Miss Sims Bride On October 23

Hubbard — Miss Bernell Sims, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Sims of Hubbard was wed to Leonard Lowrie, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Lowrie of route 1, Hubbard, in a single ring ceremony performed by Rev. John G. Dickey in the Hubbard Congregational church, Sunday, October 23 at 2:30 p.m. before a large gathering of friends and relatives. The church was beautifully decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. William Lowrie presided at the piano and played "Ave Maria" and "Always" and accompanied Mrs. Cecil Parks, who sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a traditional white satin wedding gown trimmed with nylon net. She wore a fingertip veil held in place with a headpiece of seed pearls. She was accompanied to the altar by her brother, Alonzo Sims. Her flowers were a bouquet of pink rosebuds surrounding three gardenias.

Mrs. Arbie Irwin was her sister's only attendant. She wore a gown of pink rayon marquisette and carried a nosegay of pink rosebuds and other small flowers.

Little Edith Wirth and Thelma Lowrie were flower girls, carrying small nosegays of pink rosebuds and were gowned in pink and white silk, respectively, with pink and blue hair bows and sashes.

Arbie Irwin was best man and ushers were Cecil Parks and Walter Lowrie.

The bride's mother wore an afternoon dress of blue and a corsage of gardenias and rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore an afternoon dress of aqua with a corsage of gardenias and rosebuds.

Easy Halloween Dishes

New York (U.P.) — Parents who worry about keeping their youngsters out of mischief on Halloween get a lot of moral support these days.

There is even a national committee to help worry. The National Halloween committee, operating from an office here, puts out suggestions for games and food that will keep the children in the living room and off the streets.

Food is a sure-fire inducement for the little fellows or for the teen-agers. The promise of fancy refreshments has lured many a mischief-bound prankster into a supervised party.

The Halloween committee favors simple, imaginative doughnut variations for the party refreshments. A doughnut is slit in half, a scoop of ice cream is added to the bottom half, then the other doughnut half placed on top. Caramel or chocolate sauce poured over the dessert, plus nuts, makes a dish rich enough to delight any youngster.

Cookies and cider are an easy way to feed a large party. The simpler the cookie recipe the better.

Nut Cookies
INGREDIENTS: 2 cups sifted flour; 2 teasp. baking powder; 1/2 teas. salt; 1 cup chopped nut meats; 1/2 cup shortening; 1 cup brown sugar; 2 eggs (well beaten); 1/4 cup milk; 1 teas. vanilla.

METHOD: Sift together sifted flour, baking powder and salt. Add chopped nut meats. Cream together shortening and brown sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and mix thoroughly. Add flour mixture alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Add vanilla and mix until smooth. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 10 minutes. Recipe makes six dozen small cookies.

If the Halloween party is planned for just a few teen-agers, you might have them over for a filling, one-dish supper with games later.

Spaghetti Supper Special
INGREDIENTS: 1 tbsp. fat; 4 loin pork chops; 1 garlic clove, minced; 1 No. 2 can tomatoes; 1 6-ounce can tomato paste; 1/4 teas. ground clove; 3 1/2 teasp.

Workshops At Conclave

Portland, Oct. 26 (Special)—The fourth day of Camp Fire Girls national triennial conference at the Hotel Multnomah, Portland, got under way this morning with workshop sessions for leaders of the organization's three age groups—Blue Birds, 7 to 10; Camp Fire Girls, 10 to 15; and Horizon club for 15 to 18-year olds. Presiding at the four meetings were: Mrs. Neville Woodruff, Blue Bird leader in San Francisco; Miss Louise Weller, San Diego, Camp Fire area council member; Mrs. Kinsley DuBois, Camp Fire Girls guardian in Vancouver, Wash., and Miss Mary Jardine, Madera, Calif., Camp Fire council member.

John J. Wolkerstorfer, national board member from White Bear Lake, Minn., chaired a workshop on citywide events at the Benson hotel this morning, with Mrs. Ada Zagoren, president of the San Francisco Camp Fire council, as speaker.

George Miller, vice president of the American Camping association and Boy Scout executive in Phoenix, was featured in this afternoon's camping session with his speech on the work of camp committees. "Those of us who are associated with youth in the field of camping," Mr. Miller said, "are pioneers in human engineering."

In emphasizing the importance of a camp committee's work, Mr. Miller said that one of the main jobs of skilled camp leadership is to give girls and leaders program material and leadership experience which will enrich the total year-round Camp Fire program.

Mrs. Elizabeth Spear, newly-

MRS. E. L. GRAHAM is to be hostess to her bridge club Thursday evening, inviting the group for cards and a late salad supper. Mrs. Gordon O. Leonard will be an additional guest.

INTERMEDIATE BRIDGE, beginning November 8, will be the next new class offered at the YWCA. The class is open to men and women and those interested are requested to enroll as soon as possible since registrations will be limited. Ellis Jones is to be the instructor. Further information may be had by calling the YWCA.

MEETING on Friday will be the Past Regents club of the Chemeketa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the home of Mrs. David Wright, a no-host luncheon to be at 1 p.m.

appointed national camping director of Camp Fire Girls, speaking on standards and leadership of the organization's camping program, said that Camp Fire had pioneered in camping for girls and that it continues to be a major part of the over-all Camp Fire program. "It is big business," Mrs. Spear pointed out. "During the past season more than 36,179 girls enjoyed camping under the skilled guidance of trained staff." She went on to say that local councils across the country have invested heavily in their camps—both in money and in training of camp staff—in order to give more girls a rich experience as individuals and as members of a group. Addressing a large audience at this evening's public relations session, Ben H. Hazen, president, Benjamin Franklin Savings and Loan association, Portland, is to state that "public relations is everybody's job."

"Some individual relationships," Mr. Hazen says, "are basic to good public relations. Collectively, the Camp Fire Girls represents a cross-section of individuals—the girl, her parents and their friends in the community—who are earning public understanding and acceptance of their organization's purpose and program because they believe in the dignity of the individual, recognize the importance of truth and relate their services to community needs. Any organization we know will agree that is good public relations."

The public relations session is chaired by James Hart, public relations chairman, Portland Camp Fire council.
