

Leahy Picks Michigan to Trip Army in Top Grid Go

By FRANK LEAHY
Head Football Coach

University of Notre Dame Football fans throughout the country will focus their attention on the Midwest tomorrow as the central sector becomes host for many of the day's most important games.

Fourteen high ranking teams will be performing within a 400 mile radius of Chicago, and it appears that the Michigan-Army contest at Ann Arbor must be considered first.

A look at the records proves that the "Wolverines" are at their best when the competition is toughest and we predict that Michigan will chalk up their 25th consecutive victory on the morrow.

People who are unable to obtain tickets for the aforementioned game will have to go no farther than Lansing, Michigan to see a contest that will provide them with equally as many thrills.

Our contention is that the eight man line is the best way to combat the split "T" and Michigan state's "Biggie" Munn has perfected that defense to the extent that he will halt the University of Maryland.

Powerful Minnesota will be the winner as Northwestern makes its bid to regain national prominence after losing to Pitt.

Wisconsin's Ivy Williamson is certainly earning early season rights to the "Coach of the Year Trophy" but "Pappy" Waldorf is bringing too much power from California to be sidetracked by the "Badgers."

Slow starting Iowa receives our vote over Illinois while Indiana is defeated by Texas Christian. Remaining midwestern matches favor San Francisco, Dayton and Miami over Detroit, Marshall and Xavier.

But few steps behind in the number of notable games is the far west. Looking for upsets in that area we pick Southern California over Ohio State in a game that may well see the winner going all the way to the Rose Bowl. Having picked U.C.L.A. to win in three upsets thus far this fall we will string along with the "Bruins" as they take on Stanford at Palo Alto. Santa Clara will have to battle before downing a rising Portland university team while Washington and Nevada edge out Oregon State and College of the Pacific.

Texas will give Oklahoma its biggest test of the season before the "Longhorns" bow to Bud Wilkinson's boys who are fast becoming one of the nation's best. Missouri, football's most unfortunate team of the season, is expected to roll over Oklahoma A & M as they prove that their one point losses to Ohio State and Southern Methodist were indications of their real strength.

Baylor will have difficulty as they edge out Arkansas but Denver and Kansas should have easy sledding with Hawaii and George Washington.

Headlining the Southern scene is the Georgia-Kentucky game with Georgia getting the nod. Inter-state competition will be at its keenest as North Carolina downs South Carolina and Florida beats Auburn.

Intra-state struggles foresee Tulane, William and Mary, Virginia and Tennessee, overpowering Southeastern Louisiana college, V.M.I., Virginia Tech, and Chattanooga. Elsewhere in the south our favorites are Alabama, Clemson, North Carolina state, L.S.U., and Vanderbilt over Duquesne, Mississippi state, David-

Dodgers Fool Experts By Lack of Stealing

By RALPH RODEN

New York, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers are fooling the experts. The Brooks were expected to steal the pants off the New York Yankees but so far they have managed to swipe only one base while the Yanks have purloined two.

Pee Wee Reese stole second in the opening game for the Dodgers while Phil Rizzuto and Billy Johnson turned the trick for the Yanks yesterday. Johnson's act of larceny was only his second of the season.

Preacher Roe's brilliant 1-0 shutout over the Yanks yesterday was only the sixth white washing suffered by the Yanks in 84 World Series games.

Lefty Art Nehf shut out the Yanks, 1-0 in 1921 and 1923 for the New York Giants. Jack Scott of the Giants blanked the Yanks, 3-0 in 1922. Jess Haines of the St. Louis Cardinals authored a 4-0 victory in 1926 and Lefty Ernie White of the Cards turned in a 2-0 classic in 1942.

One of the reasons advanced by some for the light hitting in the first two games was the removal of the green canvas screen in the center field bleachers. The screen, up all season, was pulled down in order that 500 more bleacher fans could be accommodated.

Boston College's impressive return to form against Wake Forest causes them to be picked over Penn State. Ivy league leader, Cornell, is expected to continue in the number one spot by downing Harvard, as Pennsylvania and Columbia become runners up subduing Princeton and Yale.

Three eastern teams which have proved the experts wrong quite frequently this fall, Villanova, Pittsburgh, and Brown should continue winning at the expense of St. Mary's, West Virginia, and Rhode Island State. Rounding out our seaboard selections it looks like Dartmouth, Boston University, Wake Forest, and Duke over Holy Cross, Colgate, Georgetown, and Navy.

Uppermost in our minds as we gather in our belongings for tomorrow's trip to Lafayette, Indiana is the genuine scare we received last fall before eking out a 28 to 27 win over Purdue. If the "Boilermakers" Harry Szulborski is ready to go, the spectators will see two of America's best running backs in action as Szulborski and Notre Dame's Emil "six-yard" Sitko vie for ground gaining honors.

Some observers believe that although $500 more dollars was raked in, the hitting suffers.

When the Dodgers scored in the second inning yesterday, it ended a string of 17 consecutive scoreless innings in World Series competition for the Brooks. Exactly two years ago, Oct. 6, 1947, the Dodgers tallied against New York in the second inning of the final game and that was all until Jackie Robinson scampered across.

Of the 20 hits collected by both clubs so far, eight have been for extra basis with each club banging out four 1 on 3 blows apiece.

Tommy Henrich, playing first base for the first time in a World Series, has made 20 putouts, four less than he made in his previous three series as an outfielder.

When Roe struck out pinch-hitter Bobby Brown in the eighth, the Dodgers evened an old score. Brown batted 1.000 against the Dodgers two years ago with three pinch-hit safeties.

Good Skiing on Hand for Week-end
Portland, Ore., Oct. 7 (AP) This week-end will offer the first good skiing of the season.
With nearly 20 inches of snow at Timberline Lodge at Mt. Hood, William Caswell, acting manager of the lodge, said all ski facilities would be in operation Saturday and Sunday. Chains will be needed to reach the lodge.
In other parts of Oregon, over 10 inches of snow covered the McKenzie pass highway. Five inches was on the Santiam pass highway. Thursday afternoon snow plows were working all Cascade highways.
