Bearcats Face Stiff Test For Homecoming Saturday

A Willamette university football squad that has shown little inspirational effort except during the contest with Central Washington early in the season, has the difficult assignment of holding the Lewis & Clack Pioneers in check Saiurday afternoon before a homecoming crowd on Sweetland field. Gam-time is 2 o'clock.

Lewis & Clark, designated for many years as Albany college has been advancing rapidly in the athletic world since being transplanted to Portland. This year's starting line will be a few pounds lighter than Willamette's forwards but will outweighthe Bearcat backfield 18 pounds to the man.

The Pioneer strategy on the field will be left in the hands of Bob Pollard, a 6 foot 6 quarterback who is serving his senior year on the club. Teaming with him in the backfield will be Clarke Anderson, a hard runner and a good pass re-ceiver; Stah Blair, a quick starter and the team's leading ground gainer in 1948, and Reuben Baisch, 200 pound full-

Johnson is back for his final year after spending last season on the sidelines. White is a second year man, having secured his prep experience at Benson Tech in Portland. Markowskie and Blacic are sophomore tackles while Am-brose and Bowe have been one and two years of competition, respectively. Chuck Patterson of Burlingame, is a three year letterman center. A colorful half time program has been arranged for the bene

California Names UCLA Student as Honor Co-Captain

Berkeley, Calif., Oct. 28 (49) —UCLA and the unbeaten University of California Bears tangle tomorrow in Los An-geles—so what happens?

The Bears elect a UCLA student, Russ Bohlke, honorary co-captain of their team for the important Pacific coast conference football contest. Not only that, Cal aims to "win this one for Bohlke" and give him the ball.

Bohlke attended California Jast year. He broke his neck playing football for the Bears. Taking treatment at a hospital in Van Nuys, Calif., he is go-ing to classes at UCLA this year in a wheel chair. He will see the game.

The Bears were 13-point favorites in local odds.
