The First Presbyterian church will present their annual Christmas candlelight musicale twice next Sunday. The services will be at the Presbyterian church at 5 and 7:30 o'clock. The choir is directed by Charles Stowell.

This year the entire program will be sung in a setting of candlelight. The program will contain a bit of old English carol pageantry. There will be music by an instrumental quartet from outside the sanctuary, preceding the service. The four carolers, in costume, will sing a number of the familiar and most popular of the traditional Christmas carols. The carolers will be accompanied by Thomas Facey, violinist.

Mrs. Ralph Dobbs, the organist, has chosen as her organ numbers Christmas Suite by Edmundson and the Christmas Cradle Song by Polster.

The choir will enter the church in a candlelight procession, singing "O Come, O Come Emmanuel."
