

Regional Meet At Fairview

The Pacific states region of the American Association on Mental Deficiency held its meeting at Fairview home Saturday. This region includes the states of Oregon, California, Nevada and Washington.

Each region represents a branch of the national organization known as the American Association on Mental Deficiency. Dr. Frederick M. Lash, superintendent of Rainier State school, Buckley, Wash., is chairman of this region, and Superintendent L. F. Mason, Lakeland Village, Medical Lake, Wash., is secretary.

The conference opened with a welcome from Dr. Irvin B. Hill, superintendent of Fairview home. The discussions were under the chairmanship of Superintendent Frederick M. Lash.

Mason was the discussion leader covering the field of administration where problems of the selection of personnel, promotion, working hours, salaries, civil service and public relations were discussed. William C. Ryan, supervisor of state institutions in Oregon, contributed to this discussion.

The next session, on medicine, was led by Hill.

Discussions in psychology were led by Dr. Anna M. Shotwell, clinical psychologist from Pacific Colony, Spadra, Calif. Other participants in this area included Miss Kay McKulla, Jack McGee, Mrs. Betty McGee and Dr. H. Robert Otness, delegates from Rainier State school who were accompanied by Mrs. Audrey Taylor, secretary, and Keith Fuller, psychologist at Fairview home, and Dr. Hill.

The field of social service and sociology was led by Mrs. Betty McGee of Rainier State school. Mrs. Alice Miles, social worker at Fairview home, discussed the Oregon procedure. H. N. Clifton, state president of the Children's Benevolent league, and Alan Sampson, past president and legislative chairman of the league, spoke briefly.

The discussion on education was led by Mrs. Evelyn Appel, principal of the school department, Lakeland Village, Medical Lake, Wash. Here the discussion was built around the philosophy and aim of education for exceptional children. Mrs. Edith Jackson, principal of the school department at Rainier State school, Mrs. L. D. Idelman, principal at Fairview home, and Walter Snyder, director of the department of handicapped children, state of Oregon, discussed various aspects of the education of handicapped children. Dr. H. Robert Otness of Rainier State school, mentioned the shortage of teachers to handle special education throughout the country and suggested that state schools might be training laboratories for the training of special class teachers.

Following the conference a tour of Fairview home was made under the direction of Dr. Hill. Over 100 people attended the conference, the first of its kind to be held in the Pacific northwest.

Linn County Schools Observing Holiday

Albany, Nov. 10—Not only will public offices and many business establishments and industrial plants close Armistice day but all schools throughout the county will observe the day as a holiday. The schools closing was announced Wednesday by County School Supt. J. M. Bennett.

Albany's schools will likewise close, City Supt. I. R. Halseth said, giving students a double holiday, including Saturday. Furthermore, said Halseth, the Albany schools will remain closed the Friday after Thanksgiving.

Lumber Book Shelf—An entirely new method of teaching high school students facts about the region's greatest industry—lumber and forest products—has been introduced to schools of Marion county. A 12-volume Lumber book shelf, containing the finest books published on lumber, logging, forestry and natural history, has been presented recently to school libraries by local forest products firms. This new educational technique has already attracted natural interest. More than 200 Oregon and Washington high schools, libraries and colleges have received the lumber book shelves, gifts of nearby firms. National magazines have featured the plan for presenting a complete package of background information on a single industry. In Marion county Salem high school, sponsored by the Oregon Pulp & Paper company, receives the book shelf.

Eagles Open House Attracts Big Crowd

The Eagles open house and dance given Wednesday night in appreciation for public support of the iron lung campaign brought out a crowd that jammed the hall on North High street.

Brief talks were given by S. L. Griffin, president of the Eagles, and Victor Withrow, who was chairman of the campaign committee, thanking the people for their donations and interest in preventive measures against infantile paralysis.

As a result of the campaign the lodge was able to present to the Marion county chapter of the polio foundation an iron lung that cost $4000 and $1000 in money, and it was said Wednesday night that donations are still being received.

Death Call Close To Electrocuton

Albany, Nov. 10—Someone should be glad that he is alive, according to R. C. Sipe, Willamette division manager for the Mountain States Power company.

Some unknown person had a close brush with death when a balm tree he cut down fell across the 12,000-volt power line near the Oregon Electric railroad tracks at the end of West Fifth avenue, Sipe said.

The ensuing short-circuit "re-layed out" protective equipment at the Hazelwood substation, leaving East Albany, portions of North and West Albany, Jefferson, Tangent and the Cottonwoods and Riverside districts without lights.

The power was off in those districts nearly 35 minutes. Fortunately, said Sipe, the tree was short enough to miss the 66,000 volt circuit attached

Jersey Club Pick Nominees

Nominations by ballot of the membership of the Oregon Jersey Cattle club placed the names of George Gentemann, Independence and Marlin Fox, Molalla, for president, it was announced at a meeting of directors of the organization meeting here Wednesday. Floyd Bates, Salem, presided at the meeting with Jens Svith, of Grants Pass and formerly of Salem, acting as secretary.

Other names advanced for office were Lloyd Forster, Tangent; Home Shelby, Albany, and Fred Knox, Gaston, vice president. Svith was the only nominee for secretary-treasurer. Bates declined consideration for another term in office.

Minor changes in by laws, presented by a committee headed by John Linehardt, will be referred back to county clubs for

Lumber Volumes in Schools
Portland, Nov. 10—Nearly 100 western Oregon high schools have a 12-volume book shelf on lumber.

The West Coast Lumbermen's association reported today that various lumber firms had donated the books—selected by northwest educators—in an effort to give students reading material covering the whole field of lumber, logging, forestry and natural history.

BUTTERSCOTCH CANDY CAKE Quick-method recipe

Sift together into a large bowl:
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/2 teaspoons double-action baking powder (1 1/2 teaspoons single-action)
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar

Add:
1/2 cup Snowdrift (Emulsorized—quick-blending)
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup strong coffee

Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer, use "low speed"; scrape bowl often; scrape beaters after 2 minutes.

Add:
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat 1 minute. Turn into 2 greased 8" square layer pans, lined with plain paper. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 25 minutes. Cool and frost with—
