

Pacific Coast Conference Shows Intersection Power

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—The normally robust south has turned anemic in football this year and most of the red corpuses seem to have escaped to the Pacific coast.

A check of the major conferences against outside opposition shows the southwest a stout leader and the southern the weakest in the land.

The southeastern, a veritable bowl incubator down through the years, is better than holding its own but is not showing the old-time punch. Its bowl candidates are negligible.

On the other hand, the Pacific coast, an intersectional punching bag since the war, is bouncing back against some chins. As an example, it has won two and tied one of six games in the formidable Big Ten, with which it has a Rose Bowl working agreement.

The wide open southwesterners—with Baylor, SMU and Rice in the fore—have won 18 games against outside foes while losing only five and tying one.

The Ivy league follows with a 16-5 record but these figures are deceiving and aren't a true intersectional barometer.

The purist Ivy members disdain matching punches with the powers of other sections for lush gates and their gaudy mark has been built up mainly at the expense of milder elevens in their own halliwick.

The Pacific coast, which carries on a running battle with the midwest, has won 18 games, lost seven and tied two beyond its own family feuding.

Here's the conference breakdown of games outside the league:

Conference	W	L	T	Pct.
Southwest Con.	18	5	1	.783
Ivy League	16	5	0	.762
Pacific Coast Con.	18	7	2	.729
Southeastern Con.	18	10	3	.643
Big Seven	12	7	1	.632
Big Ten	10	8	2	.556
Missouri Valley	13	13	2	.500
Skyline Six	9	12	1	.429
Southern Con.	10	31	0	.244

We're working up a lather about the high-scoring games this year but to Grandpa they would have looked like pitchers battles.

In 1886 Harvard scored 765 points, beating one opponent 158 to 0.

In 1904 Minnesota rolled up 725 and Yale had a couple of seasons before the turn of the century with totals around the 700 mark.

The mistakes made by Willamette's football team during its homecoming game with Lewis and Clark last Saturday will be pointed out by Coach Chester Stackhouse during Friday morning's session of the Salem Breakfast club. The criticisms will be in the nature of a chalk talk.

Motion pictures taken during the ball game will be shown providing the films are sufficiently clear to warrant their production.

Plans for the entertainment of Western International league club owners, directors and newspapermen will be here for the annual meeting of the organization Nov. 6 and 7, will be reviewed.

McArthur said drills this week would be rough and long. He was displeased with the Wolves second half showing against Eastern Oregon when the Wolves could score only a single touchdown after tallying four in the hectic first half.

OCE, the only remaining undefeated and untied collegiate football squad in Oregon, will be favored over Coach Al Simpson's Red Raiders.

Dale Kiser downed Bill McEuin in a preliminary while Jim Gonzales took straight calls over Carl Myers, one via the foul route.

Palmer went to the hospital for observation but, while released yesterday, may not be able to play, Taylor said. Nature of Palmer's ailment was not disclosed.

All but one of the Washington regulars—reserve Fullback Hank Tiedemann—was on hand for yesterday's workout.

Linfield Wildcats Hope To Turn Tables on WU

Hopes are running high in McMinnville that Linfield college will be able to accomplish next Saturday night something that the Wildcats have never achieved since 1926—a win over Willamette university on the football field.

The recent comparatively easy victory over Whitman college served as a stimulant to the Wildcats who have been going about their training chores with considerable enthusiasm.

On Sweetland field, Coach Chester Stackhouse has been trying to eliminate the mistakes that proved costly in last Saturday's homecoming 20-7 defeat at the hands of Lewis and Clark. The squad is in good physical condition, although a few of the men are nursing the customary bumps and bruises.

After Saturday night's encounter, Willamette has two Northwest conference games on the schedule—both here. The first, Nov. 11 will be against Whitman, and the second, Nov. 18, will feature Pacific.

Aiken Plans to Give Fell Ball Packing Chores

Eugene, Ore., Nov. 2 (AP)—Bill Fell's efforts in the waning moments of last Saturday's clash with Iowa may have earned the Oregon ball carrier a more prominent part in the Duck offensive picture, Coach Jim Aiken indicated yesterday.

As the Oregon varsity worked out against a Washington defense in preparation for this Saturday's tilt at Portland, Fell was being given opportunities to pack the ball.

Joe Gordon to Attend Ham 'n' Egg Dinner Meet

Joe Gordon of Eugene, well known infielder of the Cleveland Indians, has agreed to attend the dinner being sponsored by the Salem Breakfast club at the Marion hotel next Monday night, according to announcement by Al Loucks, president of the ham 'n' eggers.

Gordon will be accompanied by Dick Strite, sports editor of the Eugene Register Guard. The dinner is being held in connection with the meeting here Nov. 6 and 7 of Western International league officials.

Attendance at the dinner will be held to 125.

Celeri Sets PCC Pace In Total Offense List

Los Angeles, Nov. 2—Bob Celeri, who has quarterbacked California to seven straight victories, continues to set the PCC pace in total offense, but figures released today by the Pacific coast conference commissioner's office, showed Southern California's Jim Powers with a better per game record.

Celeri leads the league with 929 yards in seven games, which averages 132.7 yards a game. Powers has 868 yards in six games for an average of 144.7 yards a contest.

Oregon's fullback, Bob Sanders, holds his commanding lead in rushing with 569 yards in seven games, and shares the scoring lead with Bill Martin of USC. Each has scored nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Powers has proved himself the best passer in the league in nearly every respect. He has completed 62 of 100 attempts for 850 yards, an average of 8.5. Ten of his passes have gone for touchdowns.

Chester Daniels of Oregon has relied on his right foot to rank him high, among the Conference scorers, and he holds a big lead in extra point and field goal kicking. Daniels has made 25 of 27 PAT's good and has booted four field goals for 37 points.

Woodley Lewis of Oregon continues to lead in pass interceptions with seven.

Viking Jayvee Gridders Smother Corvallis, 27-13

Scoring in every quarter, the Salem high school Junior Varsity Vikings swept over the Corvallis Spartan B eleven, 27-13, Tuesday afternoon on the Spartan gridiron.

In the early minutes of play Salem's Johnny Gundran drove for a TD and Bob Theison place kicked the ball which put Salem out in front 7-0. But the Spartans came right back with a criss-

Williams Tells Of Iowa Reunion With Men of '99

"Never had a better time in my life," summed up Fred A. Williams, Salem attorney upon his recent return from the middle west where he, with four other survivors of the University of Iowa football team of 1899 were honor guests for the University of Iowa-Indiana university football game in mid-October.

The five men were extensively entertained before and after the homecoming contest, so much so in fact, Williams admits that he was tucked out long before he headed home.

Williams describes the Iowa team as an "explosive outfit" that apparently worries little concerning the opposition as long as the fourth period remains to be played. He was urged to remain for the Iowa-Oregon tilt but begged off because of the necessity of returning to his office.

Of the squad of 50 years ago, of which he was one of the 16 members of the travelling contingent, the records show that Iowa amassed 257 points to three for the opposition. While Williams was designated as an end and held that position much of the time, it was not unusual to shift to a tackle or a guard.

"Because of the small squad we had to learn about every position," Williams said.

Before returning home Williams spent a few days with a sister and her husband in South Dakota where pleasant hunting proved pleasurable and profitable.

Bob Grieve, Syracuse University's track and cross-country coach is a former sprinter and halfback at the University of Illinois.

Jack Coffey, athletic director at Fordham, also said he intended to take the matter up with authorities. He said he was "pleased over the idea."

Yanks, Bums Play Second To BoSox in Star Ratings

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—The New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, rivals in the last World Series, each gained two berths on the Associated Press' 1949 major league all-star team.

Both, however, were forced to play second fiddle to the Boston Red Sox who led all clubs with three representatives—outfielder Ted Williams and pitchers Mel Parnell and Ellis Kinder.

The remainder of the dream squad picked by a poll of 116 members of the baseball writers' Association of America is composed of one player each from the Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Tommy Henrich, a converted first baseman, and shortstop Phil Rizzuto are the world champion

Salem Youth Is Injury Victim In Nebraska Game

Fremont, Nebr.—The first serious accident in Midland college football and sports in two years hit Edward Meyer, 790 Fairview avenue, Salem, when he was hospitalized with a broken leg.

Meyer, a star athlete in baseball, basketball, wrestling and football, was injured near the end of a game with the Hastings college Broncos.

Francis Conger is Coming Back

American league pitchers with a 23-6 won and lost record.

Of the ten men selected, only two are holdovers from the 1948 team. The incumbents are Williams and Musial. Williams, in fact, has been named on all four Associated Press teams starting in 1946.

Those missing from last year's squad include Johnny Mize, first base; Joe Gordon, second base; Lou Boudreau, shortstop; Bob Elliott, third base; Joe DiMaggio, center field; Birdie Tebbets, catcher; and Johnny Sain and Harry Brecheen, pitchers.

Rizzuto won with 83 votes. Only one vote separated the Red Sox pitching twins. The left-handed Parnell, who won 25 games and lost only eight, drew 78 votes, one more than the righthanded Kinder, who led all

Pro Boxing Resumes at Armory Wednesday Night

Following suspension of a number of weeks, the Veterans of Foreign Wars resume their boxing shows at the armory Wednesday night at 8:30.

Matchmaker Tex Salkeld will feature John L. Sullivan and Johnny Jennings, heavyweights in the 10-round main event and Lou Nunes and Al Cliff in the six-round semi-final.

Jennings is reported as being confident of victory over the highly favored Sullivan and predicts an upset that will make him a popular figure in fight circles throughout the northwest.

The first preliminary pits Tony Ortega of Portland against Joe Pack of Salem. Ortega,

Stymie Retires To Blue Grass Loafing at Ease

New York, Nov. 2 (AP)—Gallant old Stymie, who rose from the claiming ranks to become the world's greatest money-winning thoroughbred, was retired today to a bluegrass life of ease.

And thus was written the climax of a luscious saga of the turf.

Bred on the sprawling King ranch in Texas, Stymie was just an obscure selling plater when he was purchased by Hirsch Jacobs in 1943 for $1,500. He was two years old then.

Now eight years old—and still under the guidance of Jacobs—Stymie leaves the racing scene with an amazing, almost unbelievable, bankroll of $918,485.

A sore right foreleg forced Stymie's retirement.

First College Coaching Scalp Falls in Oklahoma

Stillwater, Okla., Nov. 2 (AP)—The annual parade of college football coaches to the showers was officially under way today with the resignation of Jim Lookabaugh of Oklahoma A&M.

Lookabaugh, with the college for 25 years—as a student, an alumnus and its coach for the past 11 seasons—submitted his resignation yesterday. It was accepted immediately and is effective at the end of the present season.

Dean C. H. McElroy, cabinet chairman, said a successor probably won't be named until after the close of the season.

Lookabaugh said he is leaving "for the good of Oklahoma A & M." He signed a five year contract in 1946. His salary has not been announced.

The Aggies won the Missouri Valley conference title last year. His teams hit the big time during the war years and won two bowl games.

This season's record is two wins against three losses and a tie.

"I am proud," he said, "to go out with the 1949 varsity."
