

Czech Bishops Ask Freedom

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 5 (AP)—Roman Catholic bishops today demanded independence from the communist government, and asked it to revise its new church control laws at once. The bishops addressed a letter to the cabinet on Oct. 21. It was made public today. In it they said the government had robbed the church of its freedom and reduced priests to the status of servants of the state. The bishops said the church control laws which became effective Nov. 1 violated constitutional guarantees of religious freedom by placing the appointment of priests, their training and salaries under a minister of church affairs. They demanded an end to "the existing difficulties of the church political status by a revision of these laws and their implementation."

Beck Fights for Boeing Control

Seattle, Nov. 5 (AP)—Dave Beck, executive president of the Teamsters union (AFL) said today the union would fight indefinitely for jurisdiction of Boeing airplane production and maintenance workers. Meantime, Teamsters' attorneys sought to void the Aero-Mechanics' union (Ind.) victory over the Teamsters in a national labor relations board jurisdictional election held at Boeing on Tuesday.

Attorney Samuel B. Bassett said he would file at least two objections in the NLRB election which he asserted would temporarily block certification of the Aero Mechanics union as bargaining agent. Bassett said the principal objection would be based upon a typographical error in a number of ballots which listed the Aero Mechanics union as an AFL affiliate. The ballots were declared void and were not counted.

He said the other objection was that election notices posted before the balloting omitted voting eligibility requirements. Beck said he felt the Teamsters did not have sufficient time to organize for the Boeing election. But he added:

"The Teamsters will win regardless of how long it takes. The Teamsters will continue to organize at Boeing until our jurisdiction is recognized."

Beck said even if the Aero Mechanics union—affiliated with the International Association of Machinists (Ind.)—should be certified, he doubted it could get a union-shop clause in its contract.

"There is nothing to compel the members of the Teamsters to join the other union," Beck said. One of the first demonstrations of color television was presented by the Bell Telephone Laboratories June 27, 1929.

Notre Dame 34 Mich. State 21

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 5 (AP)—Notre Dame smashed Michigan State today, 34 to 21, for its 34th game without defeat before 51,077 fans in the Spartans' stadium. The Spartans made a rugged game of the contest for the first half, but fell apart before the Irish drive in the final 30 minutes and Notre Dame breezed to 20 points in that time.

Still State came back for two touchdowns in the final seven minutes with a fine air attack. Bob Williams, Notre Dame quarterback, was the star of the day, completing 13 out of 16 passes for 169 yards and two touchdowns.

He also ran 40 yards for another counter, but Emil Sitko, Frank Spanial and Larry Coutre crashed steadily for consistent gains. Line plays really decided the match with Ed Bagdon, Don Mason and Don Coleman the mainstays of the Spartans against Leon Hart, Bob Tonniff and Jim Martinez of Notre Dame.

28 Pilots Cleared To Fly at Facility

Salem's Naval Air Facility started the first week-end of November — this week-end is assigned to men from the Corvallis-Eugene area—with 28 pilots cleared to fly.

Fog and low hanging haze kept the men grounded Saturday morning, but men from Corvallis were at the facility ready to take to the air as soon as the ceiling lifted. As it cleared slightly in the afternoon they were permitted to fly in the area near the field.

3rd Plane in Fatal Crash

Washington, Nov. 5 (AP)—An air force officer said today it is "possible" that the maneuvers of a military plane nearby confused the Bolivian pilot who flew into an airliner here last Tuesday killing 55. "But I seriously doubt it," he added.

The air force plane, a B-25 medium bomber, made a simulated landing approach at the National airport a few minutes before the P-38 fighter flown by the Bolivian crashed into an incoming Eastern Airlines passenger plane.

But by the air force's timing the B-25 had landed at its base at Bolling field, just across the Potomac river, by the time of the collision. Bolling field officials confirmed that the bomber was operating in the area and relayed these comments to newsmen:

Col. S. D. Grubbs, commanding officer of the headquarters command at Bolling—"It is possible that the B-25 could have confused the Bolivian pilot but I seriously doubt it."
Lt. Ray H. Deem, Jr., pilot of the B-25—"We did not see any aircraft flying around the immediate vicinity of National airport when we made our simulated landing."

The presence of the air force bomber in the area came out as the government pressed investigations in advance of hearings opening Wednesday on the worst airplane crash in commercial aviation history.

Concert Sponsored By Hollywood Lions

Coleman Bros. Million-aires, a noted musical organization, will be in Salem soon under the sponsorship of the Hollywood Lions club. They will appear at the high school auditorium December 6.

In the troupe are five Negro male voices with pianist. They are on tour from the NBC Circle Arrow show, and were winners of the Peabody award in New York City for outstanding performances. Also they are Decca recording artists.

Winners at Elks Bridge Tourney

Mrs. Dewey Howell and Mrs. Milton D. Parker were north-south winners in the November master point duplicate bridge tournament at the Elks club this week, but the highest average of 72.6 per cent was scored by the east-west winners, Mrs. Rupert Park and Leonard Kremen.

Mrs. Stuart Thede and Col. Philip W. Allison were second east-west and Mrs. Lucetta McCorkie of Corvallis and Mrs. Arthur Binegar second north-south, while thirds went to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Berg, and Mrs. George Henderson and Mrs. C. C. Gabriel.

In the weekly series Arthur L. Lewis and Mrs. Edward E. Roth won a 15-couple Howell movement, while Mrs. Ward Graham and Walter M. Cline, and Mrs. W. E. Kinsey and Ellis H. Jones were tied for second. Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Roth now are leading in the weekly series, which ends November 14.

More Indian Summer

Portland, Ore., Nov. 5 (AP)—The weather bureau today promised Oregonians a lingering Indian summer for the weekend. Threat of an Aleutian storm reaching the northwest faded overnight and—except for a few coastal sprinkles—mild weather will prevail, the bureau said.

next Friday will be highlighted by an address by Gov. Douglas McKay from the steps of the Marion county courthouse.

Harvest Fete Draws Crowd

An overloaded power line which caused a series of burned out fuses failed to dim the enthusiasm of around 500 persons who attended the annual harvest festival Friday night at the Salem Heights school. The festival was sponsored by the Salem Heights Mothers club.

Both parents and youngsters packed the school with the classrooms holding open house for the visitors. Carnival attractions were arranged for the entertainment of everybody with a variety of refreshments. During the dimout candles and flashlights were brought into action and prevented any interruption in activities.

Coffee Prices Up Again

Portland, Nov. 5 (AP)—The expected coffee price increase arrived today.

The wholesale price rose to a range of 68 1/2 to 71 1/2 cents a pound, after two major distributors raised their prices 7 and 10 cents.

drilling test was stopped after reaching a depth of 15 feet. Drilling will continue when flood waters recede, it was reported.
