Shovel Rock Problem—Engineer Bryant for the Aumsville soil conservation district has reported to the county court that he is working out the conservation problem at the Bartle place above Shaw they have encountered a rock formation about 100 feet long that is giving difficulty and asked for use of the county air compressor. He asked the county to send a man to look at the place, and if found to involve a county road problem to loan the compressor, or if it doesn't rent it for use there. The place will be looked at but court members said the compressor is now so busy it is doubtful if it can be spared.

Lights Call Officers—Ralph Lee, Route 1, Brooks, advised the sheriff's office over the week-end a light was on in a vacant house he owns across from his residence. Neighbors also advised that a light was on the Dave Pugh place in the Keizer district and the family away from home. Investigations in each case showed lights on as indicated, but otherwise results were negative.

Man and Car Collide—George Ernest, 65, pedestrian, and an automobile driven by Harland Dale Brock, 565 Oxford street, collided Sunday morning at North Liberty and Center, but Ernest got only minor injuries. Paddle Only Power Symbol

The paddle is becoming more and more a symbol of authority and less a weapon of punishment in connection with the putting into place of freshmen at Willamette university. The practice of dealing out punishment to the yearlings by the upper classes as a hit or miss program has been frowned on for several years by the university authorities and the "Kangaroo Court," is supposed to constitute the sum substance of each year's hazing.

During the recent session of the "Court" the paddle was in evidence but its application to male members of the freshman class was apparently more in line of keeping tradition alive than in an attempt to raise blisters where they would be the most bothersome.

National fraternities with chapters on the Willamette campus have forbidden the paddle type of initiation and few violations have been in evidence. Willamette administrative officers are endeavoring to break up the practice of sporadic outbursts between freshmen and upper classes because injuries have resulted from such battles. Tossing of students into the mill stream is also being frowned on. The stream's water is far from being pure and those who are thrown into the stream some times are injured by coming in contact with broken glass and other objects on the bottom.

Car Looted—Sherman Sundeen, 243 South Winter, reported to Salem police that thieves had smashed a door handle on his car and removed a jacket and set of tools.

Shot Heard—Salem police were called Saturday night to investigate the sound of a gunshot near 305 North 25th street. It was reported by Mrs. A. E. Bean.

Prowlers Busy—Reports of losses to a prowler at 195 South 24th street were under investigation by Salem police Monday following two separate accounts. Monday, it was learned that Mrs. Lloyd Smith had lost a wrist watch to the room prowler. Saturday, Mary Kowitz and Ledona Hamilton reported the loss of a sweater, rhinestone bracelet and necklace set and cigarettes.

Conservationists Called—Austin Sanford, Silver Creek soil conservationist who makes his headquarters in Silverton, will speak at a three-day convention at WSC at Pullman, Wash., which begins Wednesday. Farmers of the local conservation district are meeting at the Washington Irving school building in Silverton Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. E. C. Betke, local district conservation assistant, plans to attend the western Oregon district conference at Clatskanie Wednesday.

Traffic Checks Held—A traffic and pedestrian check between Monmouth and Independence was made last week by the state highway department to determine the advisability of constructing a sidewalk between the two cities.

Dearing Rites Held—Final rites for Mrs. Nellie Dearing, an aunt of Loren B. Glover, Jr., of Salem, were held at the St. Johns funeral home Monday afternoon with private services at the Portland crematorium. She was born in Wyocof, Minn., April 20, 1874 and came to Oregon 66 years ago, making her home in the St. John's district for 44 years where she operated a grocery store.

Keizer Water Issue Settled

A water problem which has been pestering the Keizer area at the junction of the North River and the Chemawa road is now a thing of the past, County Commissioner Ed Rogers reported to the county court Monday.

He said that the difficulty which existed on the Chemawa road just east of the North River road has been cured by installation of tile and removal of some rock which will carry surplus water to the east. The matter has been complained about by petitions and hearings in the past. It was stated that merchants in building up a solid line of stores at the place had removed an old ditch, or drainage tile and caused water to collect on the Chemawa road at nearly every rainy period so it covered most of the road and created a hazard to school children, traffic and pedestrians generally.

No Decision by CAB on Airline

Civil Aeronautics Board has made no decision on the site for the hearing of the show cause order on United Air Lines and West Coast Airlines affecting Salem.

That information was received Monday by the Capital Journal in a communique from Francis W. Brown, chief examiner for the civil aeronautics board.

Brown, replying to a letter from the Capital Journal dated September 23, 1949, suggesting a Pacific coast location for the hearing, advised the paper that his request would be taken into consideration in assigning the hearing in the light of the board's budgetary limitations.

The show cause hearing by the CAB will determine whether United Air Lines service to Salem will be discontinued by the CAB and West Coast, a feeder line, designated to replace the UAL service to this city.

Industrial Supervisors—The executive committee of the Industrial Supervisors club will convene at 8 o'clock Monday night at the YMCA to outline activities for the year. George Porter, director of the adult education program of the Salem public schools, will discuss the possibility of setting up a course in industrial supervision and Ralph Nohlgren, prominent in toastmaster circles, will explain the benefit to be derived from a course in public speaking.

Armory Repairs Due—Bids for repairing and painting the interior walls of the Dallas armory have been invited by the state board of control with figures to be received by Roy Mills, secretary, until 2 o'clock October 18.

Police Turn Cowboys—Salem police turned cowboys Sunday in an effort to assist Clarke Brown, 1240 North 24th, in rounding up a horse which broke loose. The animal was corralled by 5:15 p.m., and in the search for the animal, police managed to corral a vagrant found sleeping in a barn.

Looks Over Birthday Cake—William James Bannister was very pleased over the birthday cake marking his second birthday anniversary Saturday. The party was given at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Daniel. William James won renown for his size when born, weighing in at 11 pounds, 9 ounces, and he has kept right on being a big boy, weighing 34 pounds now at the age of 2 and measuring 30 inches in height. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bannister, Jr., of Portland. The anniversary was October 7 and also marked the parents' wedding anniversary and the grandfather's birthday.

Richard Carter Monday entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of unlawful management of a motor craft when he appeared before Circuit Judge R. Duncan and the jurist continued the case of a trial date which will probably be early in December.

Carter is alleged by the state to have, on May 30, endangered the lives and limbs of William James Staats, Louise Feller, DeLores Taft and Carl R. Staats by running in motor boat in front of a craft operated by Carl R. Staats and causing it to capsize.

Carter recently was released from jail after a larceny sentence and also was acquitted in a circuit court trial on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property. Bruce Williams who appeared for him in the latter case is also appearing as his attorney in the present one.

Ray Clifford Bruus up for entering a plea on a charge of attempting to obtain money by false pretenses by allegedly trying to pass a $40 check at the Vince Electric store was granted continuance to Thursday on request of his attorney, John Steelhammer. Bruus is said to be wanted in Minnesota.

Thieves Ransack 2 Salem Churches
Police were called Monday morning to investigate the ransacking of two Salem churches which were smashed into by would-be thieves.

The First Methodist and First Christian churches were the victims of the breaking and entering activities.

Offices at the First Christian church were entered, one of them forcibly, by burglars who broke out a door panel. So far as detectives could determine, nothing of value was taken.

The burglars were apparently intent upon securing funds from Sunday offerings.

Additional Sports
Portlanders Hit Underdog Cards With 33-7 Score
The Columbia Prep Crusaders of Portland drove hard to a 33-7 victory Saturday night over the underdog Sacred Heart Academy Cardinals coached by Father John O'Callaghan.

The Cards' lone touchdown came in the final four minutes of the game when Clark Ecker on an end-around play behind five-man interference galloped 32 yards to paydirt for the Cards. Jim Wiemals then bucked over for the extra point.

Scoring in every quarter, the Crusaders were ahead 14-0 at the end of the first period. At half time the score was 21-0. Reserves played most of the second half for the prep team and the Sacred Heart second string saw action in the final quarter.

3 Marion Boys Win Top Honors

Portland, Oct. 10 (AP)—The top honors in 4-H club livestock at the Pacific International Livestock exposition judging went to Marion county and Klamath county teams.

Three Salem boys competing for the first time—Lewis Patterson, 14, Wayne Goode, 16, and Marshall Jelderks, 14—won blue awards. They were members of the Middlegrove Pig club.

The Klamath group to win blue awards were Stuart Henzel, Patti Smith, and Kathleen Wilson.

The 4-H club beef showman championship was won for the third straight year by 18-year-old Elinor Corning of Richland, Ore. Betty Graves, Heppner, won the senior Shorthorn showmanship.

Three Bend boys—Dick Burton, 13, Tom Burton, 15, and Haley Prichard, 14—won the poultry judging.

Second place blue ribbon winner was a Josephine county team. Members were Robert Phillips, 14; Dan Phillips, 16, and Fred Hale, 14, all of Grants Pass.

Red ribbons went to the Lane county team of Bill Buring, Marvin Keeler and Eldon Powell and to the Umatilla county team of Adrian Townsend, Claudette Sherlock and Norman Sherlock.

Bombing

"We'd like to have you tell the committee," he said, "why so many people were killed when the first one was dropped in Japan."

Tatom took the witness chair to cap testimony from navy fliers and radar experts that Russia undoubtedly has both the warning system and the fighters needed to intercept bombers like the B-29.

Another witness was Abraham Hyatt, head of the aviation design research branch of the navy's bureau of aeronautics.

They continued before the house armed services committee the navy's barrage against a defense policy that puts so much of military funds into the giant, six-engine bomber.

Comdr. W. I. Martin, executive officer of the Pacific fleet all-weather training unit at Barbers Point, Hawaii, likened the 8-36 to a "moving van." It is "unacceptably vulnerable" to night fighter attack, he contended.

Johnson Denies

"Each service not only is perfecting its own training and organization," he said, "but is learning to play its part on a unified team—more suited for the conditions of modern warfare."

He said each branch has "great pride in its own men and its own weapons. But there is also a deep and growing apprehension for the job of the other fellow."

Johnson devoted a major portion of his speech to praising the AFL's part in pushing war production during the last war and in helping develop free trade unions abroad and democratic movements since then.

Meantime, better labor peace in the construction industry was assured with settlement of a long-standing jurisdictional dispute between two key American Federation of Labor unions.

An agreement climaxing several years of negotiations has been reached during sessions of the annual AFL convention here, it was learned.

State Workers

As an example of the increased wage effect, Johnson said that the situation among the engineers and similar technical workers had now stabilized. This type of employee was given a generous wage increase under the wage scale approved by the last legislature. The pay paid to such workers, Johnson said, was now much closer to the wage paid by private industry. The same situation is true among game commission biologists, doctors in the state institutions and similarly highly technical workers.

These two Characters are trying to get a show started. Ray Loter is looking for talent in a juke box while Verner Addkins tears his hair out trying to write a few lines for the Varsity Varieties, which opens next Saturday, October 15, at 8 p.m., in the high school auditorium. Part of the proceeds of the show will be added to the Community Chest. The vaudeville show will top off the Campus Chest drive and Willamette university's International week.

Students Start Chest Drive

Students of Willamette university opened their campus Chest drive with the ringing of the W.U. victory bell Monday.

Campus Chest, an affiliate of the Salem Community Chest, will contribute part of its funds to the Salem Chest.

To highlight the five-day drive the students will again present their former success of the past, the vaudeville "Varsity Varieties," and receipts from the show will go to the campus Chest for division to the campus Y and YWCA, the cancer drive, March of Dimes, the World Student Service fund, and the Salem Community Chest.

Tickets for the show will be on sale in downtown stores and at the box office for the vaudeville, which opens Saturday, October 15, at 8:30 in the high school auditorium.

Ray Loter is to direct and produce the show and act as master of ceremonies. The program will include musical numbers, orchestral arrangements, and soap opera satires, as well as dancing.

Annexation

The mayor favors also the annexation of the large area southeast of the city on which the people both in the city and in that district will vote next Friday.

"The district will undoubtedly come in some time," he said, and it might just as well be now, so the city can plan accordingly."

While talking on the subject of city expansion the mayor ventured the prediction that the 1950 federal census will show the population of Salem nearer 60,000 than 55,000.

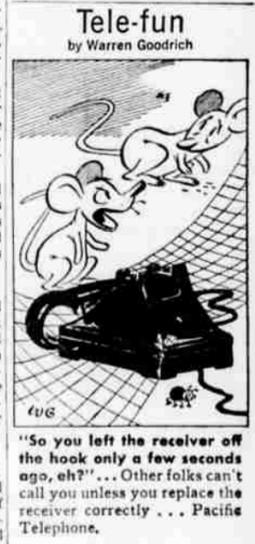

Also he predicted Salem will have 100,000 people within its city limits by 1970, and the city's area, by future annexations, will be nearly twice as big as it is now.

Fall Festival Friday—The fall festival of the Keizer Cub Scout Mothers' club will be held at the Grange hall Friday with booths to be arranged and refreshments sold. Plans were completed last week at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Roger Morse.

Grange Club Invited—Mrs. W. Welch and Mrs. Alpha Michael will be hostesses to members of the Macleay Grange Home Economics club at the Grange hall Wednesday afternoon.
