Missing Boy Found on Street

Berlin, Dec. 14 (AP)—German police headquarters reported Tuesday night they had found the missing three-year-old son of the American deputy commander of Berlin after a hunt which had mobilized most of the American and German motorized police in the city.

The child wandered out of his front yard at about 3 p.m. A general call was sent out by both German civilian police and American military police putting scores of searchers on the scene. It had been feared the boy might have wandered into the vast area of the Grunewald forest near his home.

The German police said they found him about a mile from his home.

When found, the boy was standing on a street corner looking around. He was lost, cold, but not worried.

His parents, Colonel W. T. Babcock, and his wife missed the furor over his disappearance and finding. They were apparently driving home from Frankfurt to Berlin and not reachable. He had been in the care of his nurse.

Denmark's Regal Dragon Bright As New Again

London, Dec. 14 (AP)—Denmark's most regal dragon is once more bright as new.

The dragon decorates the chest of the Dane's King Fredrik, who visited London last week.

The king, who is admiral-in-chief of the Danish navy, recently noticed the dragon's reds, greens and blues were beginning to pale with the passage of the years.

Last week he stopped in at George Burchett's tattoo shop on Waterloo road and had the colors touched up.

Brady Loses Post by 2 Votes

Portland, Dec. 14 (AP)—Phil Brady, president of the AFL-Portland Central Labor Council for 15 years, was defeated for re-election Monday night by two votes in a write-in contest.

Roy F. Renoud, assistant business agent of the Electrical Workers, beat Brady, 84 to 82. Renoud was not on the ballot.

It apparently was part of a revolt against the Teamsters' Union. Brady—a member of the state legislature—is head of the Portland Council of Teamsters. Other Teamsters defeated in Monday night's voting were two candidates for trustee positions: Oscar Abelson and Mark Holmes. Renoud ran against Brady a

WITNESS ON LOW INCOMES:

One in Every 10 Students 'Destined' for Mental Hospital

Washington, Dec. (AP)—A federal security official told congress members Monday that perhaps three children in every average classroom of 30 pupils "are destined to spend part of their lives in a mental hospital."

"It is estimated that 3,000,000 of the 30,000,000 children now in school suffer from serious emotional and behavior problems," said John L. Thurston, acting federal security administrator.

He was the first witness before a subcommittee of the joint congressional economic committee. It is investigating the problems of low income families.

Thurston urged approval of administration programs for compulsory national health insurance, federal aid to education, broadened social security and grants-in-aid to states, and expansion of public health services to ease the plight of low income families.

Chairman Sparkman (D., Ala.) said the subcommittee, opening 10 days of hearings, is seeking information "for the good of the country," and "not for the purpose of building political ammunition for either party."

He and other subcommittee members lashed out at reports—which were not identified specifically—that the hearings had a "political" implication. "No member of the subcommittee has any political motive in these hearings," Sparkman said.

Senators Flanders (R., Vt.), who proposed the investigation, said he had "perfect confidence" that there was "no trace of political purpose as far as the subcommittee is concerned."

Similar expressions came from Reps. Hubert (D., Ohio) and Rich (R., Pa.).
