and Dr. George Martin of Willamette.

The committee's study will determine the degree to which the four colleges listed are meeting state standard requirements for teacher education. Curriculum, faculty and physical plant will be factors in the evaluation.

Dr. Gunn was one of the leaders in the movement to permit certification of elementary teachers by newcomers to the teacher-training field. A special act of the legislature setting up standards for such colleges was passed, in order to widen

Pacific Wool Growers Meet

Portland, Nov. 9 (AP)—Efforts to get the government out of the business of marketing grain, cotton, tobacco and wool were outlined today to the Oregon Wool Growers convention.

the training field and permit a larger supply of elementary teachers in a shorter time.

R. A. Ward, general manager of Pacific Wool Growers, told convention delegates results of talks he and representatives of the other industries had recently with Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

He said the farm groups' position was this: the commodity credit corporation is invading the field of marketing to an extent that threatens the best interests of agriculture; private enterprise can do a better job of finding and supplying markets; the government should withdraw from marketing as soon as possible, and should, when disposing of its stored surpluses, use customary trade channels except when study and hearings show such channels to be inadequate.

Ward said the secretary indicated that the government has no wish to get further into the marketing business but said it appears likely that within a year some additional commodities may come into CCC hands and the government will have to market them in accordance with the present farm law.

Delegates heard another side of their business today when Dr. Julius E. Nordby, director of the Western Sheep Breeding Laboratory at Dubois, Ida., said good results were becoming apparent in breeding research. He said that the research into selective breeding for improved range sheep was concentrated on the Rambouillet breed because it is the most widely adaptable.
