Public Housing Program Slowly Getting Under Way

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—The government's public housing program is slowly getting a start. At this point, though, it has only reached the beginning of the planning stage.

Because more than 25,000,000 low-income people live in slums and run-down city or farm homes, this program—passed by Congress and signed into law by President Truman last July 15—has three aims:

1. To wipe out slums, although this program won't wipe out all of them.
2. Build houses where low-income families who can afford only low rent can get decent homes.
3. Aid poor farmers in putting needed repairs on their homes or building new ones.

The cost to the government is between $7 billion and $12 billion spread over 40 years in grants, or outright gifts of money; plus about $3 billion or so in loans, which the government will get back.

Most of the money will go to cities and communities. They'll hire private contractors to clear the slums and build public housing.

The government will help when the cities and communities can't pay the bill themselves.

The only individuals who'll get money are poor farmers, if they're approved by the government.

And they can't get it unless they can't get money any other way. They'll get two kinds of help: loans and grants.

The public, low-cost housing program calls for 810,000 units to be built in the next six years. Not a nail has been driven into a shingle yet under this program. The program is getting under way, but only to this extent:

The government this week approved loans of $20,375,400 to 108 cities to make surveys and plans for a total of 134,000 low-rent homes.

Since they're only at the start of the planning stage, no building of homes can start before next year.

When the plans and surveys are finished, the 108 cities and communities can come back and ask the government for help in building the homes.

The government can make loans to the communities up to 90 per cent of the total cost of the projects. The loans to be repaid in 40 years, at interest.

The other two parts of the program—help to poor farmers and slum clearance—haven't

Lauder Jokes On Sick Bed

Strathaven, Scotland, Nov. 21 (AP)—Sir Harry Lauder is still cracking jokes during what may be his last illness. The old-time Scottish comedian has been dangerously ill for three months. He has thrombosis (blood clot) in his right leg and a severe kidney ailment. He is 79, and for many weeks friends have feared for his life.

But the old man hangs on. The doctors let him smoke his pipe now and again. And he still gets a bang out of cracking wise with his close friend and physician, Dr. John Stewart, and the few other friends who are allowed to see him.

A spokesman at his home, however, said today his condition has been unchanged during the last month and there are no grounds yet for any optimism.

Earlier, his physician had been quoted as saying he was confident Sir Harry would recover from his illness.

Residents of Aurora Community Injured

Aurora—Numerous accidents the past week are reported. John Harms, 30, of Lone Elder, was injured when a piece of steel, possibly from an ax he was using in the timber, entered his eye. He was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, Portland by ambulance after an examination by Canby physicians. Richard A. Waggoner, Gaymoor farm, was treated by local physicians, for a right foot injury, suffered when he was stepped on by a cow. Charles D. Harter, senior member of the wood dealer firm of Harter and Son, suffered a
