

How Can Man Become a Bust? Get Job as a Veep of the U. S.

By ARTHUR EDSON

Washington, Dec. 1 (AP)—Congress has its work cut out for it when it returns in January: it has to find some place for the busts of Henry A. Wallace and Harry S. Truman.

While the congressmen are at it, they also can find spots for John Paul Jones and Brigham Young.

Capitol Architect David Lynn admitted today that congress is falling behind at its bust-placing. But there's a reason for this. Statuary Hall is being redecorated, and it was thought best to wait until this job was completed.

But now congress can dally no longer.

Maybe you wonder, how does a man become a bust?

Well, the ways are various. One of the simplest ways is to get yourself a job as vice-president of the U. S.

Then the bust goes into the Capitol automatically.

Or you can be a big shot in your home state. Every state is entitled to two busts. That's how Brigham Young got in. Utah wanted to honor the man who led the Mormon exodus into the wilderness.

Or you can be a miscellaneous here, which seems like a tougher way.

After all these years, the navy is sponsoring John Paul Jones.

As for the Messrs. Wallace and Truman, their busts are ready and waiting. Charles Keck did one of Mr. Truman, in 1947. Wallace's bust, by Jo Davidson, was completed last year.

In case your history is hazy: Mr. Truman hasn't been a vice-president since April, 1945. Wallace gave up vice-presiding on Jan. 20, 1945.

Finding a spot for the new busts won't be at all easy. For this nation always has turned out a plentiful supply of heroes.

The memory of some of these have faded with the passing years.

Why did Arkansas honor Urfah M. Rose with a bust in the nation's Capitol? Why was John Campbell Greenway similarly honored by Arizona? Or Miguel

Haley Beauty Shop to Open

Friday is the day for the grand opening of Haley's Beauty Shop, newest addition to the Capital Shopping center.

The shop, owned and operated by Mrs. Emma Haley, who for 26 years has been a resident of Salem, is located in the north end of the Sears, Roebuck building. Hours for the opening are to be from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Special feature of the opening will be the presence of A. Ross, representative of Riling company of New York, who will that day give free consultation on hair problems. Each guest will also be presented a gift.

Modern in every detail, the shop's interior combines chaireuse and light oak in its finish. The wall being done in a washable carterse paint. All equipment is new and is by Modcraft of New York.

The owner and operator of the shop for 24 years operated a shop in the Miller store build-

Silverton Highway Move Brings Many Signatures

Silverton — Walter Geren, secretary of the Silverton Chamber of Commerce, explains the brief of the petitions being circulated at the discretion of the forum executive board, and apparently meeting with general signer approval.

The facts of the deferred completion of the Silverton highway

The last few miles into Silver-

The last few miles into Silverton from Steffens Corner to where the highway is finished, was held up by petitions to the county court by property owners' objections to the proposed state and federal highway route. Apparently the expensive railway over-pass near the city lim-ing and for the past 15 years has had the Oregon School of Beauty Culture here. Mrs. Haley was on the state board of cosmetology for four years.

Mrs. Haley has hired as her manager, Mrs. Therese Lowrey, who before coming to Salem was in Portland as stylist for Bedells. The other hair stylist with the shop is Miss Ann Carstenson from Astoria. Operators at the shop are Miss Maria M. Rom and Mrs. Phyllis Medler Adams.

its had a deferring influence at least the Chamber of Commerce executive board felt that it did

Briefly, the new petitions ask that the state and federal proposed route be used, practically as first outlined, with the exception that the highway cross the railroad tracks, doing away with the overhead pass.

Members of the forum board include Harold Bartsch, president; Walter Geren, secretary; Elmer Johnson, vice president; Elmer Olsen, treasurer; and directors, Craig Clark, Maurice Schnorenberg, Bill Bloch, Ted Burien, Paul Innes and Lowell Paup.

Jose Junipere Serra by California?

The answers: Rose was a famed international lawyer in the early 1900's; Greenway was an outstanding soldier, a member of the famous Rough Riders; and Junipere Serra was an early-day missionary.

But the moderns do, too.
