

Oregon Rural Phone Firms Seek Info on Federal Aid

By WILLIAM E. LOWELL

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—Western States have been relatively slow in showing interest in the government's new rural telephone program.

Congress, shortly before adjournment, authorized loans for improvement, expansion, construction, acquisition and operation of telephone lines in "rural" areas.

'Fed Up With the Sea'—After following the sea for 12 years, Captain Francesco Al-locca of Vancouver, B. C., has decided he is "fed up with the sea" and plans to seek peace as a monk at a monastery in Italy. (Acme Telephoto)

Malecki, Turkey Over Atlantic

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Gene Malecki of 815 Wildwind drive, Salem, Ore., was off for Turkey today with turkeys.

One of them, a prize 8½-month-old, 38½-pound tom of the Oregon broadbreast bronze variety, named "Unity," was in a cage for presentation the day before American Thanksgiving to President Ismet Inonu of Turkey.

Two others, 25 pounds each, dressed, stuffed and complete with cranberries, were to be presented to Inonu and Cemal Yessil, Turkey's secretary general.

Malecki has already given away two other turkeys on behalf of the Pacific Coast Turkey exhibit—one to President Truman and the other to the Turkish ambassador at Washington.

"Unity," Malecki said, was raised by Dick Rain of McMinnville, Ore., and won top honors at the McMinnville show over 100,000 other birds.

Malecki said he planned to visit in Turkey with a University of Oregon classmate named Kaya, who was best man at his wedding. Didn't say if he's taking him a turkey.

Skeleton Arouses Interest in K. F.

Klamath Falls, Nov. 22 (AP)—A human skeleton found on the upper Klamath lake shore set off an investigation in the nearby Klamath Indian reservation area yesterday.

State police said the bones were scattered, possibly by coyotes, and appeared to have been exposed by the receding waters of the lake. The skull has been sent to the Portland crime laboratory for examination.

The bones were found by Sports Fishermen E. H. Martin and Fred Wymer, both of Klamath Falls, while fishing near Barclay Springs Saturday.

that, at the end of last year, not more than 42 per cent of the nation's farms had telephone service.

REA estimates that 78 per cent of farms have electric service now, compared with 46 per cent in 1945.

Project Leaders Meet

Grand Island—Mrs. Ernest Douglas and Mrs. Lester Scrogan of Grand Island, who are members of the Unionvale Home Demonstration unit, attended the project leaders training at the 4-H club building at McMinnville. The Unionvale unit November monthly meeting was postponed to December 1 at the Unionvale church with Miss Alma Hartman demonstrator on "Color and Design."
