New Year's Committees in Lions Auxiliary Named

Standing committees for the new year in the Salem Lions club auxiliary were named by the president, Mrs. Wayne Doughton, when the group met last evening at the home of Mrs. John M. Ramage for the season's first gathering for the group. The committees include the following:

Party Saturday

Young Matrons club members are sponsoring a "hobo party" next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Mayflower hall. The Halloween theme will be featured. There will be dancing and games, and refreshments will be served.

On the committee for the event are Mrs. James Lies, Mrs. Floyd McNeil, Mrs. Norman Lynn, Mrs. W. C. Cross and Mrs. John M. Meier.

Brands to Go to College Reception

Justice and Mrs. James T. Brand will be among those attending the reception for which Mr. and Mrs. E. B. MacNaughton will entertain Sunday afternoon to honor the Reed college faculty and alumni. The event will be in the Faculty lounge at the college between 4 and 6 o'clock.

Justice Brand is chairman of the college board of regents. Mrs. Brand will be among those pouring the first hour of the reception.

SIGMA KAPPA Mothers' club met for a no-host luncheon.

Tuesday, at Nohlgrøn's. Those attending were Mrs. W. G. Burris, Mrs. D. G. DeSart, Mrs. Forest Holmes of Dallas, Mrs. A. H. Fish, Mrs. F. B. Crandall, Mrs. R. J. Davey, Mrs. R. G. Lively, Mrs. A. F. Marcus, Mrs. G. A. Reher, Mrs. Vern McMullen, Mrs. Lester Newman. Mrs. McMullen, president, gave an account of her recent trip by plane to New York City. The next meeting is to be held at Benton hotel tea room, Corvallis, November 15.

MOTORING to Dallas last evening to attend a meeting of Sigma Kappa alumnae at the home of Mrs. Delbert Hunter were Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Allan Johnson, Mrs. E. E. Beckman and Mrs. Frank De Witt.

Halloween Parties Soon

Parties abound on All Saints' Eve, and colorful parties they are, with gay crepe paper trimmings, orange pumpkins and autumn foliage for decoration. Ducking for apples and trying to bite the elusive apple on a string and many other Halloween stunts are strenuous, so be prepared for a hungry and thirsty crowd of youngsters. Plenty of hot dogs, rolls, doughnuts and a good beverage will satisfy healthy appetites. Use Halloween decorated paper plates and mugs and serve your beverage from a large pitcher.

Ginger ale is always a popular drink at parties. Put six cups of orange juice in a tall pitcher, fill the pitcher with ginger ale and decorate with orange and lime slices. A pitcher of grape juice and ginger ale, half and half, makes a delicious drink. With citrus fruit juices as a base, here is a good drink for children.

Campus Clippings UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

By CHARLOTTE ALEXANDER

The Oregon sophomore has taken on a new look. No longer do we see a shaved lad, but the look of the woodcutter has appeared. The "Sophomore Whiskerino" is in view, and many committees have been busy getting it organized. Jeanne Hoffman has been working on the Betty-Coed and Joe College selection. Roger Middleton is one of the finalists for Joe-College. The lucky boy who grows the best beard, will get a free shave at the dance, October 28 is the date for the dance and Les Brown's orchestra will provide the music.

Entertainment galore as well as noise and spirit were shown at McArthur court last Friday evening. Oregon students turned out in mass for the rally before the Colorado-Oregon game. Since the men got tired of going around and picking up the women, the situation was reversed, and the women escorted members of the men's houses to the rally.

Saturday was perfect day for the game, cool crisp weather, and lots of pom poms to add color in the grandstand. Bend high school provided us with entertainment during the half, which was very enjoyable to watch. Salem fans were also on hand. Among them were Mayor and Mrs. Robert L. Elstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bonesteel, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stadler, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kirk, and Rev. and Mrs. George H. Swift.

Switching from the masculine sport of football, the Kappas and Pi Phis again met Sunday in their annual "Lipstick Bowl." The pass happy Phi Phis edged out the Kappa crew 8 to 6. Well-drilled rally squads were on hand to cheer their teams.

"Gals, Guys, Textbooks," were all available for the annual Associated Women Students auction held Wednesday. The Delta Gamma freshmen and the Kappa Sigma were slated as the ones "to go on the block." The highest bidder was able to employ their services as table waiters and entertainers. Proceeds for this go toward the A.W.S. scholarships.

The sweetheart of Sigma Chi will be one of the 42 freshmen girls whose names have been entered by the 21 living organizations. Half of the candidates were entertained by the Sigma Chi's on Wednesday evening, and the other half the following Wednesday. This contest is one in which everyone on the campus is always anxious to see the outcome.

Dental Assistants Will Start Classes

First of the fall classes, the certification course, for the Capital City Dental Assistants society, will be Monday evening in Salem senior high school, room 217, Dr. L. P. Campbell, Jr., as instructor. The course will be given Monday evenings between 7 and 9 o'clock.

The regular monthly dinner and business meeting for the assistants and their guests will be next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Golden Pheasant. Delegates are to give reports from the recent national convention.

Couple Honored on 30th Anniversary

Mrs. R. W. Nusom and Mrs. A. W. Nusom were hostesses for a buffet supper party Sunday evening, the occasion being the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Stafford.

A centerpiece of fall flowers and tall candelabras provided the decorative note for the buffet table. The evening was spent informally. The guest list included: Mr. and Mrs. Julian De Jardin, Stayton, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Walker and Gilbert of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Felton of Waconda, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bressler, Mrs. Berta Becker, Mrs. Rosa Cole, Mrs. Susan Remington, Mr. Dale Nusom, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Goodenough, all of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Brundidge of Woodburn.

Faculty Group Is Entertained

Willamette faculty women's group gathered for its first event of the fall Thursday afternoon, Mrs. G. Herbert Smith being hostess to the group at University house.

About 70 enjoyed the afternoon and tea. Mrs. Robert Fenix and Mrs. Harry T. Morris assisted Mrs. Smith.

At the tea hour, Mrs. Roy M. Lockenour, president of the faculty women's group, poured and Mrs. Earl Brown served the ices. The tea table was especially beautiful, carrying out the autumn and harvest theme. The table was set with a dark green cloth, caught up in the corners with bronze chrysanthemums. Tall bronze tapers in green pottery holders and a Sheffield place cake basket filled with fruits and flowers were arranged on the table.

The faculty women meet the third Thursday of each month.
