied it. He said he had an agreement with the city to help paroled prisoners in rehabilitation. The money helped cover expenses and was used in rehabilitation work of down-and-outers in Portland, he said.

Municipal Judge John Seabrook and a deputy city attorney began an investigation, but Seabrook said he would take no action until he could confer with Municipal Judge J. J. Quillin, now out of town. Fazio said most of the prisoners who worked for him were released by Quillin.

Claim Yugoslavia Mobilizing Troops

Bucharest, Romania, Sept. 16 (AP)—The Cominform Journal claimed today that Yugoslavia was mobilizing troops on its borders with neighboring communist states and that "feverish fortification works are in progress along the border."

The claims were made by a writer, identified only as I. Leontic.

He charged that Tito was brandishing the sword at the Balkans.

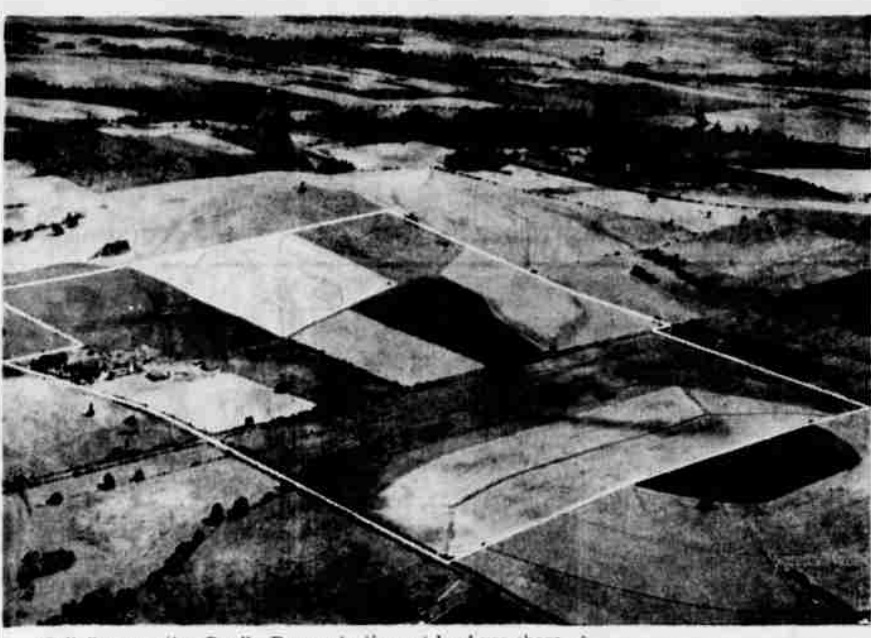

(Similar reports were denounced recently by the Yugoslav ministry of information as communist-inspired "lies.")

"A war psychosis has been created among the people of Yugoslavia," Leontic wrote.

Atlantic Area Police Force

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—Earmarking 10 to 25 percent of the funds in the foreign arms bill for the establishment of an Atlantic area police force was proposed today by a bipartisan group of senators.

The police force would be composed of volunteers from the smaller European nations and would be under command of the defense committee provided for in the North Atlantic treaty.

The proposed amendment to the $1,314,000,000 military assistance bill also would state that a fundamental objective of U. S. policy is to seek revision of the United Nations charter to establish effective world arms control backed by an international police force.

The Atlantic police force would be used as a nucleus for the development of such an international police force.

The 11 senators who offered the amendment included Senator Robert Letts Jones, assistant publisher of the Capital Journal during a "Constitution Day" talk before the Salem Board of Realtors Friday noon as the members resumed their weekly luncheons following the summer vacation.

Delegates of the 13 original states had met for the purpose of adopting articles of confederation after a number of delays had been encountered. They were suspicious of centralized power while others were set on keeping the larger states from gaining control.

In sessions that were barred to everyone besides the delegates and in which all were warned against passing out any scrap of information, the constitution was adopted Sept. 17, 1787. "It is a bit difficult now to comprehend the thinking of those days," said Jones after detailing some of the incidents leading up to the framing of the constitution. "The press, such as it was in those days, was barred absolutely from the deliberations and only one copy of the proceedings was made. One delegate went so far as to suggest that the single copy be destroyed in order that no information regarding the framing of the constitution could be divulged."

Average age of the 55 delegates involved was 44 years while Benjamin Franklin at 81 was considered the elder statesman. Alexander Hamilton was but 30 while two others were in their 20s.

Jones Talks on Constitution

Although the constitution of the United States, considered one of the greatest of human documents, was written within a space of three months, it's accomplishment was not without much dissension.

This was pointed out by Robert Letts Jones, assistant publisher of the Capital Journal during a "Constitution Day" talk before the Salem Board of Realtors Friday noon as the members resumed their weekly luncheons following the summer vacation.

Delegates of the 13 original states had met for the purpose of adopting articles of confederation after a number of delays had been encountered. They were suspicious of centralized power while others were set on keeping the larger states from gaining control.

Parrish-School Opens Monday

Parrish Junior high school expects to open its doors to more than 900 pupils next Monday morning after suffering a week's delay due to the uncompleted state of a remodeling and enlarging program.

Because rain has interfered with the proposed improvements of the grounds, Principal Carl Ashenbrenner asks that all pupils stay on the existing walks. To do otherwise would endanger the new floors that have been installed in the building. He asks that bicycles be parked in the old shed and behind the shops.

The old entrances are to be used during the first few days or until such time as the additions to the school have been completed. While the cafeteria will not be entirely completed the school will be in a position to serve hot dogs, hamburgers and other sandwiches and milk.

.46 Inch of Rain Falls in Salem

Nearly a half inch of rain came down in the 24-hour period ending at 10:30 a.m. Friday in Salem, .46 of an inch being recorded.

The new series of showers brought the rainfall total for the month to 1.29 inches, against a normal of .69 of an inch for the period.

Forecast is for partly cloudy skies tonight and Saturday and slightly cooler temperatures tonight.

Amity—A part of the residential section of Amity was without electric current due to the fact that five poles in the north part of town ignited for some unknown reason. All five of them toppled to the ground about the time the rural fire truck and equipment reached the scene.

Rapists' Victim Dies in Hospital

Tacoma, Sept. 16 (AP)—A 21-year-old housewife, a round whom a rape case involving 10 men centered, died yesterday in Western state hospital.

County Coroner Paul Mellinger said Mrs. Marie Charlton's death was due to bronchial pneumonia. Hospital authorities said she had been undergoing shock therapy treatments.

The young woman was recommitted to the Stellacoom hospital following the shock of an asserted all-night attack May 27.

The 10 Tacoma men were accused of the attacks on Mrs. Charlton three months ago but were not charged until recently. The prosecutor's office had held it would be impossible to get a conviction because the woman would be considered incompetent to testify.

Authorities said she was thrown nude out of an automobile after 10 hours of assault.

Prosecutor Patrick Steele indicated yesterday the woman's death would mean an end to the rape case. He said he would confer with State Attorney General Smith Troy today on legal aspects.

Senae Passes Tariff Cut Bill

Washington, Sept. 16 (AP)—A string of administration victories in the senate gave President Truman today the full tariff-cutting powers he demanded.

Foes of the reciprocal trade agreements act failed in every attempt yesterday to curb the chief executive's authority under the 15-year-old law—including efforts to move a "peril point" proviso written into it by the republican-controlled 80th congress.

With the extension bill now ready for his signature, trade agreements with 10 more countries are being prepared for Mr. Truman's approval.

Experts of the U.S. and 10 other countries have already agreed in negotiations at Anney, France, on what they will recommend to their governments. Agreements based on these recommendations are expected to be ready for presidential action early in October.

These agreements would be with Denmark, Finland, Italy, Greece, Sweden, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Liberia, Uruguay and Nicaragua.

State department officials estimated today that if the president approves these treaties 75 to 80 percent of all U.S. foreign trade—both exports and imports—will be carried on under reciprocal trade agreements.
