Stocks Decline And Level Off

New York, Oct. 1 (AP)—The stock market leveled off today almost immediately after an opening gust of selling.
 Steel and automobile shares showed the largest losses in the market's first response to the steel strike. Declines generally ranged from fractions to around a point.
 Prices took their worst licking within a few minutes after the opening bell. For the rest of the session the market coasted along at the lower level.
 Selling pressure wasn't particularly severe but demand was almost non-existent.
 Trading volume was unusually low, with turnover at the rate of only 350,000 shares or so for the two-hour session.

Lebanon Annexation Petitions Circulate

Lebanon — Oliver Larsen, Chamber of Commerce secretary, announces that petitions on the annexation of outlying suburbs are now available for signature in various city stores.
 Residents within the city who are registered voters are asked to sign the petition so that the matter can be brought before the people at a special election.
 Outside signatures have already been obtained and await only the check by the county clerk against the registered voters' file.

New Generator at Grand Coulee Dam

Coulee Dam, Wash., Oct. 1 (AP)—The world's largest power plant was 108,000 kilowatts more powerful today.
 The 12th big generator at Grand Coulee dam went into commercial operation yesterday. It brought the installed rated capacity of the plant to 1,316,000 kilowatts and its peak capacity to 1,500,000 kilowatts.
 The new 108,000-kilowatt generator is the third to be completed in the east powerhouse at the dam this year. Six more of the same size will be installed there in the next two years. Nine of them now are in operation in the west powerhouse.
Monmouth Grangers Hold Booster Night
 Monmouth—A large crowd attended the Grange Booster and social evening held at the IOOF hall. Grange Master Claude Snaar presided over the program which was entirely of his arranging. With Mrs. Morton Baker at the piano, William A. West led the company in a series of songs.
 R. B. Swenson briefly reviewed Grange history and its present setup. Harvey Young told of his experience at county and state fairs. Howard Morgan, who has just moved onto his Luckiana farm, discussed the CVA. Following games and a social time refreshments were served.

Sanitary Engineer Discusses Sewage

Woodburn—Kenneth Spies of Portland, assistant chief engineer with the state sanitary authority division of the state board of health, was the speaker at the Woodburn Rotary club. William E. Dunn Jr., was second chairman and the speaker was introduced by Dr. W. J. Stone of the Marion county health department. He discussed the sewage problem at Woodburn. Following his talk colored film "Clean Waters" was shown by Howard Pyler, health educator of the Marion county health department.

Consolidated School Given Electric Power

Monmouth—Workers in the Monmouth municipal power department have been working hard to supply energy for the contractors about to erect the new consolidated high school between Monmouth and Independence. Poles are all in and it is hoped connection for power can be made by the end of the week. In the meantime engineering work is being done on the grounds, surveying and stake driving and excavations and only the connection with electric energy delays actual starting of construction. The school board has authorized well-drilling operations.

Longshoremen End Dispute

San Francisco, Oct. 1 (AP)—West coast longshoremen and their employers said today they had reached agreement on virtually all issues unresolved in last December's back-to-work agreement.
 Wage review talks will continue despite the Sept. 30 deadline for complete accord.
 The joint statement by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union and the Pacific Maritime Association was made after a negotiating session which lasted until midnight Friday.
 The PMA issued a separate statement saying it also had reached agreement with three other west coast maritime unions extending contracts past the Sept. 30 date.
 They are the coastwise contracts of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, the Masters, Mates and Pilots association and the International Longshoremen's association, AFL.
 The third named contract covers the Washington ports of Tacoma, Port Angeles and Anacortes only.
 A PMA spokesman said stopping the clock against the Sept. 30 deadline in the contract negotiations and wage review talks gave complete assurance of uninterrupted steamship service in all west coast ports.

Last River Boat Quits Columbia

Astoria, Oct. 1 (AP)—The last of the river boats, which have carried mail and passengers from one Columbia river town to another since the 1860's made its final run today.
 The launch Imperial set off from Astoria with one of its heaviest cargoes ever: enough canned goods and staples to tide the small Washington shore communities over until their new road is finished.
 A road is replacing the launches which for 70 years had carried people and supplies to the towns of Pillar Rock, Skamawawa, Altoona, and Cathlamet.
 Only one town—Brookfield—will be isolated from a highway. The few residents there will use their fishing boats to get groceries and stores in Astoria.
 Ernest and Harry Foster, owners of the Imperial, decided to end the service after the government cancelled its mail contracts. The new road, and a population which has been dwindling since depression days, forced the government to abandon its river mail.
