Cleveland, Dec. 14 (AP)—If Russia fails to gain control of western Europe, she will lose her hold in eastern Europe and may even cease herself to be a "slave state," Paul G. Hoffman predicts.

Flier Found After Six Day Search

Glendale, Calif., Dec. 14 (AP)—A young flier is recovering today from serious injuries from being marooned for six days without food after his plane crashed onto a snow-covered 7,000-foot high mountain.

Physicians said that the airman, Robert Bryant, 26, may have suffered a fractured skull as well as frozen feet and a back injury. He is at Glendale sanitarium.

Air searchers spotted him yesterday as he stumbled feebly through a rugged, snow-mantled canyon. A ground party reached him and found the plucky fellow in surprisingly good shape for a man who had eaten only acorns since last Wednesday.

He was found struggling through Sespe canyon, some two miles from where his two-place Culler Cadet pancaked near the top of 7000-foot Devil's Heart peak in the Topa Topa mountains, some 70 miles northwest of here.

"You sure look good to me," were Bryant's first words, spoken through chapped and cracked lips to the 13-man rescue party. The young radar technician hiked a mile and a half with the rescue party before becoming too weak to go farther. He was brought to a waiting ambulance in an improvised stretcher.

Bess Houwtje Veeman Test Period Finished

Bess Houwtje Veeman, a registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Walter M. Brog, Salem, has completed a 331-day production test of 603 pounds of butterfat and 18,810 pounds of milk made in Herd Improvement Registry.

Testing was supervised by Oregon State college, in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

"Bess" was milked two times daily and was 4 years 8 months of age when she began her test period.

Robbers Captured

Nubieber, Calif., Dec. 14 (AP)—Two Klamath Falls men were held today on suspicion of armed robbery at this Lassen county town. They were arrested six miles west of here last night when their car overturned soon after police started a chase following an unsuccessful effort to hold up a cafe. The men were hooked by Deputy Sheriff Jim Snipes as Wilbur H. Blackman, 31, and Paul McGowan, 35.

Uninhibited Children Make Parents Unhappy Generation

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Children raised on the "don't inhibit the little darling" psychology books are ruining American social life and rapidly turning their parents into a generation of miserable hermits, a mother-lawyer-writer said today.

What the books, in the hands of doting parents, are turning the children into, Mrs. Evelyn Barkins hesitates to predict. She's afraid it's the insane asylum.

"Most of the children of my friends are awful," said the 31-year-old doctor's wife who expects to produce her third book shortly before her fourth child next spring.

"They're given everything they ask for, she said. They do everything they feel like. They monopolize the conversation, they're vicious, and they're destructive. It's just not civilized," in Mrs. Barkins' opinion.

"But their parents are so accustomed to it, they just sit and say, 'don't do that, dear,' in a weak voice. The children don't pay any attention.

"We just can't see half our friends any more," Mrs. Barkins said. "You can't ask them without the children. If you call on them you spend the whole time admiring the children's drawings and listening to them babble about what they learned in current events. Even in the dead of night, toys poke at you out of the sofa and baby carriages trip you in the hall."

Mrs. Barkins said her own children were being raised without benefit of psychology books. They've got manners — just like grandfathers taught them. That makes them pleasant to have around, Mrs. Barkins said.

They've also got frustrations. That, she hopes, may keep them sane. She's afraid hordes of their contemporaries are going to get stark raving crazy when they grow up and discover "the rest of the world won't kowtow as dear little mama and papa used to do."

Needy Not Forgotten

The coordinated group represents many organizations who are pooling their financial resources and manpower to do a good job with no duplication. A call for money and clothing has been issued.

Macley Clubs Join For Holiday Affair
Macley—The Macley Community club and Macley Women's club met in joint session at the schoolhouse for a Christmas party.

After a no-host supper, the following program was presented: musical numbers by the Arthur Johnson family; vocal numbers by Dick Johnson and Hubert Aspinwall; readings, W. F. Cole and Lowena Horsley; skits, by Mrs. Wilbur Miller and Mrs. F. Magar, and Leroy Horsley; presentation of 4-H awards, by Mrs. Ethel Ramas. The group voted to make candies for the school.

Harry Martin, Jr. is president of the Community club and Mrs. Joseph Wodzowoda of the Women's club.

Church Society Offers Prayers
Jefferson — For the monthly meeting of WWS members met at the home of Mrs. Geneva Meyers. The devotional leader, Mrs. Harry Oldenberg, opened the meeting with Christmas selections, and the scripture reading. The leader told of missions in different countries, among them Germany, Puerto Rico and Africa. After singing, Miss Klampe gave the current events. Mrs. James Hague read a letter from Miss Laura Mauk from Japan. Twelve members answered to roll call, also visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Knickerbocker, Mrs. Henry Freeman, Mrs. Vanas and Miss Hattie Calfee and Mrs. Leonard Stowe of Albany. Prayers by Mrs. Don Davis and Anna Klampe were offered for missionaries and members having a birthday during the month. Gifts were to be sent to the missions in Kentucky. A plaque was to be presented to Mrs. Campbell, who is recuperating from an operation.

The meeting was closed by prayer by Mrs. Gerald Stowe. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Assisting were Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. John Kins, Mrs. Knickerbocker.

Operation Enables Baby to Drink Milk
Portland, Dec. 14 (AP)—Fifteen-day-old Sheryl Wade of Coos Bay drank her milk yesterday for the first time. To do it she underwent an operation.

A surgeon at Providence hospital said Sheryl was born without a complete gullet. It ended in a pocket a few inches below her mouth.

To repair nature's oversight required delicate surgery. The surgeon—who asked to remain anonymous—believes the child may eventually be able to take nourishment normally.

Similar operations have been performed since 1939. One previous Portland case, in which the child survived, occurred in 1940.

Indians Ballot for New Home Tenancy
Portland, Dec. 14 (AP)—Indians of the Celilo Falls fishing village balloted yesterday on who gets first chance to move into five new government-built homes at the ancient Columbia river fishing grounds.

The balloting followed lengthy and formal debate in English and tribal language among Warm Springs and Umatilla Indians. They couldn't decide openly which families had prior claims, so acting Regional Indian Service Director L. P. Towle suggested the secret ballot.

King George 54 Years Old Today
London, Dec. 14 (AP)—George VI observed his 54th birthday today, fit and hearty.

Artillery at Hyde Park and the Tower of London boomed out 41-gun salutes.

A year ago the king was flat on his back with a dangerous circulation ailment. The empire feared amputation of one of his legs and longtime invalidism for him.

Today he worked at his desk, and had just returned to Buckingham palace after a couple of weeks of grouse and pheasant hunting.

He began picking up after an operation last March to relieve his clogged circulation.

He spent his birthday quietly today. There was no official celebration. That comes in June, his "official" birthday. The country gave him a second birthday so the people could celebrate it with parades and festivities in good weather. The weather in December is usually cold and wet.

Bogie Working Like Mad To Get 'Uncooperative' Tag

Hollywood, Calif., Dec. 14 (AP)—Humphrey Bogart announced today he's cooperating like crazy to get himself named the "least cooperative actor of the year" by the Hollywood Women's Press club.

"I have agents at work for me," the tough guy chuckled. "I think it's about time these ladies honored me for my nasty disposition."

This "uncooperative" gimmick is part of the annual "golden apple" ceremonies staged by the lady scribes around town. Every year they proclaim the "most cooperative" actor and actress and present 'em with solid golden apples or appropriate knick-knacks.

That done, they get down to business with the razberries for the two stars—lady and gent—who gave 'em the most trouble during the year.

The awards and boos will be handed out in a week or two, and rumor has it Bogie's wa-a-y out in front as the male most likely to feel the girls' claws.

"I hope I win," he said. "I've never had an award in this town — unless you count my record for the most suspensions at Warner Brothers. And if my wife (Lauren Bacall) keeps on the way she's going, she'll top me yet."

Bogie said he's going to let his "record speak for itself."

"Hereafter, I'm not available. Besides, if I win, think of the good company I'll be in. Bing Crosby, Ingrid Bergman, Frank Sinatra . . . most of the top stars have been named uncooperative."

He wants to win, Bogart said, because he thinks the annual awards are "silly, stupid, and ridiculous."

"After all," he said, "we're the ones who help these gals earn their living. If everybody did everything they wanted 'em to, the stars'd be outta business."

Many letters addressed to European towns by pre-war names have been returned marked "no such place."

Mrs. Floyd Willert and Mrs. Herman Louis shared the slam prize; Mrs. Willert also held the high score; Miss Madeline Rossner, second high; Mrs. Oscar Dower, third high. Mrs. Lloyd Shawver held low score.
