

Yuma Endurance Fliers Set Mark—Shortly before they equalled the record for endurance in their light plane, Bob Woodhouse and Woody Jongeward took on another load of gas. The previous mark was 1,008 hours. The men hope to keep flying another week. Refueling is done from a car travelling 80 miles per hour. (AP Wirephoto.)

Justice Douglas Mending Slowly

Yakima, Wash., Oct. 10 (AP)—U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas was reported mending steadily today, six days after he suffered 13 rib fractures and a lung puncture when his horse rolled on him. He is expected to be able to leave the hospital here within a week or 10 days. His brother, Arthur, head of the Statler hotel chain, visited Douglas briefly yesterday.

Liberty Shows Little Interest in Scouting

Liberty—The Liberty Community club was called to order by Wayne Blaco. Mrs. Harold Rosebraugh introduced Principal Marion Miller, vice principal, Louis Bartlett, teachers, Mrs. Mary Lovett, Mrs. Robert Hammond, Miss Agnes Palmer, and Mrs. Florence Whelan. Clark Lethin spoke on organizing a Scout and Cub troop, and Robert Hammond offered to be the Scout master. The boys present were not interested in a scout troop and the parents showed lack of interest by not attending the meeting, although it is felt that a Boy Scout troop

Green Stamps Case On Trial

On trial before Circuit Judge George R. Duncan, is the case of The Sperry & Hutchinson company vs. Maurice Hudson, corporation commissioner, and George Neuner, attorney general, with a heavy array of attorneys present. The company is resisting an opinion of the attorney general to the corporation commission to the effect that the "green trading stamps," which the plaintiff states are in use in over 1000 Oregon stores, are "securities" and come under the purview of the Blue Sky law. The attorney general ruled that these stamps must be registered with the corporation commissioner as securities under the law.

This the company denies and asks the court for a declaratory judgment. The company asserts that these stamps are used in ordinary commercial transactions and it never was the intent of the legislature in passing the blue sky law to include such tokens. In fact, the plaintiff company contends there are numerous other similar tokens used not coming under the law and to enforce it against the plaintiff would be discriminatory.

The company avers that use of the stamps is merely a method of discounting bills for cash and are the customer's evidence of cash payments for retail pur-

Chest Campaign Ready for Polk

Dallas — Community Chest drive in Polk county will start in some sections early next week, according to Oscar Christensen, Monmouth, chairman, who has been organizing the drive all around the county this week.

A kickoff breakfast will open the campaign in Dallas at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, Hal Martin, Dallas chairman, announces. Lions club and Chamber of Commerce solicitors will leave the breakfasts. They state that the stamps are sold to merchants on a basis of $15 for 5000 stamps.

fast and begin soliciting in the community with hopes to conduct a speedy drive. Heading the Lions workers will be Jack Eakin and in charge of a Chamber of Commerce team will be Jack Crider. In Monmouth, a luncheon is planned for Monday to initiate the campaign. Elwayne Lieulien, registrar at Oregon College of Education, is chairman here. In other sections of the county, chairmen are being chosen and plans made. Ray Herbst will lead the Independence solicitation with the goal placed at $1750. Bert Keck has accepted the chairmanship at Grand Ronde, which was one of the few communities to achieve its local goal last year. Carleton Brown, last year's general chairman, is working in the Brush College-Zena area. Mrs. Hershel Wait will head the drive at Rickreall, and Mrs. Irvin York has agreed to contact residents in the area between the Oak Knoll golf course and Holman state park. Quota for the county drive is $12,000, and it is hoped to subscribe an additional $500 for the USO.
