

Arsenal—Chicago detectives examine the arsenal of guns and ammunition found in the room of ex-GI Julian Wohlkuen, who was arrested on a complaint that he ordered a seven-year-old Negro boy out of the bathroom at the point of a gun. There were 37 loaded weapons and some 2900 rounds of ammunition in the arsenal. (Acme Telephoto)

Hundreds of Pickets Charge Townsman Unloading Ship

By RICHARD A. LITFIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

The Dalles, Ore., Sept. 29 (AP)—I was talking to a truck driver in the dock warehouse yesterday when the hot pineapple dispute broke into violence.

First I heard loud shouting. Then I saw 200 to 300 longshoremen charging down the long building. They were on a dead run. And they were waving clubs, axes, two-by-four boards, sledgehammers and knives.

The police line of 10 men was hopelessly outnumbered. They were brushed aside by the mob. "Let 'em have it! Let's get those finks!"

They swarmed around me as I stood there with pencil and paper in hand. But they weren't paying any attention to me. They were headed for the young cowhands and Oregon farmers who had passed through their picket line to unload "hot" Hawaiian pineapple.

They ran to a truck parked on the dock. They broke its windows and headlights and banged a driver to the ground. Then they went to work on the big loading crane. They systematically cut the guide wires, hauled out the batteries and smashed the motor with a sledgehammer.

They probably were inspired by the large painted sign "Dole" on the crane.

Some of the longshoremen broke open several cases of pineapple and threw gallon cans into the open hatch of the barge "Honolulu," moored alongside the dock.

The non-union townspeople who had been unloading the cargo scrambled into an adjoining warehouse and climbed atop piles of wheat sacks for safety. Robert Laekenleh, Life magazine cameraman, was slugged behind the left ear and his camera smashed. Hugh Ackroyd, commercial photographer from Portland, also had his camera smashed. And a third camera was taken from George Lindsay, 60-year-old publisher of the weekly The Dalles Optimist, and also destroyed.

Lindsay was knocked down and banged against pineapple cases. As a parting gesture, the longshoremen cut all but one of the hawsers holding the barge to the pier. As they retreated back through the warehouse, one man yelled:

"That'll teach you cops to let those scabs through!"

Loop Family Moves From Hopewell Farm

Hopewell—Mr. and Mrs. Charles William ("Billie") Loop and sons have purchased a trailer house and moved to McMinnville where he has employment with the Yukon Construction Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Edwards and family, who have resided on the Henry Paesel 93-acre dairy farm in the Unionvale district for seven years, will move to the 13-acre farm vacated by the Loops.

New Options in Dam District

Six additional options for the purchase of property within the Detroit dam reservoir area on the North Santiam river have been accepted by the Portland district, corps of engineers, Lt. Col. D. A. Elliget, acting Portland district engineer, announced Wednesday.

The options included one for 57 acres with Clarence Mason and another for 10 acres with George J. Reiser. Also included in the options were a half acre with Alida Smith and lots owned by J. Stallman, Waldo Nettleton and J. C. Fowler.

The Portland district real estate division will continue to accept options on land within the reservoir area as rapidly as possible until all the necessary property has been acquired for the project, Colonel Elliget said.

Detroit dam is one of the major units in the Willamette valley flood control project of the corps of engineers. Also included is Big Cliff, a re-regulating reservoir two and a half miles downstream from Detroit.

Truman Joshes With Al Jolson

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)—"Mammy" Singer Al Jolson quoted President Truman as saying today that he might run again on the slogan, "I need the job."

Visiting old scenes in his home town of Washington, the irrepressible Al popped the question to the president in a White House call:

"Do you think you might run again?"

He said Mr. Truman quipped back:

"I don't know whether they will want me again. Maybe I can use the job and can run on the slogan 'I need the job.'"

The president recalled seeing Jolson in a minstrel show at the Grand Opera House in Kansas City in 1908 or 1909.

That took the conversation to Jolson's age. He said the president knew what it was.

"I'll kiss 62 next May," Jolson told reporters.

He said that he and the president agreed he shouldn't retire, and that the president volunteered the view:

"If you quit, it'll kill you."

TEN SLOPPIEST MEN

Movie Studio Secretaries Pick Worst-Dressed Stars

Hollywood, Sept. 29 (AP)—Secretaries from several major movie studios took a long look at the film colony's screen idols today and issued their own list of the "ten worst dressed men on the screen."

Honored as the ten sloppiest dressers among male stars, starting with the worst, were:

Howard Duff—"He looks like an exploding couch."

MacDonald Carey—"He's still wearing Marine corps fatigues."

Frank Sinatra—"He must have built-in midgets holding up his shoulder pads."

Robert Cummings—"He probably wears night shirts."

Vic Mature—"Doesn't even wear socks with his casuals."

Adolphe Menjou—"Vests went out with bloomer bathing suits."

Bing Crosby—"He wears rainbows, complete with pot."

Jimmy Stewart—"He's like a tweed weed."

Van Heflin—"Still wears the suit he wore in 'The Philadelphia Story.'"

Rudy Vallee—"A real 'vagabond' lover and dresser."

The girls promised to make their selections an annual event.
