

Pacific Coast Turkey Show Set for Start November 14

Special events and attractions are one of the public features of the annual Pacific Coast Turkey exhibit at McMinnville which starts November 14 with the closing of registration for all entries and delivery of all birds at the McMinnville armory between 8 o'clock the morning of November 15 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Dr. W. A. Billings of University of Minnesota, who will be honor guest at annual McMinnville turkey show.

A public show will feature the grand opening at the armory the night of November 16.

Among the variety of events will be a free Thanksgiving turkey to the largest family attending the exhibit with contests for turkey dogs at noon November 16 on the court house lawn.

The winner of the "name the turkey" contest, for the prize bird to be presented President Truman, will also receive a turkey.

An amateur hour program will be held at the armory November 16 at 8 o'clock and the following night there will be a dance revue by the pupils of the Paul Armstrong school of dancing at Salem and McMinnville.

The annual turkey banquet will be held at the junior fair building at 6:30 o'clock the evening of November 18, followed by entertainment and dancing.

Honored guests will include Dr. W. A. Billings, University of Minnesota, a national turkey authority, and C. W. Norton, Portland, president of the Northwest Poultry and Dairy Products company.

In addition to the turkey for President Truman, Gene Malecki, manager of the exhibit, is leaving the McMinnville airport November 19 with the grand champion live bird and will personally present it to the president of Turkey at Istanbul. It will be carried in a special custom-built crate. Birds will also be sent each of the 48 governors.

The exhibit, in cooperation with the poultry and dairy products company, will present Coach "Kip" Taylor, of OSC and Coach "Biggie" Munn, of MSC, with a dressed turkey at the Portland stadium during the November 11 game with Michigan State.

Prizes are also being offered for the best window display contest sponsored by the McMinnville Lions club.

Salem Heights Troop Awarded Concession

Salem Heights—The Salem Heights Boy Scout troop 19 met at the hall. Plans were made for the troop concession at the Harvest festival to be held at the Salem Heights high school November 4.

Dwane Smith was a new member to join the troop. Earl Ahlers, committee chairman, and Bob Batdorf, neighborhood commissioner were visitors to the troop.

Next Tuesday evening the scout troop will meet at the home of the assistant scoutmaster, Frank ViTaris, and will then hike out for a weiner roast. The troop is relinquishing their night at the hall due to revival meetings held there by the church.

Vessels Fogbound

Astoria, Nov. 3 (AP)—An ocean fog rolled in here last night, halting shipping at the mouth of the Columbia and forcing high-way traffic to slow speeds. Two freighters were held outside the river bar and three in the harbor here. Others were reported fogbound at upriver points.

Four Corners School Again Calls for Cafeteria Help

Four Corners, Nov. 3—With weather for outside work the cement is being poured this week for the sidewalks at Lincoln school. Due to the large enrollment it has been necessary to add a helper for Mrs. Reaney in the cafeteria. The service of Mrs. Carrie Ringo has been secured for the present. An addition to the kitchen is a walk-in cooler.

Principals of the Salem elementary schools met with Arthur V. Myers for conference Monday at the school from 3 to 5 o'clock. Myers wishes to commend the children for their splendid cooperation about the building. It is planned to begin serving milk to the primary grades at mid-morning.

There will be a Mothers' club meeting Friday at 1:30 o'clock. All mothers are urged to attend as this is election of officers. Care will be provided for the pre-school children.

CHINESE FEEL IT PROLONGS LIFE

Giant Ginseng Root Starts Carolina 'Herb-Digging Rush'

Asheville, N. C. (AP)—Ginseng, the plant that grows only in China and North America, has started a different kind of "gold rush" in the rugged mountains of western North Carolina.

A mountaineer dug up a monster ginseng root, covered in China as a cure-all. The root, weighing one and a quarter pounds, brought J. R. Mundy $12,500 from a local herb dealer.

The dealer sold it for $40 to a New York firm, which sent it on its way to Hong Kong where "there is no telling what price a root of that size will bring," according to experts.

Mundy figures the root was at least 100 years old. Usually the wild ginseng roots run from two to four inches in length and about one-half an inch diameter.

It is hard prospecting and each mountaineer jealously guards his secret hunting places, for the Chinese will pay fabulously for the cure-all.

American men of science think little of the ginseng as a medicine but in China big roots such as Mundy found are sometimes preserved and worshipped as gods.

New York dealers figure the big root will end up in some wealthy Chinese home, where its very presence presumably will ward off sickness.

Chinese at death's door use ginseng to give them more days of life. It is supposed to prolong life and even restore it. Opioid smokers use ginseng tea for "hangovers."

About 50,000 pounds of gin-

sen is dug each year, more than half of it in western North Carolina, parts of Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia.

The plant is small, from eight inches to two feet high, and has several stems with three clusters of leaves on each. In autumn it bears small red berries which fall to start new plants. But it takes about seven years to produce roots big enough for digging.

Mountain women brew the small ones for health tonics.

PINK PERFECTION CAKE
Quick-method recipe

Sift together in mixing bowl:

2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour 1 tsp. salt
3 1/2 tsp. double-action baking powder (4 1/2 tsp. single-action) 1 1/2 cups sugar

Add: 1/2 cup Snowdrift (Emulsorized—quick-blending) 1/2 cup milk

Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer, use "low speed"; scrape bowl often; scrape beaters after 2 minutes.

Add: 4 egg whites (unbeaten) 1/2 cup milk
few drops red coloring 1 tsp. almond flavoring

Beat 1 minute. Turn into 2 greased 8" layer pans lined with plain paper. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes. Cool and frost with—

FILLING AND FROSTING

1/2 cup water 1 egg white (beaten)
1 tsp. light corn syrup 1 tsp. almond flavoring
1 cup sugar 1/2 cup chopped figs
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar 1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 cup raisins

Combine first 5 ingredients; cook and stir until sugar dissolves. Pour syrup gradually over beaten egg white, beating until icing "peaks." Add almond flavoring. Remove 1/2 of icing; fold in fruit and nuts; use as filling. Frost cake with plain icing; decorate with chopped nuts.
