2 Women's Service Clubs Meet

Two local women's service clubs held their meetings, Wednesday.

Soroptimist club met for luncheon at the Golden Pheasant, and attending were two members from the Corvallis club, Mrs. Etha Raw and Mrs. E. Fisher.

Dates for the spring conference for Soroptimist clubs in this district — including Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Montana—were set for April 14, 15 and 16. The general directorate for the convention will include the club president, Mrs. Glenn McCormick, and Mrs. H. G. Mason, Mrs. Eitel Lau and Mrs. Marie Ling. Full committee appointments for the convention groups will be announced later.

For the meeting next Wednesday noon, Mrs. Mable E. Hayes, recreation supervisor and librarian at the state hospital, is to be the speaker.

Altrusa Club Dinner

Altrusa club members gathered for a dinner session at the Marion hotel last evening, Mrs. Earle P. Delaney, president, in charge.

The group voted to sponsor a Christmas project, Mrs. Verne Robb being chairman of the committee.

Because of the holidays, no social is planned this month and the next dinner meeting will be the first Wednesday of January at the Marion hotel.

Dinner Events

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Caughell are entertaining at two informal dinner gatherings this week.

Last evening their guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Drager, who are here from Manila; Dr. and Mrs. John J. Griffith and Mr. and Mrs. Breyman Boise.

On Friday evening, the Caughells will entertain as dinner guests the Rev. and Mrs. George H. Swift and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carson.

Group Entertained

Zena—Sunrise Farm, home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford, Sr., was beautifully decorated in the Christmas theme when Mrs. Crawford entertained with the annual holiday party for Spring Valley Home Missionary society. Assisting were Mesdames Lee Gibson, Wilfred L. Lantis and Robert F. Yungen.

Attending the affair were Miss Esther Barthelme, Mrs. R. Whitney and Mrs. Fred Mespelt as guests; ten children and 30 members. Numbers on the program, arranged by Mrs. Lois Crawford, program director, were Christmas carols in unison, with Mrs. James S. Smart as accompanist; piano number, medley of Christmas carols, by Mrs. James S. Smart; Christmas songs, Miss Esther Barthelme; piano solo by Ruth Carlson.

Mrs. R. V. Carlson, president, conducted the meeting, when the group voted to send cheer baskets to a family of mother and four small children, and to the oldest residents.

Mrs. W. D. Henry, birthday chairman, presented gifts to those whose birthday occur in December, including Mesdames C. F. Merrick, Mrs. Robert F. Yungen, Carl Loop, Byron Purvine, V. L. Gibson. The January hostess list includes Mesdames Fred Muller, Ben McKinney, Leta Munson and Harold Washburn. Mrs. R. C. Shepard, devotional leader, read the Bible story of Christmas.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses, following a gift exchange.
