Oregon-USC Clash Spells End of Bowl Hope for One

Southern California Trojans tangle tomorrow in a Pacific coast conference football game that probably will mean the end of the Rose Bowl road for one of them.

Each team has lost one con ference game but the victor in what figures to be a close, bruising contest can still be counted as a challenger for the title and the New Year's day

USC officials hope for a turnout of 40,000 but admit the crowd may be smaller. Oregon, co-defending champion, dropped a surprise ver-dict to UCLA Oct. 1 but Coach Jim Aiken since then has tightened his defense to go along with a good but tricky offense spearheaded by Full-back Bob Sanders, one of the best in the loop, and Half-back Woodley Lewis, an elu-sive broken field runner and touchdown return specialist.
