More Blood Donors Needed

With about 170 pints of Red Cross collected blood being used monthly in Marion county now, it is essential that more persons sign up as donors for the visitations of the bloodmobile from the Portland regional blood center reports the Red Cross office. December visitation of the mobile unit will be tomorrow (Tuesday) at the First Methodist church, 2 to 6 p.m. Less than 100 persons so far have signed up to donate for the Tuesday visitation. The unit is set up to accommodate a goodly number of "drop ins," those who may not have made appointments, and it is hoped there will be a large number of these Tuesday.

Families who have benefitted from Red Cross collected blood also are being invited to ask relatives or friends to make volunteer replacements, although such act is not mandatory. The Red Cross blood is given free of charge to all in need of it with no strings attached, but it is very helpful when those who have received such blood in time of emergency seek to have it replaced, the Red Cross office states.

Fugitives May Be Far South

State police believed today that two Oregon criminal insane patients are in California, perhaps again in Los Angeles.

A car stolen from the hospital two nights after the December 2 break by four patients was found near the Oregon-California border south of Klamath Falls. A farmer near Eugene told Saturday of swapping 10 gallons of gasoline for a spare tire and wheel from the car and identified the occupants as the escapees.

The two men, Robert M. Burr, 21, Oregon City, and Marion E. Watson, 21, Manteca, Calif., fled to Los Angeles last year after an escape. They assaulted a motorist near Oregon City and fled southward in the car. State police headquarters said the car, which belonged to W. J. Willard, an attendant at the insane hospital, was found last Wednesday south of Klamath Falls. A spare tire and wheel were missing and police began a check along the route to Salem on the possibility the gasoline had been swapped for the ashore.

Sgt. Vern Hill, Eugene, reported Saturday night he had traced the tire and wheel to Auber Carter of near Goshen. Sgt. Hill quoted Carter as identifying the men in the car as Burr and Watson. He said they stopped him about 3 a.m., December 5, and made the swap. "Who is Meese?" asked Cashier Rosemary Perkins. "It is me," said the note pusher.

Robber Outwitted By Cashier at Show

Spokane, Dec. 12 (AP)—"Give

Meese All Your Cash," said a note pushed at a theatre cashier. "Who is Meese?" asked Cashier Rosemary Perkins. "It is me," said the note pusher. Miss Perkins told police there were no theatre patrons in sight when the man with the note first appeared. By the time she got the misspelled word straightened out, several persons entered the lobby and the man fled.

Sweden Awards Nobel Prizes

Stockholm, Dec. 12 (AP)—In the presence of seven members of royalty, three 1949 Nobel prize winners have received their awards for outstanding scientific achievement.

From a flower-adorned podium in the Stockholm concert house, Dr. Hideki Yukawa, Japanese member of the Columbia university faculty; William Francis Glauque, Canadian-born member of the University of California faculty; and Dr. Walter Rudolf Hess of Switzerland stepped down to receive their prizes—approximately $30,000 each—from the hand of Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf.

Dr. Antonio Egaz Moniz, 75, who shared the medical prize with Dr. Hess, was unable to come to Stockholm for the ceremonies because of poor health. Lord Boyd Orr, a Scotsman, was given the Nobel peace prize in Oslo earlier today.

Dr. Yukawa was awarded the physics prize for his postulation of the meson, the matter which holds electrons and protons together in the atom. Dr. Glauque won the chemistry prize for his studies of the actions of atoms at temperatures of extreme cold, near absolute zero. The medical prize went to Drs. Hess and Egaz Moniz for their development of the prefrontal lobotomy, a brain operation intended to help some of those who are mentally ill. No prize in literature was awarded this year.

Rita's Baby Expected Sometime This Week

Lausanne, Switzerland, Dec. 12 (AP)—Prince Aly Khan's spokesman says he thinks Rita Hayworth may have her baby this week.

The spokesman, Claude Payot of the Lausanne tourist office, said he hadn't been taken into the complete confidence of the expectant couple. But, said he, he thinks the birth is imminent.

Rita, who married the prince May 27, has been awaiting the baby in Lausanne since November 5. She has been living quietly and left her hotel suite yesterday for the first time in five days, to visit Prince Aly's half brother, Prince Sadruddin, on the outskirts of Lausanne.

Parents Pray for a Miracle To Save Eyesight of Son, 2

Seattle, Dec. 12 (AP)—The parents of little Dean Ault, 2, prayed hopefully today "for some miracle" that could save the sight of their cancer stricken son.

Meanwhile a friendly black Cocker Spaniel puppy was due from Montreal by air this morning, sent by a woman who had read the story of Dean's plight.

"When I heard that little Dean has lost one eye and was soon to lose the other, my heart went out to his parents," said Mrs. May Alleston in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ault, the parents, are awaiting the verdict of three doctors who examined the boy last week.

Dean's right eye was removed about two months ago and an eye specialist warned the Aults recently that removal of the other was the only means of saving his life.

Four Soldiers Die in Smoke-Filled Cabin

Tacoma, Dec. 12—A soldier awaiting the arrival of his wife from Texas died yesterday with three friends in a smoke-filled tourist cabin.

Army officials said the four suffocated in the smoke from a smoldering couch. A dropped cigarette was believed to have been the cause.

Dead were Cpls. Bill Bond, 31, and James R. Elliott, 28; Sgt. Bill Pendleton, 32, and Pfc. Dennis Phelps, 22. They were members of the 11th anti-aircraft division, recently shifted from Texas to Fort Lewis.

The army report said the four had been preparing the cabin for the arrival of Bond's wife, who learned of their deaths when she reached here later in the day.

Back from Montana Pleasantdale—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Winger of Pleasantdale have returned home from Butte, Montana, after four days spent there with their son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gross, and their daughter Oranne, born October 8. Mrs. Gross will be remembered as Miss Phyllis Winger and her home was here before her marriage.

Hedge Without Legal Rights as Father

Los Angeles, Dec. 12 (AP)—Leroy Hedge, 21, who claims paternity of the son born October 15 to unwed Loretta Miller, 17, has no legal rights as a parent, says Superior Judge Arnold Praeger.

Hedge is trying to keep the girl from offering the infant for adoption. His attorney told the judge "mothers should not have the right to say whether a father should be a father or not."

Judge Praeger replied, "the legislature has given her that right. Under the law, the mother is the only parent of an illegitimate child."
