Football Roof Caves on Coast Intersectionals

By HALL WOOD
(United Press Sports Writer)

San Francisco, Oct. 3 (UP)—It's back to fundamentals today for west coast football teams.

For just a few minutes on Saturday it appeared that the Pacific Coast conference football had returned to its pre-war standard as equal that of any in the land.

But about five minutes later things were back to normal.

For the first half it went like this: Idaho 7 Texas 7; Washington 7, Notre Dame 7; Washington State 7, USC 7; Michigan 7, Stanford 0.

Then the roof caved in and the PCC rooters will have to wait for another year to claim a parity on the nation's football fronts.

Stanford, which takes on undefeated UCLA this week-end, was soundly trounced by Michigan, 27-7; Notre Dame thumped Washington by the same count. It Texas, it was even worse, with Texas running up a 56-7 count. In strictly regional play, USC came back to whop Washington State, 35-7.

A couple of intersectionals this week-end may give the PCC something to cheer about —but probably nothing on which to brag. University of California's Golden Bears, who won their third straight Saturday with a 41-0 conquest of Oregon State, travel to Madison to take on Wisconsin, which was held to a 13-13 tie by Illinois.

USC, which was sluggish in its battle with WSC, will have to go all out for it takes on Ohio State in the Los Angeles coliseum. The Buckeyes trounced Indiana, 46-7.

In strictly PCC games, Washington entertains Oregon State; Oregon, beaten by UCLA on Friday night, invades Washington State; and Stanford and UCLA tangle in the headlines.

Among the independents, St. Mary's goes east to play the great Villanova powerhouse; and USF travels to Detroit to battle Detroit university.

College of Pacific, which eased by Cincinnati, 34-7, entertains the fine Nevada club; Santa Clara, a 53-0 victor over Fresno State, takes on the Portland outfit that trampled Montana State, 40-0, in the Lodi Grape bowl.

Wolves Trip Linfield; Eye Fox College Game

Monmouth—Fresh from a 27 to 14 decision over Linfield college of the Northwest conference, the Oregon College of Education Wolves are looking ahead to their mix with Fox college next Saturday night on the local field.

The Wolves scored two touchdowns in the first and one each in the second and third periods. The Wildcats tallied once in the second and again in the fourth.

For OCE Corky VanLoo smashed two yards for the first touchdown with Frank Decker converting. A tricky reverse with VanLoo carrying the ball scored from seven yards out for the second and Decker failed to convert.

On the first play of the second period, Abe Johnson passed to M. Heibert for 14 yards and six points. Decker converted. Ralph Capasso gave OCE its final touchdown on a reverse good for five yards. Decker added the point.

Bill Fleming intercepted an OCE pass in midfield to score Linfield's first marker as he shook off tacklers on his 50-yard run. Bobe Heines converted. In the fourth Carl Wick-

Leahy Charges Officials Tried to Help Huskies

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 3 (UP)—Who got hurt the most in that Washington-Notre Dame football fracas Saturday—the Huskies or Irish Coach Frank Leahy?

Four Washington backs and a lineman got damaged as Notre Dame belatedly turned on its steam at Seattle and rushed to a 27-7 victory.

But Leahy's feelings were hurt. He put in a big blast on the officiating and asserted "We had to play four extra men."

Notre Dame lost 135 yards in penalties in the contest, while Washington was set back 20.

Leahy sounded off immediately after the game. He still hadn't cooled off by the time he reached Chicago last night. He repeated his charges:

"The officials did their best to protect Coast conference football," he declared angrily, adding he was "tired of accepting incompetence politely and without comment."

Howie Odell, coach of the Huskies, was taken somewhat aback by all this. He said in Seattle he was "surprised and disappointed that Mr. Leahy would make such a statement. They're all good football officials."

Leahy was plenty bitter about the whole thing.

"The officials—all four of them—tried their best to even up a football game. And that goes!" he said after the game. "They wouldn't even explain the penalties they called to our captain."

Eyerly, Stone to Enter Outboard Races in South

Harry Eyerly, Salem, and Rocky Stone, Willamina, are among the five Oregonians leaving their skills and craft against the ing this week for the Salton sea in southern California to pit best the world has to offer in the line of motorboat racing, October 7 to 10. They plan to enter their C service runabouts and hydroplanes.

As a result of this year's racing events, the Oregonians hold most of the Pacific Northwest top records. They plan to participate in competitive racing events as well as in the world's record mile straightaways. All plan to camp on the beach and make it a vacation as well as racing expedition.

Among the best inboard racing boats entered are the Skip-along owned by Stanley Dollar and Hot Metal, owned by Henry Kaiser, and Such Crust, which competed in the gold cup races at Detroit last summer.
