

Dressed Class Added in McMinnville Turkey Show

The annual Pacific Coast Turkey exhibit at McMinnville November 15 to 18 is attracting nation-wide interest with a dressed class added to the commercial division this year by popular demand.

Grand opening is scheduled for Wednesday night at the armory with judging to start at 9 o'clock the following morning. Turkey dog contests will be held at noon with judging of commercial division entries the next morning. Pens and special awards will be considered Friday morning, November 18, with an open forum for turkey growers at 2 o'clock with Dr. W. A. Billings of the University of Minnesota and a national authority, in charge.

Judge of the show is Milton M. Reiman, Planada, Calif., the first president of the California Turkey federation and who headed that organization as president from 1940 to 1945, who returns to McMinnville for the third time.

Presentation of awards and a banquet will conclude the exhibit at 7 o'clock the night of November 18.

Officers and board members of the exhibit are Harold Talley, McMinnville, chairman; Delmer Stutzman, McMinnville, secretary-treasurer; Harold Davis, Dan O. Smith and S. L. Baker, all of McMinnville; W. H. Schwedler, Portland, and Mrs. W. E. Alexander, Dayton, board members; L. H. Gross, McMinnville, county agent; Gene Malceki, Salem, manager; and Harold Ryals and J. Merrill Giffin, both of McMinnville, advisory members.

Special committee chairmen are Mrs. Alexander, banquet; Newton Fruit, Dayton, dressed birds; R. R. Oester, Yamhill, live birds; Dick Reyne, McMinnville, building and grounds; L. H. Gross, McMinnville, clerk; Walter J. Hilands, Portland, weigher; M. M. Reiman, Planada, Calif., judge, and J. Merrill Giffin, McMinnville, entertainment and reception.

New Mexico's state tree, the pinon (pin-yon), is the only member of the pine family that bears edible nuts.

Upholds Indian Rights to Fish

Yakima, Umatilla and Warm Springs Indians have just as much right to free hunting and fishing licenses on the Columbia river as the Indians living at Celilo, Attorney General George Neuner ruled today for the state game commission.

Neuner's opinion disagreed with the game commission and the Celilo Indians, who contend that the free fishing and hunting rights should go only to the Celilo Indians.

The opinion agreed with the regional U.S. director of Indian affairs.

The argument is over a 1947 state law, which says the free licenses shall be given to "all Columbia river Indians who are eligible to hunt and fish under the terms of the treaty of 1855 between the Columbia river Indians and the United States of America."

Neuner's opinion is that the law applies to the Yakima, Umatilla and Warm Springs tribes, rather than just to the Celilo Indians.

Off Raided Melody Club Faces Closure

Portland, Nov. 9 (AP)—District Attorney J. B. McCourt prepared today to start legal proceedings to close up the Melody club, scene of four liquor violation arrests in a month.

The fourth was early yesterday, two days after the third involving illegal sale of liquor. McCourt said the state liquor control commission already has asked a court to restrain the owners from maintaining a common nuisance. It asked a closure for two years, or until there was assurance it had been cleared up. The club has no liquor license.

The egg of the common housefly may hatch in as short a time as six hours after it is laid.

Attendance in Recreation Season Increases in Salem

Attendance of 183,071, an increase of 22,120 over 1948 was registered during the recent summer recreation season, a report of the year's activities by Vernon Gilmore, director of the program.

These figures do not include the junior baseball program or the Salem softball program. The inclusion of these two activities shows an added attendance of 28,279 participants and spectators.

The season marked the first real attempt to give an adequate tennis program for the patrons of the playgrounds. "The Salem softball program was established as a permanent part of the city and school playgrounds because it was evident from the past few years that the program of softball for young men could not survive financially," the report states.

The annual American Red Cross "learn to swim campaign" was held from July 11 through July 22 with an additional six lessons for those desiring them. Over 350 certificates were issued at the end of the campaign.

Gilmore states that "there must be constant planning for future expansion of play areas and parks." "Too often a city grows beyond its bounds and suddenly finds itself without play space for children of the community. When this happens, the necessity of paying high prices for land are present."

Playgrounds were maintained at Olinger and Leslie fields, Grant, Englewood, Richmond, Bush, McKinley, Highland and Garfield.

Gates—A halloween community hardtime party, sponsored by the Gates Womens club was given in the social rooms of the Gates high school. Members and their families and people of the community were invited. Admission was one vegetable which the guests were required to prepare to be added to the "stew" which was served as refreshments later in the evening.
