

LeDoux-Randall Rites Solemnized at Mt. Angel

Mt. Angel—A pretty wedding of the late autumn season took place in St. Luke's Catholic church, Woodburn, Miss Loretta Irene Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August G. Randall of Woodburn, being wed to Francis X. LeDoux, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. LeDoux of Mt. Angel, on Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock. Rev. F. J. Hanley read the nuptial mass and the vows for the double ring ceremony, before the altar decorated with all shades of chrysanthemums and ferns and candle light, Mrs. E. S. Donnelly played the professional and recessional wedding marches and was accompanied by Bernard Smith of Woodburn, who sang.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father who gave her in marriage. She made a charming picture in her ivory slipper satin wedding gown fashioned in Victorian style. It was designed with a round neckline on a deep nylon yoke of the fitted bodice, long sleeves with points at the wrist and the satin drape of the off-the-shoulder collar was repeated in a wide panel around the bouffant skirt, which terminated in a court train. The fingertip veil of French imported illusion was held by a Mary Stuart headress of illusion dotted with seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was an orchid surrounded by white rosebuds in a spray and her three strand pearl necklace was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Caroline Zuber of Woodburn was maid of honor and Mrs. Dwayne Boline of Salem (Yvonne LeDoux) and Miss Lois Manning of Milwaukie, cousin of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of winter rose slipper satin designed with a rounded neckline on the nylon yoke and a fold of satin edged in chantilly lace at the shoulder line dipping to points in the back, which also formed the sleeves on the fitted bodice. The floor length bouffant skirt was caught up in the front at the hemline to reveal ruffles of chantilly lace.

Their ensemble included matching mitts and Mary Stuart bonnets trimmed with gardenias, all in winter-rose satin, and they carried crescent sprays of white button chrysanthemums centered with a large yellow chrysanthemum and rows of winter-rose satin. Brother of the bridegroom, Richard LeDoux, served as best man, and ushers were Dwayne Boline of Salem, William Brasel, cousin of the bride, Raymond LeDoux and Joseph LeDoux, all of Woodburn.

Immediately following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served at the Filbert Grove, Woodburn, with covers placed for Rev. F. J. Hanley, Rev. Damian Jentges of Mt. Angel, the bride party and their parents. The winter-rose and blue color scheme was carried out in the table decor.

A reception was held during the afternoon at the St. Mary's dining hall, Mt. Angel, with a large number of relatives and friends present. Mrs. William Brasel of Woodburn, aunt of the bride, cut the cake. Mrs. W. S. McClain of Salem presided at the silver coffee service. The buffet supper table was centered with a large tiered wedding cake and an arrangement of white lighted candles and white chrysanthemums. Serving the guests were Mrs. R. J. Welton of Mt. Angel, Mrs. A. Zuber, Mrs. Frank Beck, Miss Arlene Zuber, all of Woodburn, Miss Mary McClaine and Miss Maxine Schwab of Salem, Mrs. Harold Wellman of Scotts Mills passed the guest book. In charge of the gift tables were Mrs. Al Manning of Milwaukie, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. J. L. Wachter, aunt of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Randall chose a sapphire blue silk afternoon dress trimmed with silver shot and navy blue accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. LeDoux, mother of the bridegroom, wore a bottle green crepe afternoon dress trimmed with bronze beading, with black and green accessories. They both wore corsages of gardenias and rose buds.

For going away the bride chose a brown striped wool tailleur to which she pinned her or-
