Meyers, Settlement Honored by Shrine

By JAMES D. OLSON

Milton L. Meyers of Salem and Frank Settlement of Woodburn are among six members of Al Kadar temple of the Mystic Shrine who will be honored at a ceremonial holding membership in the temple.

The ceremonial will be held at six of the half-century nobles will be given tangible recognition of their long years of fealty to Al Kadar temple.

Noble Meyers is the second oldest member of Al Kadar temple, having crossed the "hot sands" in 1895. He holds membership card No. 220.

Two years later Noble Settlement became a member of the temple with a membership card numbered 249. Ceremonial classes in Al Kadar in these days average between 200 and 400 men, but back in the days that the two Marion county men became members the classes numbered only a few and the total membership was exceedingly small.

Elmer J. Church, president of the Salem Shrine club, will lead a large delegation of Marion county Shriners to Portland Saturday to witness the tribute paid to the two Marion county 50-year members, together with the four others who have been members for more than a half-century.

The first section of the ceremonial will open at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, following a parade through the downtown streets of the metropolis. Dinner will be served in the basement of

Two Airmen Row 8 Miles to Safety

Honolulu, T.H., Dec. 8 (AP)—Two navy airmen rowed eight miles to shore in a life raft and a third was presumed drowned when their single engine torpedo bomber crashed in the sea southeast of Molokai Tuesday night.

The navy identified the two survivors as Lt. David Warfield, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Warfield, Oakland, Calif., and aviation machinist mate James B. Capps, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Capps, Montgomery, Ala. The missing man's name was not revealed.

The plane was on a routine night flight, crashed and sank immediately. The two men were met on the beach at Molokai by civilians who had been asked by police to make a search of the shore. Four boats were dispatched from Pearl Harbor to search for the third flyer.

Girard Davidson Not Saying If He Will Run Against Morse

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—Assistant Secretary of the Interior C. Girard Davidson isn't talking about published reports that: A. He is in line to become undersecretary of the interior, an office which became vacant December 1 when Oscar L. Chapman moved up to become secretary.

B. He may resign to run for the senate against Wayne Morse (R-Ore).

The native Louisianan, who now claims Portland, Ore., as his home, says only that he is "busy with my present job."

He willingly reaffirms his earlier pronouncements that: He has been "approached" by some democrats to quit his Washington career and try to win Morse's office.

He is not happy with Morse's stand against a Columbia Valley Authority. (Davidson is a leader in President Truman's proposed program for establishment of a valley administration in the Pacific northwest.)

He plans eventually to resume the practice of law in Oregon.

Secretary Chapman told reporters last week he has given no thought to the selection of an undersecretary. He is not expected to act in that connection until after congress reconvenes next month.

Davidson recently told a reporter who asked him if he planned to leave interior by the middle of next May:

"You mean the middle of next March. That's when Oregon's filings for the senate close."

Unopposed GOP Ticket Urged

Portland, Dec. 8 (AP)—The republican Women's Federation urged Tuesday that the party have a single, unopposed slate of candidates in next year's primaries in Oregon.

The resolution recommended that "republicans generally in the state subordinate all differences they may have . . . and, for the good of the party . . . in November 1950, work for renomination of our present republican incumbents in office, both state and national."

State Sen. Philip S. Hitchcock, Klamath Falls, told the delegates of the state meeting that the democratic party does something for everyone except the small businessman. He said republicans have been branded as reactionaries, but "the worst kind of reaction of which the republicans are accused would only turn the clock back 30 years, while the democrats would turn it back thousands of years to the time of the Pharaohs and statism."

He added, however, this is not a time of turning back but "of taking those changes that are desirable and stopping before we reach the extremes that take away man's liberty and rob him of ambition."

CHILD SPECIALIST CLAIMS—

Some Habits as Employe Hurt Girl in Being a Good Mother

By PAUL F. ELLIS

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—Dr. Leo Kanner of Johns Hopkins hospital said today a former secretary too often is a poor mother because she regards her child more or less as a substitute for her typewriter.

The Baltimore physician told an American Medical association's clinical meeting here that the same holds true for salesgirls, factory workers, laboratory technicians, librarians and nurses.

Claiming that the old-fashioned method of raising children still is the best, Kanner said a mother's cultural influences are apt to deprive her children of affection.

"Young women are no longer reared for the main purpose of becoming wives and mothers," he said. "Most girls nowadays are prepared for a vocation."

"This mode of living prior to marriage can be a major boon to the stable woman who comes to married life enriched by the responsibility, activity and associations which the job affords her. But very often the job puts a premium on punctuality, meticulousness and perfectionism which it often becomes impossible for the mother to shake off when dealing with her children."

This difficulty, he said, is most pronounced in the case of "the first born child of the secretary, the salesgirl, the factory worker, the laboratory technician, the librarian, or the nurse."

The child, he said, bears the "whole brunt of tense perfectionism, being more or less a substitute for the typewriter, the cash register, the machine, the test tube, the book shelf or the medicine cabinet."

Kanner said pediatricians, psychologists, and psychiatrists have "added their shares to the mechanization and intimidation of mothers in the first quarter of this century."

"Calories were calculated, and the clock determined the number of feedings and hours of sleep for the baby," he said. "The new system made the mechanical robots of mothers."

Kanner had a few good things to say about modern-day mothers, however.

"There are many calm, stable, fond mothers who do not allow themselves to be swayed by all these cultural assaults on their common sense," he said.
