

Central Episcopal Deanery Has Bi-annual Convention

The central deanery of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon held its bi-annual meeting at the parish house of St. Thomas' mission in Dallas on the afternoon of November 8. More than 100 delegates of the woman's auxiliary, laymen, and clergy were present from Albany, Corvallis, Dallas, Eugene, McMinnville, Monmouth, Newport, Salem, Tillamook, Toledo, and Woodburn.

The Very Rev. George H. Swift of Salem, dean of the central deanery, presided over the joint session of laymen and clergy. The group was addressed by the Rt. Rev. Benjamin D. Dagwell, bishop of Oregon, who spoke on the growth of population in the state and the necessity for the church to keep pace with that growth. He suggested that the church adopt as a slogan, "Grow with the state. Grow with Oregon."

The Rev. Louis Keiter and Miss Florence Pickard, both of Portland, spoke on the religious education of children in parishes and in rural areas.

The women's session was presided over by Mrs. Jack Danielson of Newport, vice president of the diocesan woman's auxiliary. Mrs. George H. Swift, president of the organization, discussed plans for the coming year. There were talks on youth work of the diocese by Mrs. Jean Quickenden, diocesan youth worker, and on work among the students at Corvallis by Miss Helene Schnurbush, Episcopal youth worker at Oregon State college.

Mrs. George A. Corwin of Independence described the opening service and sessions of the general convention of the Episcopal church, which met recently in San Francisco. Miss Marjorie Harris reported on various projects on social relations as worked out at general convention.

Later in the afternoon tea was served at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Fulgham. Hostesses were Mrs. Fulgham and Mrs. Tom A. King. Mrs. Cyril P. Hanney helped receive. Miss Louise Woodruff of Monmouth and Miss Theresa Hodges of Eugene presided.

The session concluded with a banquet held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 6:30 p.m. and presided over by Dean Swift. Bishop Dagwell, Mrs. Swift, and George Todd of Toledo were the principal speakers at the dinner. The Rev. Cyril P. Hanney, vicar of the Dallas mission, led group singing and entertained with music on his new accordeon. Mrs. Herbert H. Prescott was in charge of preparations for the dinner, which was furnished by the senior ladies' guild of St. Thomas' mission.

Latvians Amazed By American Food

Aurora—Recent arrivals in the United States directly from a German displaced persons camp, which had been their only home for five years or more, are Mr. and Mrs. Arkadjs Petrevics, their two small children, a son, Indulis, 5, and a daughter, Jana, 2, and Mr. Petrevic's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Peter arranged for their transportation to the U. S. and provided a new house for them on the old John Marks place, now a part of the Peter farm on the Lone Elder-Aurora road. Mr. Petrevics will work as a farm hand for Mr. Peter.

The Petrevics are Latvians, driven from their home in 1944 when the Germans and Russians were fighting bitterly over their fatherland. Both Mr. and Mrs. Petrevics are well-educated, and speak several languages, but only Mr. Petrevics, at present speaks any English.

Members of Christ Lutheran church, Aurora, gave them a welcoming party at the church bringing with them loads of fresh and canned goods as gifts to the Petrevics, who were amazed that, anywhere in the world, food would be so abundant that people could give it away in such quantities.

Farm Bureau Opens Session

La Grande, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Oregon farm bureau federation opened convention sessions today with a campaign to retain rural voting power in the state legislature at the head of the program.

The resolutions committee was told yesterday to draft policies aimed as "protection of rural voting power" against inroads of growing city electorates.

Three specific resolutions were: 1. Require signatures on initiative and referendum petitions to be representative of all sections of the state; 2. All bills of initiative measures should be accompanied by revenue provisions cleared by the state tax commission; 3. Opposition to any reapportionment of the legislative districts that would "limit or divide" the voting power of rural Oregon.

Vote on resolutions comes up Thursday. Barry Brownell, Milwaukie, was named committee chairman.

County federations of Yamhill, Benton, Tillamook and Clatsop, newly organized in the past year, were admitted into the state organization. President Lowell Steen, Salem, reported a 34 percent membership gain since the last state session. He said 4037 Oregon families are now affiliated with the bureau.

Oven-Ready TURKEYS

Cost NO More—and may cost less!

The reason for this — the price per pound of Fresh, Quick-Frozen turkeys is based on the waste-free weight — AFTER the bird is completely cleaned. Head, feet and innards are NOT included in the weight for which you pay, as they are when you buy turkeys the old-fashioned or New York dressed way. Obviously you do not need to buy as many pounds when you buy an Oven-Ready turkey.
