AUTO OWNERS BAFFLED

Paint on Cars Peels; Gulf Hurricane Blamed

Shreveport, La., Oct. 8 (AP)—Paint mysteriously peeled from automobiles in widely separated areas of the south and southwest.

Baffled automobile owners in Louisiana and Arkansas reported hundreds of cars were damaged.

The only explanation—and that only a guess at this stage—was that the recent gulf hurricane had borne to the mainland some mystery substance that reacted on the paint.

In Little Rock, Ark., one automobile dealer reported that all of his cars had "broken out into a rash." Eruptions, about the size of "goose pimples," caused the paint to be pitted down to the raw metal.

The damage, he said, is caused by terrific wind pressure and not chemical reaction. He said the theory is that a falling barometer sets up pressure beneath the paint film that "sucks up" blisters.

Nelson Confronted By Second Charge

Orvil E. Nelson, who was taken to district court Saturday by a sheriff's deputy for arraignment on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses, found himself faced with a second similar charge before he was taken back to jail pending further action.

Nelson was recognized by a Salem detective who recalled having a warrant for his arrest on a check charge which had been pending for months. That warrant was brought to court, and served there.

Nelson pleaded innocent. His bail was set at $1000 on each charge.

Oregon Solons Vote Against 90% Parity

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—Pacific northwest senators voted solidly yesterday with the majority as the senate rejected an amendment calling for mandatory price supports at 90 per cent of parity on basic farm crops, cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts.

Listed as voting against the amendment were republican Senators Morse and Cordon of

2 Zoning Bills Get Hearing

The city council Monday night will have before it for final action an amendment to the taxicab license ordinance, two proposed zone changes, a railroad spur franchise, and street assessment ordinances totaling $24,735.22.

Public hearing will be held on the two zoning bills.

The taxicab bill leaves the annual license fee at $50 a year per cab as at present, but makes it all payable in advance. Under the present act half may be paid January 1 and half July 1. Under the new bill if a license is obtained after July 1 a charge of $25 is made to the first of the year.

One of the public hearings will be on a zone change from Class I to Class II residential at Rural and University in Yew Park annex to permit the establishment of a two-unit dwelling. The other will pertain to the proposal of Don Young to build an office building between the Court apartments and the YMCA on Court street. The change would make the zone Class III-X.

The proposed Oregon Electric spur, for which an ordinance will be up for third reading, would be to accommodate a new warehouse for which Wallace Bonesteels has obtained a permit.

Street assessment ordinances on the calendar for final action are:

Improvement of Hickory from Valpak road to Brooks street, $7992.15; 15th street from Norway to Jefferson, $1431.48; Alice avenue from Commercial to Mountain View drive, $10,036.01; North 15th from Jefferson to Madison, $1602.14; North 22nd from D street to Nebraska, $3673.44.

Senate Rests On Farm Bill

Washington, Oct. 8 (AP)—The senate took a short breather today in its efforts to pass a new farm bill, after accepting the flexible price support program it once had rejected.

A late-hour tangle on amendments last night put off final action until Monday, following the 45 to 26 defeat of an attempt to write in a high-support provision for basic crops.

That provision—calling for government price props at 90 per cent of parity for such farm products as cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts—has had a checkered history in this session of congress.

It is the keystone of a house-approved measure which the senate thus far has ignored in favor of a bill written by Senator Anderson (D-N.M.). The Anderson bill calls for supports of basic crops varying from 75 to 90 per cent, depending on available supplies.

Last Tuesday, Senators Young (R-N.D.) and Russell (D-Ga.) asked the senate to throw out Anderson's flexible support plan for the 90 per cent provision. The senate turned that down.

Then it voted to reconsider. On the second vote, it approved the Young-Russell amendment on a tie which was broken by the vote of Vice President Barkley. Harried senate leaders succeeded in having the bill returned to the agriculture committee for rewriting.

Salem Heights Club Arranges Reception

Salem Heights, Oct. 8—Mrs. George Beane was hostess to the executive board of the Salem Heights Mothers club in her home on E. Browning avenue.

Plans were made for the teachers' reception to be held Wednesday, October 19, at the school library. Mrs. Ralph Nohlgren was named as chairman and Mrs. John Ramage as her assistant.

The date for the harvest festival was set for November 4.

Annual income per U.S. family increased from $2,900 in 1920 to $5,600 in 1948.

Express Rate Boost Protested

Several Oregon producers opposed an increase in railway express rates of 10 per cent on certain commodities when the state public utilities commission held a hearing Friday into application of the Railway Express company for the rate boost.

Public Utilities Commissioner George H. Flagg said the application would be taken under advisement and a decision on the rate increase would be announced, probably in about a month.

The interstate commerce commission already has approved the application and the express company is asking each of the 48 states to approve the increase.

R. W. Gray of Medford, representing the Holmes Brothers Packing Co. and eight other firms of Medford; Lloyd Lee of Lee's Hatchery, Salem, and others opposed the proposed increase on grounds it would cut substantially the shipping radius and number of sales for their products.

The express company contended that cuts in employees' work week and the subsequent additional workers needed, plus a seven cent an hour wage boost had increased expenses from 10 to 15 per cent.

The rate boost was asked on only one class of shipping, including fish, fruits, vegetables, nuts, butter, eggs, cheese, fresh meats and poultry, bakery goods, beer and non-alcoholic beverages.

The Medford firms, shippers of fresh fruits in gift packages, said the proposed boost would cut sharply into the quantity of their shipments. Lee said the increase would eliminate shipping of hatching eggs outside of Oregon and would shorten the radius of shipments within the state.

Albany Boy Wins Grand Champ Fleece

Portland, Oct. 8 (AP)—Judging contests began today at the Pacific International Livestock exposition for 4-H club and FFA members.

The annual show opened last night with first awards going to Oregon wool exhibitors.

J. F. Short, Redmond, had the grand championship fleece. He also won last year. Bill Case, Albany, entered the grand champion 4-H fleece. Dave Lingberg, Pendleton, had the top FFA fleece.

Ding Dong Dad In Trouble Again

San Francisco, Oct. 8 (AP)—Francis Van Wie, the Ding Dong Daddy of the D Car Line whose multiple marriages cost him a stretch in San Quentin, is having marital troubles again.

Mrs. Mary Ava Van Wie, 49—the 13th, 14th or possibly the 21st wife of the ex-municipal railway conductor—appeared before Superior Judge Herbert C. Kaufman today and complained her bridegroom of three weeks is acting surly, drinking too much and definitely not a loving husband.

The latest Mrs. Van Wie said she did not want a divorce, but asked the judge, who married the couple, if he would "straighten my husband out and make him stop treating me so badly."

Kaufman, who presided at the bigamy trial which resulted in Van Wie spending two years in prison, promised he would speak to the pudgy, 63-year-old Van Wie and advised Mrs. Van Wie to try to make a go of her marriage.

Kaufman last month revoked a probation provision which forbade Van Wie to marry for five years so that the Ding Dong Daddy could embark on his latest marital venture.

Van Wie admitted at the marriage ceremony he didn't know how many times he has been married.

"Well, to be honest with you, I don't rightly know," he told reporters. "I think his makes the 14th or maybe the 20th."

Hunters Trapped By Idaho Snow

Twin Falls, Ida., Oct. 8 (AP)—A heavy snowstorm struck the northern Rocky Mountain area early today, trapping hundreds of hunters and many women and children in the wilderness.

Snow was still falling as militiamen, rangers and deputies searched in canyons and isolated forests for victims caught in the out-of-season storm with little food and inadequate clothing.

An airplane carrying four persons was missing in the storm area.

The heavy fall was more than 16 inches deep in some localities and measured at least a foot in many upland sections of Montana, Wyoming, Utah, northern Colorado, and the eastern sections of Washington, Oregon and Nevada.

Weather expert W. M. Percy at Chicago said light snow might extend eastward into the Dakotas and Nebraska later today.

He emphasized that the storm, while heavy, was "far below blizzard proportions" because it was not accompanied by a sharp dip in temperatures and high winds which would cause the snow to blow and drift.

The storm struck just at the opening of the area's deer and elk season and wardens said "the woods are chock full of people unaccounted for."

Two hundred of the 1000 machines averaged a daily "take" of 85 1/2 cents as compared to the 35-cent income from the one-hour meters. A one-hour meter costs a motorist 5 cents, while the two-hour variety costs 20 cents.

Seek to Save Access Independence Span

County Judge Grant Murphy Saturday directed a letter to the state highway commission asking to negotiate with the contractors building the new Independence bridge over the Willamette in regard to saving an access bridge to the right of way the contractors constructed for use in connection with bridge building.

The judge said he considered that the supplemental bridge, which leads to the right of way on which the new main bridge is being built, will probably be of value to Marion and Polk counties for use in cleaning away drift and debris which may collect against the piers of the big bridge in high water times, and also serve a useful purpose on other occasions in getting to the right of way. It is not sought to preserve the bridge for public use but merely as a service structure for the county road crews.
