YOUNG HEIR FROM BOSTON

Makes Good in Movies On Headwaiter Experience

Hollywood, Sept. 29 (AP)—Peter Mamakos, 29-year-old heir to a New England restaurant fortune, said today he's making good in the movies because he picked up all the acting gimmicks as his father's headwaiter.

And what he learned while bowing people to their tables will keep him in Hollywood even longer than it takes you to catch a waiter's eye on the Sunset "strip."

"It's easy after you've been in the eatery business," Mamakos says. "Any good maitre-de has to be a smooth combination of Ronald Coleman, Humphrey Bogart, and Tyrone Power.

"And I was a good one. Had to be—or pop would've fired me."

"Pop" is John Mamakos, head of the Pilgrim restaurants in Boston and New England, and he's not happy about his son walking out on the family business.

Seven months ago he sent Mamakos, Jr., out here to scout locations for a California chain. Only Junior got so bedazzled by Hollywood he scouted himself a job in the movies instead.

And that headwaiter training must be on the level. Because wood directors, either. He's handled too many chefs and waiters in his day.

Mamakos senior's tried luring his son home with everything from a $50,000 job to a $250,000 nightclub of his own. He bombarded him with phone calls, wires and letters—and finally dispatched one of his executives out here with orders to bring the young scamp home where he belonged.

"It was really funny," Peter said. "Pop's traunt officer spent a day on the set and wound up with a waiver from the guild and a job as a sailor in 'Cargo to Canton.' He was all for staying—but he knew pop'd fire him."

Foresees Rocket Ships In Next 10 Years

Los Angeles, (AP)—Dr. Clark B. Millikan, professor of aeronautics at the California Institute of Technology, believes supersonic commercial passenger flights will be commonplace in from 10 to 20 years.

"It is my conviction," he said in a recent speech, "that peacetime application of supersonic aircraft will come within 10 to 20 years—when long-distance flights will be routine."

He added that rockets probably were the most feasible medium for faster-than-sound flight.

Civil Service Ruling Made

Under Salem civil service rules from now on policemen and firemen must serve at least a year in any grade before being advanced by examination to the next grade. The rule was adopted at a meeting of the civil service commission Wednesday.

The cases of Glen A. Bowman and Leland D. Weaver were mentioned. Both recently qualified for police captains although they had not served in the grade of sergeant. The ruling was made by way of clarification.

The civil service status of police radio operators was discussed. City Attorney Chris J. Kowitz has ruled that police officers assigned to radio duty cannot be deprived of civil service rating, but that whether they are to be classified under a separate civil service grade is for the city council to decide.

The commission voted to call a civil service examination for firemen the latter part of October to replenish the eligibility list. Examinations will be held. It was decided, for firemen, captains and first aid captains. The only present vacancy is first aid captain.

WAS THE AD WRITER SPOTTED AT LAST WEEKS OPEN HOUSE?

"Beautiful to Behold"

As one lady remarked as she sipped her delicious Empress Coffee and dunked her Downy-Flake Donut with just the right finesse of her delicate little finger, "I do declare, I know I've seen everything now! Look over there, see that feller with the big chest? Bet he's the head'a the dunkers club. Didja ever see anything so beautiful—just look! His coffee cup settin on that shelf, both hands fulla donuts, dunkin with first one hand and then with the other and drinkin his Empress Coffee with out puttin his eye out." "Whatcha mean, put his eye out? Empress Coffee is a mighty good coffee." "Oh yeah the coffee's good but look at the handle of that spoon stickin outa the cup he's usin and look at im he's drunk to cups already and hasent knocked an eye out yet." "Oh ye I see im". But isnt it beautiful." "Good grief you think he's doin that purty like?" "Oh no, I mean isn't the cheese case he's leanin on the most beautiful sight. Its a snack grabers dream with so many varieties. Just look, you can get most any kind of chees youve ever heard of. Wonder why ther ad writer never mentions the beauty and ease of selection at that display. You know what, I betcha that feller with the spoon in his coffee cup is their ad writer!"
