TWO-HOUR DEBATE

Episcopal Meeting Defeats Move to Seat Women

San Francisco, Oct. 5 (AP)—A half Jewish and half Arab Jerusalem could become a hotbed of smuggling "and a thousand other sordid practices," a spokesman for Palestine Christians has warned.

The Rev. Walter C. Klein of St. George's cathedral in Jerusalem told the house of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church that an international Jerusalem would solve that problem.

"An international Jerusalem, stabilized from without, will be an economic as well as a political buffer," he said.

The church's house of deputies Monday refused to amend the 160-year-old constitution which bans women deputies. An amendment, proposing one woman member in the house from each diocese, was defeated, 53 1/4 to 81 3/4.

Stoughton Bell of Boston, a lay deputy, started a two-hour debate by declaring: "This is a day when the women are doing magnificent work for the church. They should be admitted to this house."

The Rev. William B. Barnds of Lincoln, Neb., warned, however, that if women were seated in the house the clergy might be replaced ultimately by deaconesses and dowager bishops might head the diocese.

The Rev. William H. Brady of Alton, Ill., said women in the house of deputies might make the church "a plate for old women and plush-bottomed acolytes."

Four women, who had been elected as deputies, were denied seats last week.

Pat Seery's four home runs in one game last season made him the third player to achieve that feat in this century.

David Nelson, new football coach at Maine, played in the same Michigan backfield with Tom Harmon, Forrest Evashevski and Bob Westphal.

SEPARATED BY WAR

Girl, Parents Reunited After 10 Years Apart

Seattle, Oct. 5 (AP)—A thin 12-year-old girl stepped from the ramp of an airliner Monday and flung herself into the arms of Capt. and Mrs. John Anderson, crying happily: "I recognized you from your photographs."

The child was Angelina, the couple's daughter. The meeting was the family's first reunion in 10 years.

Tobin Calls for Union Harmony

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 5 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin Tuesday called on organized labor to replace discord and cross-purposes with "the solidarity of cooperation" to secure such objectives as repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

"It has already been proved that when an international crisis is being faced, or when the labor movement is being threatened within a state or in Washington, AFL and CIO work together effectively and harmoniously," Tobin said in a speech prepared for the national AFL convention.

"I am pleading merely for a logical projection of the spirit behind such activities," the cabinet officer said, pointing out that he had no "program of unification" or "any scheme for making labor one and indivisible."

He urged cooperation on the political level "if we are to get rid of Taft-Hartley" and realize other parts of President Truman's "fair deal."

"Last November," Tobin said, "workers and farmers pulled together, not because there was any alliance, but because both groups had come to realize that the only real hope for a fair deal was the election of President Truman. We must keep alive and strengthen that community of interest which manifested itself

Albany Crash Injures Five

Albany, Oct. 5—Five persons were hospitalized here early Tuesday after meeting with an accident which caused the car's occupants to be strewn along the Pacific highway four miles south of Tangent. The car, thoroughly demolished, had apparently rolled over many times.

At the hospital, where they were taken by city ambulance, are: LaVern Keith Edwards, Sweet Home, driver, who suffered a possible skull fracture and severe internal injuries; Robert Orvell Stedwick, David Kimball, Mrs. Gertrude Herrold, all of Sweet Home, and Florence Frost, Crawfordville, all of whom suffered severe shock, lacerations, bruises and minor internal injuries, it was reported.

According to information procured by state police officers the accident happened shortly after midnight on a curve. The car, it was reported, rolled or skidded 491 feet before piling up in the ditch between the highway and the Southern Pacific railroad main line grade.

Parts of the car were scattered about the landscape as it plunged and rolled, said the officer, and he found a widely separated pair of shoes that apparently had been worn by one of the occupants.

'SHE'S TOO FAT FOR ME'

German Girls Getting too Fat On New Post-War Diets

Berlin (AP)—Germans are getting fat. And to many a young swain in this beaten-up nation, a popular American novelty tune, "She's Too Fat for Me," has become a sorrowful ballad of true life.

So Germans—and especially unmarried girls—have begun worrying about their weight and their figures.

In the early post-war days, they worried about their weight also. But then it was with an anxious eye as they saw themselves shrinking away due to food shortages.

Among women, extra-poundage produces the same despair as in New York, London or Paris. Despite the caricature of Germans as stout, full-cheeked people, Berliners favor slim feminine lines.

The fight against fat began when the Soviets lifted their blockade of Berlin. With the restoration of communications with the west, unrationed food-stuffs began to pour into the city.

Having lived mainly on dehydrated food for almost a year Berliners greeted the more wholesome fare with jubilation. New shops opened, store shelves once bare, became loaded.

Scales at subway stations and street corners more than doubled their take since May, when the blockade ended. The average Berliner has gained six pounds, public health officials reported.

But the women are putting up a determined fight.

A sign of the times is the reappearance in newspapers and magazines of advertisements reading "Take off weight quickly without hurting health or well-being." They have been absent from the newspapers since before the war.

Druggists, who admit their over all business is pretty slack, say their anti-fat pill sales are booming.

Despite the worry, "She's Too Fat for Me" continues to be one of the top tunes of the Berlin hit parade.

Rehabilitation Funds To 3 Vet Organizations

The state veterans affairs department decided today how to split up $16,764 for rehabilitation during the next year.

The money will be divided among three veterans organizations. The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars will each get 38 per cent, and the disabled American veterans will be given 24 per cent of the money.

Santa Clara has been unable to defeat California in football since the 7-6 victory of 1942.
