The annual "stagette" party is dated for Wednesday, November 2, as the finale of the season. The affair will begin at 4 o'clock with dinner at 6:30 o'clock, followed by entertainment. Next Wednesday brings the usual women's day and the final golf day will be October 26, reports Mrs. Harold M. Olinger, chairman of the group. For the day's play yesterday, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton won class A; Mrs. Kate Bell, class B; Mrs. Louis Gerlinger, class C.

Garden Club's Anniversary Event

The 35th anniversary of the Salem Garden club was observed at the meeting of the group, Monday. The luncheon preceding the meeting honored past presidents. Mrs. W. E. Anderson gave the club history. Each past president was introduced. For the music, Mrs. Gladys McIntyre sang, accompanied by Miss Alice Cray Brown. Clever placecards were lapel arrangements of chrysanthemums. The club business meeting and program followed the luncheon and were held in the upstairs room of the Salem Woman's club house. Dr. E. J. Kraus of Corvallis was the speaker, discussing early chrysanthemums. Winner of the prize for the best floral arrangement at the meeting was Mrs. Lee Canfield, her arrangement including pom dahlias and delphiniums. Mrs. Kern Mills gave a report on the plans being made for the Christmas greens show.

Several new ideas for meetings have been arranged for the program this year under Mrs. Ben Maxwell as club president. A birthday table is planned, honoring members whose birthdays come the month of the meeting. Also at each meeting there is to be a surprise table. This month's was set up as a picnic table and featured weiners and buns on sticks to represent a flower arrangement. Special prizes at Monday's meeting went to Mrs. Arthur Martin and Mrs. Earl Andersen.
