OREGON STATE COLLEGE

Hoping for a quiet rest after the Homecoming festivities, Staters found last week-end to be no refuge for the tired. One of the few week-ends of the term without some all-school event scheduled, both Friday and Saturday night were filled to the brim with dances.

Among the more prominent dances was the Sigma Chi Sweetheart ball where Joyce Vanderpool was selected as 1949-50 sweetheart. At the foresters' ball another queen was chosen. Ann Carter reigned as "Paul Bunyan's Pin-Up" under an outdoor setting. The Memorial Union decorations featured a large yellow moon surrounding models of a boy and girl in formal clothes. Fir boughs, vari-colored leaves and caricatures of personalities in Paul Bunyan's time decorated the rest of the ballroom.

Many house dances were also on the program Saturday night. Sorority pledge dances were given by Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, and Pi Beta Phi. The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity held its annual pajama dance. The Theta Chi fraternity was transformed both externally and internally into a product of the old west for their "Red Ox Stampede," using hundreds of burlap sacks and bales of hay for the main portion of decorations.

"A Buck Well Spent" is the cry of "Mr. Red Feather" as he urges all students to contribute to the Campus Chest drive this week. Three living organizations with the highest percentage of donations will be awarded "human prizes" in the form of Mary I. Bash, dean of women; Dan W. Poling, dean of men; Clifford Maser, dean of business; George W. Gleason, dean of engineering, and Kip Taylor, football coach. The winning houses will choose the faculty member they would like to have assist with house duties during next week.

All of the sorority pledges this year were honored Monday night when a special banquet was held in the Memorial union. Under the auspices of senior Panhellenic, composed of all sorority house presidents, the banquet was planned by the pledges themselves who are organized in a Junior Panhellenic, composed of the presidents of pledge classes. Dr. G. Herbert Smith, president of Willamette university, spoke to the group. Shirlee Newberry and Barbara Spagle are members of Junior Panhellenic.

Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary, paid honor to nearly 200 sophomores and juniors for scholastic achievement by presenting them with engraved honor certificates. Barbara Ann Smith received special recognition for a grade point average of above 3.5 for six terms. Others receiving awards were Peggy Burroughs, Marilyn Hill, Dan McCall and Janet Lindley. Janet was also tapped for Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honor society for freshman women.

DAYTON—The Dayton Civic club met in the club rooms in the City hall, Monday evening. After the business session, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Roy Edwards, the meeting was turned over to the program committee chairman, Mrs. Ila Paris. The program was based on the topic: "What is Thanksgiving?" Mrs. Mattie Thornton gave a Thanksgiving prayer. Mrs. Clare Heider read a Thanksgiving story. Mrs. Paris told of the first Thanksgiving. Mrs. Gordon Atkinson conducted a song game which was won by Mrs. Don Cornet. Guests were Mrs. Gaer and Mrs. Cornett. Refreshments were served by the committee, Mesdames Paris, Atkinson, Heider and Delbert Temple. There were about 27 present.
