

Ex-Oregonian Held for Murder

Hope, Ark., Nov. 17 (AP) — A 20-year-old Massachusetts war veteran admitted that he killed a Negro man, critically wounded and robbed a white farmer, and kidnaped a service station operator during the span of a few hours, police said today.

Rolland Gove, a tall, wavy-haired youth from Haverhill, Mass., was arrested in Texarkana, Tex., where he fled from here in a taxicab. Cab Driver J. B. Turnage spotted him late yesterday in the Texarkana business district after he learned police sought the passenger he had just discharged.

Gove was returned here for questioning. The district attorney's office said murder and kidnaping charges would be filed against him.

Police said Gove admitted serving a sentence in Oregon for auto theft.

Fruit compotes may be varied endlessly. For instance, dried stewed figs may be mixed with a can of apricots for a delicious dessert.

Oversize Foliage—As the last of autumn's leaves fell, attention focused on those of the native maple, reputed to be the largest of their kind on record in this area. Having a final romp under one of the city's oldest maples at the corner of Grant and Second street, is Lana McGann, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McGann of Lebanon. She displays maple leaves with a 17-inch span. (Express photo)

Open House at Highland School

To find out what their children do at school all day, and also become better acquainted with their teachers, more than 500 mothers and dads crowded Highland school Tuesday night at the annual open house.

since the beginning of the fall term. Members of the Highland Mothers' club served refreshments in the school cafeteria during the evening. The children of the school are beginning work on a Christmas program to present to the Mothers' club at their next meeting. The regular monthly meeting has been postponed from December 8, until December 15. It is hoped that the curtain and lights for the stage will be installed by that time.
