ACTIVITIES VARIED

Girls League is open to every girl enrolled in the high school—and there are some 800 of them this year. This year the group is starting a student loan fund and has been carrying on a magazine subscription drive to aid in securing funds for the project. Also, the League sponsors a "book store" to have available typing paper, pencils, stamps, etc., as a convenience for the girls, this also being a new project this year.

Girls League is a service organization, supporting in every way it can school projects and school interests, every girl in the school having opportunity to participate. Among special events, too, the League sponsors inter-club rivalry skits which are to be presented at a noon assembly this year.

VIKETTES ACTIVE

The school "pep" group for girls is the Vikettes, an honorary organization made up of senior girls. This club takes part in all cheering activities at

LARGE MEMBERSHIP

In the Girls Letter club are about 200 members. To join this group the high school girls must secure 100 points in varied athletic events, including ping pong, volleyball, basketball, hiking, biking, swimming, bowling, etc.

The club each year sponsors the "Jym Jamboree" in the spring, sponsors a party for alumnae, and takes part in other school activities.

SCHEDULE BUSY ONE

"Quite the most active club in the school" comments Miss Majek in telling about the Home Economics club, which this year has some 80 on its membership roll.

In early October the club sponsored High Home open house. Also, the same week, the group gave a teachers' tea, honoring new faculty members, and this week staged its annual initiation.

On November 3, there will be informal initiation and the "big dinner" event of the fall, and an open house on November 15. During the 10 days before the vacation, the club sponsors a Christmas candy sale.

A Christmas tea for the teachers is planned two days preceding vacation. The club also will take part in the Civic club carnival, arranges the junior-senior luncheon each year, entertains with a mother and daughter tea, sponsors a picnic and concludes the year with a formal installation event. A series of no-host dinners for members before this year's games also will be held.

TRI-Y'S ACTIVE TOO

Tri-Y girls are open to all interested, this group's program being carried on in cooperation with the YWCA. The Tri-Y club also takes part in special school programs and activities and puts on an assembly program as well as providing some social activity for its membership.
