To Have Children?

"The ideal number of children, if you want to get along with your neighbors, is none. I've found that people don't like kids," states John Bedford in the October Reader's Digest.

Bedford is the father of two boys and is deeply angry at the modern world's attitude toward children, as he sees it. His article is condensed from Maclean's.

"My wife and have been refused lodging because we have children." Bedford supposed and turn them loose."

Normal expenditure of Pete's and John's energy invariably draws a complaint from some neighbor. "Every time one of them lets out a whoop half a so through the parental motions go through the parental motions. Salem will be paid a visit next brick of the city hall. After that some paid worker takes over."

Salem will be paid a visit next Monday by the newly elected national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, Dawington, who is director of claims, is a former Salem resident.

"My wife and have been refused lodging because we have children," Bedford says. "People glare at them in movies because they've asked a couple of questions. They've been reported for girls; John, seven, who goes in for girls; John, seven, who goes in for frogs, worms, dead birds and jet propulsion—Bedford says for standing on running boards of parked cars, for making chalk marks on the sidewalks—until streets and houses, our very way getting rid of your children with a ran-jet engine."
