Reporter Dons Grease Paint and Finds Out at Big Circus in Salem

Capital Journal Reporter—Chris Kowitz, Jr., pictured here as he appears from day to day as a Capital Journal reporter, stops in front of the colorful bell wagon of Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus Thursday. Kowitz, who delights in doing the unusual, was sent to the circus by the Capital Journal to gather material for a story.

By CHRIS KOWITZ, JR.

I was a clown under the "Big Top" Thursday. Everybody wonders what's behind the smile on a circus clown's face. I wondered, too, so I got Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey to let me join their show at the state fair grounds for the afternoon performance.

A clown is not all smiles and equipping themselves with big.

waded through mud to get to the upon as far as comical appear-ticket lines, then waited in line through a chilly drizzle and a nippy wind. They had been pushed around by a mob of people, had been bothered with hundreds of questions from curious kids in tow.

They may as fine, until it came time to put on those huge shoes, and pushed around as a comfortable to wear.

They were as big around as a comfortable to wear.

They were as big around as a comfortable to wear.

They are the distinguished and well-mannered gentlemen have mastered an art which has payed there do not the distinguished and well-mannered gentlemen have mastered an art which has payed there do not necessary to heave.

Back in the dressing room, off in making a nation laugh. Each one of them is a great other acts. I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup.

They are through a chilly drizzle and a nippy wind. They were as big around as a change into other costumes for and a grand person.

Keep 'em laughing, boys.

nundreds of questions from curious kids in tow.

They paid their way into the "Big Top," perhaps complaining of the prices, then had to fight a mob of people again in finding their seats. After stumbling over rough ground, having their toes stepped on, their hats crushed and their popcorn dampened, they finally found pieces.

They paid their way into the as comfortable to wear.

Adler told me that Van Johnson had worn that same costume of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face.

I did a quick change into street clothes, using a cup of baby oil and a half bar of Lifebuoy soap to get the paint off my face. dampened, they finally found pieces.

experiencing and turn them in-to a group of laughing, carefree circus-goers.

That's why the some 100 clowns who perform with Ring-ling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus take their jobs seriously. That's why there is an art to being a circus clown. That's why there is

As long as circuses have been part of American life, people have laughed at the antics of the fellow behind the heavy makeup and wondered what it would be like to be a circus clown.

I had so wondered, too. What gind of people are clowns in private life? Do clowns enjoy making others laugh? What do they think when confronted with a "cold," unresponsive au-dience?

The best way to answer these questions, I thought, would be to become a clown myself for one day. So, with cooperation from circus advance man Frank Braden, and famous clown Fe-lix Adler, I was dolled up in a typical clown costume and turned loose in Thursday afternoon's circus performance.

Before entering the arena, clowns, of course, attire themselves in various costumes and makeups of weird variety. This may sound simple. However, each and every clown is a make up artist in his own right, and takes pride in his ability to transfer cold ingredients of bottles into a warm, smiling, comical face.

My stage experience having been confined to a recitation of "Under the Spreading Chest-nut Tree" in a third-grade Sunday school program. I did not qualify as an expert make-up

So Adler adopted the chore of slapping grease paint on my face. Ow! That eyebrow pen-eil hurt.

Odd thing all the other clowns in the dressing area were

Ringling Brothers Clown-Believe it or not, it's the same guy. He may not look like Van Johnson, who wore the same costume last month, but Journal reporter Kowitz is shown here as a typically-dressed clown. He appeared in Thursday afternoon's performance to see what it was like to be a circus clown. Kowitz is the only newsman to serve as a guest clown their seats.

It was up to the circus clown to yank laughs out of that sea of faces; to somehow make them forget the discomforts they might have thought they were experiencing and turn them in-move on to another part of the run" with his act. He must act move on to another part of the run" with his act. He must act arena, I was told by veterans of the clowning profession. The plot, so vital to the movie or only surprise the spectators got from me was the fact that I did no tricks when they expected me to.

I did amble around the arena.

I did amble around the arena.

A clown is not all smiles and fun, as he looks to the peanut and cotton-candy crowd at the performance.

This is what I found out:

Thursday's circus crowd had waded through mud to get to the ticket lines, then waited in line ticket lines, then waited in line.

Crawling into the clown unl
equipping themselves with big. to.

I did amble around the arena, however, tagging after Adler and a companion funny-man who appeared to turn into a Jung, Paul Wenzel, Lou Jacobs, wall elephant then turn back Jack LeClair and Paul Jerome to a man again. It took all my are truly great performers, balancing ability to just turn. Those shoes were too heavy.

Those shoes were too heavy.

Crawling into the clown unl-

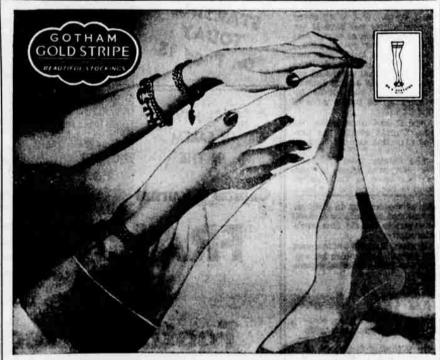

LOW ON ONE SIDE? WHERRIE TAILOR-

tallor that coat to Pure Virgin Wool Fabrica Suita, $33.50 to $76.50

Inpensis, $47.50 to $44.50

SUNDIN, the Tailor

The Gold Stripe Tells the Story

. . . It assures you the finest quality it is possible to produce in beautiful nylon stockings.

to $775

The Capital's Style Center

Court of Liberty

Petty, the Artist, boat Picks '10 Best'

It's probably no surprise that he nominated for the "10 best undressed women." In his own

"True feminine beauty is not combination of a dressmaker, beauty operator, furs and jewels. When a girl is born beauti-ful in body and face, it's no use trying to improve upon nature." The list:

Ljuba Welitsch, Polish singer who danced in "Salome" with the Metropolitan opera last sea-

Barbara Ann Scott, Canadian Olympic skating champion.

Joan Caulfield, actress.

Gertrude (Gussie) Moran, ace-pantied tennis star.

Vicki Draves, Olympic diving Gypsy Rose Lee, stripteaser.

Josephine Baker, American star of the Folies Bergere, Esther Williams, actress. Paulette Goddard, actress. Zoe Ann Olsen, women's div-

Italian Aviators Take Long Route Homeward

Lagens, The Azores, Sept. 16 (P)—Italian Aviators John M. Brondello and Camillio Bariog-lio are taking the long way weather from here Lisbon (780 miles) is bad so the men decided to fly instead to New York (2000 miles) and return to Lisbon (2780 miles) by Capital Journal, Salem, Oregon, Friday, Sept. 16, 1949-3 They took off this morning at lours and 32 minutes after the of heavy home-bound traffic last take-off they radioed that they evening. In the tangle, one man the two flyers abandoned an had flown 340 miles.

The two flyers abandoned an had flown 340 miles.

10:13 a.m. take-off they radioes The two flyers abandoned an had flown 340 miles.

Hollywood, Sept. 16 (4) — George Petty, who draws the Petty girls, came up with his sentative reported that three automobile collided in the midst cuts. He was driving the care the first care and flown 340 miles.

Auto and Engine Crash backed up on two Willametts properly. Portland, Sept. 16 (4) — A river bridges. Police said Chestally comming the care automobile collided in the midst cuts. He was driving the care the first care automobile collided in the midst cuts.

The Greatest in All the City's History!

TUESDAY

September 20th at 7:30 P.M.

- Automobile Show
- New Fall Window Displays
- Bands on the Streets

Treasure Hunt tickets will be distributed by all participating stores all day Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. Match your ticket numbers with the numbers on prizes in the store windows Tuesday night!

Corner Liberty & Court St.