

Heights Mothers Helping School

Salem Heights, Nov. 9.—Many parents attended the Salem Heights Mothers club Tuesday afternoon in the community hall.

Mrs. Kenneth Zwicker presided at the meeting and reported the success of the harvest festival. The club voted to buy paint brushes for the school, with each two rooms sharing one set of brushes.

Mrs. Myron Butler was named as Campfire Girl leader for the fourth and fifth grades. Mrs. Roy McElroy reported on the success of the Bluebirds candy selling. The club will begin to sew eighty bean bags for the school children next week.

Marion Miller, principal, spoke on the results of the harvest festival for the school and told of the magazine subscription drive to begin in January for the school. Anyone interested in purchasing magazines are asked to wait for the drive if possible. The proceeds from the drive will go to the purchasing of a O. P. projector. Any picture, map or material used in class room may be placed in it and be seen on the screen.

Mrs. George Beane presented Horace Miller from the child guidance department of Marion county, who spoke on the importance of a Woman's World, and the physiology of the child.

Donald Jessup, music supervisor presented advanced students from the high school. He spoke on music in the school, and gave the history of various instruments.

On the program were Lauren Bartlett, with a clarinet solo, a flute solo by Michael Deeny, cornet solo by Jim Todd, a saxophone solo by Lauren Bartlett, a trombone solo by Glenn Benner, all accompanied at the piano by Ann Gibbens, Wayne Mercer demonstrated playing the drum, a baritone horn solo by Charles Dahlen, and an oboe solo by Ann Gibbens accompanied at the piano by Michael Deeny. The fourth, fifth and sixth grades were present for the instrument presentation.

The jig-saw puzzle game was won by Mrs. Faye Gooch, Mrs. W. E. Neufeld, and Mrs. Leta Hampton, and a bouquet of chrysanthemums was presented to each by Mrs. Ed. A. Carleton.

Mrs. Herbert Marggi, room mother for the fifth grade was the hostess chairman assisted by Mrs. Robert Kuescher, Mrs. Charles Hagemann, and Mrs. Lyle Bayne.

Makes Boast — Georgi N. Malenkov (above), a top Soviet spokesman, boasted that with the atomic bomb in Russia's hands a third world war would wipe out capitalism. Malenkov, member of Russia's Politburo, made the main speech in Moscow's celebration of the 32nd anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution. He said that atomic energy in capitalist hands "is the means of bringing death," but that Russia regards atomic energy as "a mean of unprecedented advance in peaceful constructions." (AP Wirephoto)

Farm Income In Coast States

San Francisco, Nov. 9 (AP)—Farm income in the 11 western states is running slightly under last year except in New Mexico and Washington which show small gains.

Figures supplied by the bureau of agricultural economics, USDA, give the area a return in farm marketings, through September, of $3,139,177,000. This compares with $3,410,275,000 at this time last year.

All 11 states reported smaller returns from livestock and its products than last year. The total for the area for nine months was $1,384,590,000 against $1,591,929,000 last year.

Returns from crops were larger than last year only in New Mexico, Wyoming and Washington. This year's nine-month total of $1,754,587,000 compared with $1,818,346,000 last year.

Roseburg Hospital Gets $156,000 Grant

Roseburg, Nov. 9 (AP)—Final approval of a $156,000 federal grant for the construction of the Douglas Community hospital has been given by the United States public health service.

Report from the Portland office was received in a telegram to Alvin Knauss, hospital manager, here today. The grant had previously been approved by the Oregon state health department.

and this final action was awaited before construction plans could proceed. Knauss said the project will probably go out for bids this week. The local association has $135,000 to augment the federal appropriation, making an estimated $470,000 funds available.

U.S. Offers to Buy 1000 Tons of Prunes

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—The agriculture department made a new offer today to buy 1,000 tons of dried prunes for the national school lunch program from processors in Oregon and Washington.

The department rejected previous bids because it considered them too high.

New bids must be submitted by Nov. 22 for acceptance or rejection on or before Nov. 30.

The purchase program is designed to help bolster sagging prices of prunes.
