

SOARS WITH BAT-LIKE WINGS

Forest Service Smokejumper Claims He Flies 'Like a Bird'

Cave Junction, Ore., Nov. 16 (AP)—Bob Nolan, 23, Gardena, Cal., smokejumper for the forest service, said today he has been able to soar in the air "like a big bird" with a special batman harness of nylon wings.

That is, he has been able to "fly" for about 300 yards in the air by waving his homemade wings back and forth after jumping from a plane at 6,000 feet over a mountain meadow.

"I've been experimenting around with a suit of parachute harness and two big wings of nylon, one sheet attached between my legs and the other fastened between my wrists and hips," Nolan said.

"We gave it a try up here in the mountains last Saturday. I jumped from the plane and fell about 1500 feet before the wings started working. When I flapped them about, I found I was able to go into a kind of glide. It was a real surprise. I felt like a big bird."

He said the glide went 300 yards against the wind, and then he began to fall "like any heavy object."

The he pulled his emergency parachute rope and came down normally.

Witnesses to Nolan's feat were Paul Block, another smokejumper; E. A. Scholz of Bridgeport, Conn., father of the pilot; and Cliff Marshall, a foreman at the Redwoods ranger station here.

"Block and I had been talking about it for a long time," Nolan said. Now I intend to make another outfit—a little better than the first—and try it again."

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By SID BOISE

QUESTION: My hobby is photography and during the past several years I've accumulated equipment worth quite a respectable sum of money. I've always listed the equipment in my regular Residence Theft insurance but when I recently purchased a rather expensive camera, I was told it would be a good idea to take out a special camera insurance policy. Can you tell me how to go about it?

ANSWER: So long as your photography is of the amateur variety, it would be better to continue insuring your equipment under your Residence Theft policy. If you will make sure that the "theft away from the premises" clause is included and that your particularly valuable pieces of equipment are individually insured for their full value in the policy, you'll have pretty complete protection.

If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

Nothing IS FREE!

You Pay THE BILL Regardless.

COMPULSORY HEALTH INSURANCE, under the guise of broadening Social Security, would make wage earners more and more subservient to an already top-heavy Federal bureaucracy. Every individual would pay the full price of his medical care, through deductions and additional taxes—and would further pay in lowered quality, less freedom of choice, and snarls of red tape.

In a nation-wide survey by Opinion Research Corporation, three-fourths of the people stated their Doctor's bills were fair and reasonable. For large and unexpected medical and hospital bills, 87 1/2% preferred VOLUNTARY pre-payment plans.

NOTHING is free about a COMPULSORY Health Tax . . . don't allow it to become a compulsory tax burden. Tell your Congressmen and Senators you do not want it, and have your clubs act.
