

Aerial Seeding Under Way In Linn Forest Districts

Lebanon, Nov. 17—Operating off the Lebanon airport, a helicopter from the Central Helicopter company of Seattle began re-seeding logged off and burned areas of Linn county forests. Three trips were made Tuesday, and two planned for Wednesday will complete the aerial reforestation program.

Forest planting is going forward on the largest scale ever before attempted in Linn county, under the direction of the county fire patrol with headquarters at Sweet Home.

Hand-planted trees are being set out and this work will continue all winter, furnishing year around employment for men who serve on regular forest jobs during the summer fire months.

A three-man administration crew is directing the work: Mel Crawford, warden of the fire patrol association; Alvin Byrd, conservation inspector for the state department of forestry; and Alton Brutscher, dispatcher for the fire patrol.

Current planting is being carried on in the Middle Fork and South Santiam areas, which include 120 acres. Similar operations will follow on 270 acres in the Calapooya river region, and 310 acres on McDowell creek.

The year-old nurslings set out by hand come from the Nisqually, Wash., forest industries nursery.

It was announced that like plantings are being carried out by the Hill company at their own cost on all Hill holdings in this area.

The 'copter plantings will seed 160 acres in the Roaring river area, 440 acres near Scott creek and 160 acres in the Scott creek drainage area.

Of the seeds that germinate, two-thirds survive, or 10,000 trees can be expected from the 15,000 seed to the acre broadcast by the 'copter method, the forest official explained.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 17 (AP)—Tacoma's population is now 139,000, according to the new 1949 city directory issued by R. L. Polk & Co. which made it's appearance here today.

Margwens to Open Friday

Friday morning at 9 o'clock Margwens's, the fifth store to be completed in the Capitol Shopping Center, will open its doors. The store is slated to have its official opening all that day with doors to remain open until 9 p.m. It will also, be open for business all day.

Margwens's is to be operated by Mrs. William L. Allen and her daughter, Margaret Allen, who already have a downtown store, the Moderne, which is a gift and specialty shop.

The new shopping center store will handle exclusive infants' and children's wear, gifts and toys covering an area of 3,100 square feet. It is located immediately north of the new Kress store on Capitol street, and has entrances on both Capitol street and the parking lot.

Walls, fixtures and lighting in the store will be in blending shades of stone, leaf-green, flame sprout, sweet-pink, citron, sandalwood and ruby, with each department to have its own color scheme. Air conditioning is also a feature of the store.
