Drive-in Store Now Operating

A new idea in grocery stores went into operation in Salem Tuesday with the opening of the 10-11 Drive-in market on South Commercial next to the Safeway store.

The store has been started by Steve Fouchek, an attorney of Salem, but the manager is Bill Hoagland.

It is a car-hop service. You drive in. An attendant meets you and takes your order, and delivers the parcels to your car. It is believed to be the first of the kind on the west coast.

The market gets its name because business starts at 10 a.m. and closes at 11 p.m. seven days a week.

About three years ago Fouchek started Barb's Sports Goods store, which is located on South High street.

Sherlock Holmes Is Fined in Courtroom

London, Oct. 12 (AP)—Sherlock Holmes was in court today as a defendant. He had to pay $9.90 for using a radio set without a license.

The post office department, which handles broadcasting matters here, sent a radio detection van touring neighborhoods to check radio sets in use against a list of persons who had paid their radio license.

Holmes was using a set and his name wasn't on the license list.

Elementary, my dear Watson.

Japanese Missions Call Miss Vincent

Monmouth — A missionary commission was held in the Baptist church for Miss Mae Vincent, who sailed as a missionary and teacher to Japan from Portland. Miss Mildred Miyashita, a Japanese girl, who is visiting her parents in Hawaii, will join Miss Vincent to work with her in Japan.

Miss Vincent is the daughter of Walter Vincent of Philomath, former residents of Monmouth.

Miss Vincent came to Monmouth for her education at Oregon College of Education and then taught until she joined the navy and served there two years. She went to Chicago to Northern Baptist seminary for training where she met Miss Miyashita and they were accepted as missionaries. They are going out under the G.I. Far Eastern Crusade.

45,000 More Men Wanted

Throughout the nation during the period from September 19 to November 19 an effort is being made to recruit an additional 45,000 men between the ages of 17-34 for the National Guard.

In Salem, Company B, 162nd Infantry Regiment has as its goal the recruitment of 51 men, which will bring the unit up to full strength of 110 enlisted men. It already has its six officers.

Carrying on the drive here are six teams, headed by squad leaders. The teams are now engaged in a contest that will result in an all expense trip to the Oregon State-Michigan football game in Portland November 21, for members of the winning team.

In charge of the contest is the project officer for recruiting Lt. Louis L. Osborn.

Drawing attention to the advantages of belonging to the National Guard the local company, commanded by Captain Burl Cox, points out that National Guardsmen get part-time military training at home with regular army or air force equipment.

In addition to increasing their skills and working toward a retirement pay at no cost to themselves, members of the National Guard also receive regular army pay for their weekly drills and their summer training period. Open to them also are a number of specialty courses and service schools.
